Chapter 1 – What part will your country play in World War III?

Victims of the massive Allied bombing campaign in Dresden, Germany, February 1945. German Federal Archives via Wikimedia Commons, Source

The true origins of the two World Wars have been deleted from all our history books and replaced with mythology. Neither War was started (or desired) by Germany, but both at the instigation of a group of European Zionist Jews with the stated intent of the total destruction of Germany. The documentation is overwhelming and the evidence undeniable. (1) (2) (3) (4) (5) (6) (7) (8) (9) (10) (11)

That history is being repeated today in a mass grooming of the Western world's people (especially Americans) in preparation for World War III – which I believe is now imminent. It is evident that War Clouds are gathering. The signs are everywhere, with media coverage and open talk of war in many countries. The RAND Corporation have for years been preparing military scenarios for World War III, and NATO is reported to be currently doing so. Vast movements of NATO troops and equipment are either in preparation or process to surround Russia. The US is surrounding China with military bases including the world's largest in Guam. Both China and Russia are surrounded with nearly 400 US biological weapons labs. Iran is entirely vulnerable from the American military build-up in the Middle East.

Through their control of the mass media, the Jews' Anger Campaign against China (12) (see note 13) is unrelenting, and successful, for at least the past two years filling the pages and airwaves with false atrocity tales against China, barrages of these lies occurring almost daily. These follow the same template used by the same people against Germany to stoke hatred and prepare the populations for World Wars I and II. It is the same – and based on the same kinds of lies – as those used to prepare for the invasions of Iraq, Libya and Syria. These people are utilising every manner of provocation against China, including increasingly outrageous and reckless military challenges in the South China Sea and near Taiwan. The entire world is being taught to hate China, Russia, and Iran. Attempts to convert India to China's enemy are becoming increasingly desperate.

World War III will consist of the combined forces of the US, NATO and Israel (who considers itself a world military power) provoking a conflict aimed at the final destruction of China, Russia, and Iran, the three countries that must be destroyed to satisfy the dream of building Satan's Third Temple in Jerusalem and initiating our New World Order. That is the plan. Your belief in it is not material to its execution.

We cannot count on anything from the Americans because they are too stupid; arrogantly and blindly willing to function as the Bankers' Private Army one more time, having sworn fealty to the same persons who hold ultimate control of both the CIA and Mossad. England served that purpose for a century or more, but was readily sacrificed when the bankers transferred their flag to the US. A World War will leave the US physically and financially in ruins, much as the first two wars destroyed the British Empire and left England bankrupt. These people are ruthless beyond measure; to get what they want, they will fight to the last American. But as Benjamin Netanyahu famously said, "Once we squeeze everything we want from the US, it can dry up and blow away." And it will. But no matter because the Bankers are already transferring their flag to NATO – a supra-national military that reports to no one and that will be our official oppressor in our Brave New World. And we cannot count on the masses of Western people because they are simply pawns in these geo-political contests, few understanding the tragic pit into which they so willingly leap.

The British Royal Family is 100% onside. If you doubt this, ask Queen Elizabeth for a public statement that England will refuse any part in another world war. She will ignore you, as would Boris Johnson and the UK's parliamentary cabal, since they are in the forefront of the plans. Ask Canada's cowardly Prime Minister Justin Trudeau to resolutely state that Canada will refuse to follow the Americans into another world war. He will refuse. We cannot count on Germany; that country today is an American/Jewish colony lacking a will of its own. Much of Eastern Europe, like Australia, has been twisted and turned, stupidly believing they will be held harmless by the power of NATO when in reality they will be among the first sacrificial lambs in this Third War. Italy, France, and Spain will almost certainly be bullied into participation; the remainder of Europe is largely irrelevant. Japan, also being an American/Jewish colony with no will of its own, plus being a major US military-operations base, will have no choice but to sacrifice itself.

There is no way to avoid the conclusion that history is indeed repeating itself, demonising yet another nation, deliberately engendering sufficient hatred and anger to justify another world war. Even confirmed Western ideologues will admit that what I have written here is true. What will be the position of your country's government when the charge for the war cannon is finally ignited? Are you able to explain why you believe a Third World War is a good idea? If you are a European, haven't you seen enough of war? If you are an American, hasn't your government already killed enough innocent people? If you are a Jew, why don't you speak out against this cabal of 300 or 400 before it's too late?

Given the source of the push for a Third World War and the planned destruction of China, one is left to consider what, if anything, can be done to prevent a third worldwide holocaust. Even knowing the sources, it is hardly practical to declare war on at most a few thousand individuals scattered among perhaps ten nations.

I know of only one way to prevent the World War Three that is now imminent: make Israel pay for it. If in the final position of authority of one of the targeted nations, I would call in the Israeli ambassador and inform him that if my nation were forced into a war with the US, I would of course respond. However, my first retaliation would be not against the US but against Israel, that I would apply a necessary portion of my arsenal to ensure that Israel would remain uninhabitable for 500 years and that Satan's Third Temple would never be built. It is my thesis that Israel is too important to these people to be sacrificed, and that faced with such a threat deemed credible, they would back off. With everything I know, I do not believe a third world war can be otherwise prevented.

I will of course be accused of anti-Semitism, but this is not about me; it is about a small handful of Jewish European bankers and industrialists who want a third world war to destroy the old order before the new can be installed. These people must be named and their objectives exposed. In any case, in a judicial debate of offending a few hundred people or starting a third world war, which is the greater crime?

(13) The International Jews have some reason to resent China, which was to be dismembered and turned into a perpetual cash cow, a plan frustrated by Mao and his revolution. It was not "the British" but the International Jewish banking families, the Rothschilds, Sassoons, Kadoories, Hardoons and others that were entirely responsible for China's 150 years-long opium travesty. Immediately after World War Two, one of Mao's first acts was to expel all the Jews from China and confiscate all their opium assets – including all of the city of Shanghai and the Mainland Branches of the HSBC. They haven't forgotten, and they want their money back.

Chapter 2 – The Jewish Betrayal of Germany and the Cause of World War II

Hitler, Adolf, 20.4.1889 – 30.4.1945, German politician (NSDAP), Fuehrer and Reich Chancellor since 1933, half length, his followers giving him an enthusiastic welcome, Nuremberg 1933

The true origins of the two World Wars form a crucial part of our modern history, the truths of which have been deleted from all our history books and replaced with mythology blaming Germany. This article is a minor attempt to set straight part of the record. From the Introduction to the article 'The Anger Campaign Against China' (which should be read as a companion piece to this article):

"It shouldn't be a secret, though it still seems to be, that neither of the two World Wars were started (or desired) by Germany, but were the creation of a group of European Zionist Jews with the stated intent of the total destruction of Germany. (1) (2) (3) (4) (5) (6) (7) The main purpose of this essay is to demonstrate not only that 'history repeats itself' but that the history being repeated today is a mass grooming of the Western world's people (but most especially Americans) in preparation for World War III – which I believe is now imminent."

For one, it involves the treachery of the Zionist Jews in betraying Germany – which had been a rather happy home for the Jews – and scheming to obtain Palestine in trade for that betrayal. For another, few people seem aware that the Jews openly declared a worldwide war on Germany, well before the Second World War, the economic consequences of which were quite severe. The stated intention, by organising a worldwide boycott of all German goods, was to destroy Germany's economy and starve to death one-third of Germany's population – as punishment for refusing to bow to a Jewish ultimatum to fire Hitler (Germany's Chancellor) and to reinstate all Jews to their former government positions. Jews cannot escape the accusation that they themselves were responsible for the resentment within Germany against their own people.

March 1938 Headline: UK Newspaper Boss Writes that Jewish Influence may Drive Britain into War with Germany

Lord Beaverbrook was the most prominent newspaper magnate in the UK, and his Daily Express was at the time the most widely read newspaper in the world. In a private letter written in 1938, Lord Beaverbrook voiced concern over powerful Jewish influences that were determined to push England into a war with Germany. In that letter, Beaverbrook wrote:

"There are 20,000 German Jews in England – in the professions, pursuing research. They all work against an accommodation with Germany." In a subsequent letter he stated further that "The Jews have got a big position in the press here. . . At last I am shaken. The Jews may drive us into war." (8) (9)

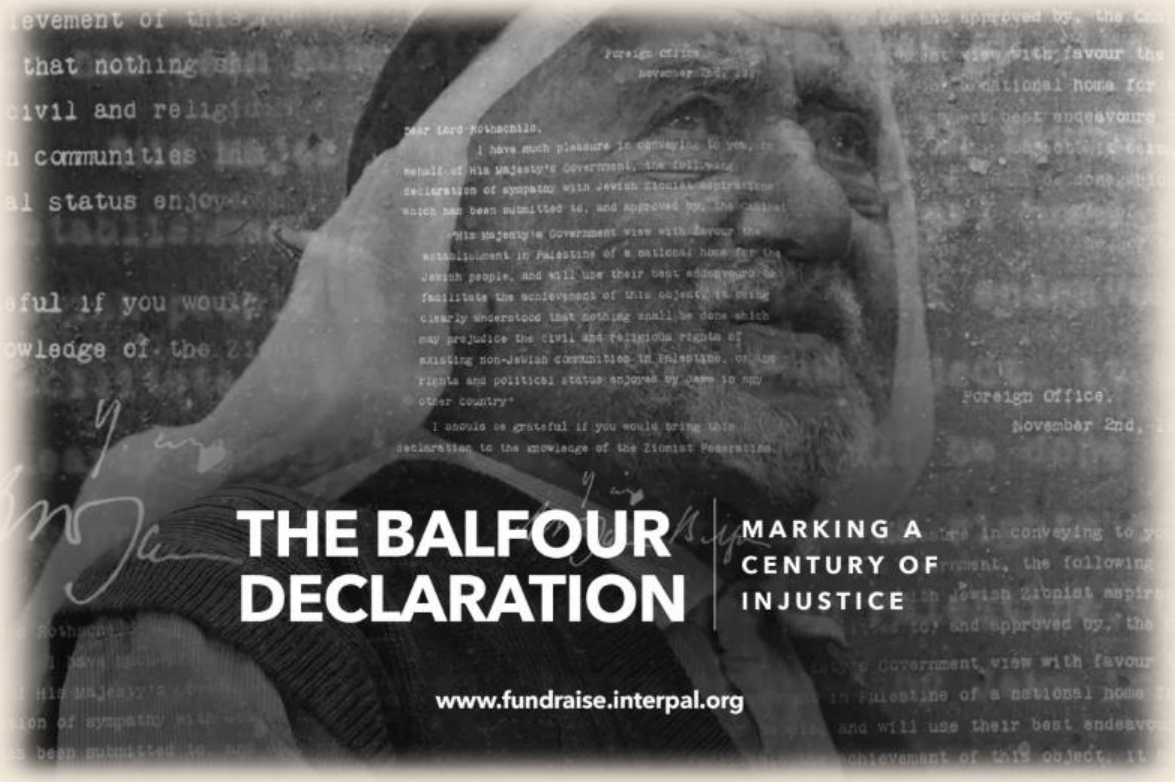
These powerful American Jews financed, and therefore controlled President Woodrow Wilson's political career. They used that influence to pressure Wilson into entering the war against Germany.

We offer here some quotes from a speech made by Benjamin Freedman, a Jew who was high in the US structure and was personally present at all these events. You can read here his Speech that outlines in much detail the events that led to not only the Balfour Declaration but Germany's defeat in the First War. (10) (11)

Briefly, Germany was offering England a negotiated peace on what the lawyers call a status quo ante basis. That means: "Let's call the war off, and let everything be as it was before the war started." England, in the summer of 1916, had no choice. It was either accept this negotiated peace that Germany was magnanimously offering them, or going on with the war and being totally defeated. (12) (13)

While that was going on, the Zionists in Germany, who represented the Zionists from Eastern Europe, went to the British War Cabinet and said: "Look here. You can yet win this war. You don't have to give up. You don't have to accept the negotiated peace offered to you now by Germany. You can win this war if the United States will come in as your ally." In other words, they made this deal: "We will get the United States into this war as your ally. The price you must pay is Palestine after you have won the war and defeated Germany, Austria-Hungary, and Turkey." Now England had as much right to promise Palestine to anybody, as the United States would have to promise Japan to Ireland for any reason whatsoever.

It's absolutely absurd that Great Britain, that never had any connection or any interest or any right in what is known as Palestine should offer it as coin of the realm to pay the Zionists for bringing the United States into the war. However, they did make that promise, in October of 1916. And shortly after that – I don't know how many here remember it – the United States, which was almost totally pro-German, entered the war as Britain's ally.



The Jews at that peace conference, when they were cutting up Germany and parceling out Europe to all these nations who claimed a right to a certain part of European territory, said, "How about Palestine for us?" And they produced, for the first time to the knowledge of the Germans, this Balfour Declaration. So the Germans, for the first time realized why the United States came into the war." The Germans for the first time realized that they had been defeated and suffered the terrific reparations that were slapped onto them, because the Zionists wanted Palestine and were determined to get it at any cost. Mr. Freedman tells us that "Up to that time, the Jews had never been better off in any country in the world than they had been in Germany", but you can imagine that when the Germans realized what had happened, how they had been set up and betrayed, they naturally resented it. This would be one reason Germans might have felt some antipathy for the Jews. The Jews tried to keep a lid on this fact. They didn't want the world to really understand that they had sold out Germany, and that the Germans resented that. The Germans then took discriminatory action against the Jews, and shunned them. The same way that we would shun the Chinese, or the Negroes, or the Catholics, or anyone in this country who had sold us out to an enemy and brought about our defeat.

After a while, the Jews of the world called a meeting in Amsterdam. Jews from every country in the world attended this meeting in July 1933. And they said to Germany: "You fire Hitler, and you put every Jew back into his former position, whether he was a Communist or no matter what he was. You can't treat us that way. And we, the Jews of the world, are serving an ultimatum upon you." You can imagine what the Germans told them. So what did the Jews do?

DRAMATIC ACTION

"Daily Express" Special Political Correspondent.

ALL Israel is uniting in wrath against the Nazi onslaught on the Jews in Germany.

Adolf Hitler, swept into power by an appeal to elemental patriotism, is making history of a kind he least expected. Thinking to unite only the German nation to race consciousness he has roused the whole Jewish people to a national renaissance.

The appearance of the swastika symbol of a new Germany has called forth the Lion of Judah, the old battle symbol of Jewish defiance.

Fourteen million Jews dispersed throughout the world have banded together as one man to declare war on the German persecutors of their co-religionists. Sectional differences and antagonisms have been submerged in one common aim—to stand by the 600,000 Jews of Germany who are terrorised by Hitlerist anti-semitism, and to compel Fascist Germany to end its campaign of violence and suppression directed against its Jewish minority.

World Jewry has made up its mind not to rest quiescent in face of this revival of medieval Jew-baiting.

"Daily Express" Special Correspondent.

DUBLIN, Thursday.

WHILE Mr. Jack O'Sheehan, the official assessor of the Irish sweepstake draw, was dividing the remnants of the latest Irish lottery prize fund between lucky ticket-holders in the Plaza Ballroom to-day I was listening to an Under-Secretary of the Free State Government introducing a Bill which may change the whole future, scope, and purpose of these Irish hospitals lotteries.

NO CLUE

A mysterious message entitled "The Public Hospitals Bill, 1933," appeared on the agenda for this afternoon's meeting of the Dail.

The Bill was set down for formal introduction, and a motion to this effect was moved in a six or seven words speech by Mr. Sean O'Kelly, the Minister of Local Government.

His brief remarks gave no clue to the

MR. MacDONALD EXPLAINS HIS TOUR

"PEACE CAN BE KEPT IN EUROPE"

MR. RAMSAY MACDONALD faced a crowded House of Commons yesterday afternoon when he spoke about his visits to Paris, Geneva, and Rome, and his talks with Signor Mussolini.

The German, French, Italian, Polish, and Belgian Ambassadors were among a crowd of diplomatic representatives in their special gallery, and Mr. Bruce, of Australia, and other representatives of the Dominions also listened.

Mr. MacDonald, who was greeted with cheers, said:—

"I take the earliest available opportunity to inform the House regarding what happened while the Foreign Secretary and myself were at Geneva and Rome.

"We were asked by our colleagues here to go to Geneva, first to attend that meeting of the Council of the League of Nations, which was a grave danger of an acute crisis in the relations of the Disarmament Conference, and we felt strongly that it might be possible to avoid such a calamity, because we were not at all convinced that it was necessary that it should take place.

"Therefore, the Foreign Secretary and I went to Geneva. Our first business was to discover how matters exactly stood, and for that purpose we interviewed for some two or three days the leading delegates from various nations.

"It is perfectly plain that the conference work had somewhat lost heart in despair.

"Before we went we had come to the conclusion that the only way in which we could help was by trying to get the Disarmament Conference to adjourn for a short time, and we were successful in that.

"We went to Rome, first because Signor Mussolini had asked us to do so, and secondly because we thought that we could be of service in the discussions which were taking place there.

"We had a most interesting conversation with Signor Mussolini, and I am sure that the House will be glad to know that we found him in the best of health and spirits.

LATE NEWS

LABOUR LEADER BEREAVED

Broadcasting Programmes on Page Fifteen.

All the world's Jews declare war on Germany, with mass demonstrations, boycotts and more. It may be one of the biggest secrets of World War II that just before the war began, the leadership of the World Jewish Community formally declared war on Germany. This was above and beyond the ongoing 6-year-long economic boycott launched by the worldwide Jewish community when the Nazi party came to power in 1933. As a consequence of this formal declaration of war, Germany thus deemed Jews to be potential enemy agents. (14)

Chaim Weizmann, who was the president of both the International Jewish Agency and the World Zionist Organisation, and later Israel's first President, told British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain (in a letter later published in the London Times on Sept. 6, 1939:

"I wish to confirm, in the most explicit manner, the declarations which I and my colleagues have made during the last month . . . that the Jews stand behind Great Britain . . .Our urgent desire is to give effect to these declarations (against Germany). . . We are going to starve them into surrender. We are going to use a world-wide boycott against them. That will destroy them because they are dependent upon their export business."

And it is a fact that two thirds of Germany's food supply had to be imported, and it could only be imported with the proceeds of what they exported. So if Germany could not export, two thirds of Germany's population would have to starve. This Jewish boycott of Germany and German goods was so effective that soon no German goods could be found in shops anywhere, given that Jews controlled so much of the importing, wholesale and retail, and also advertising businesses. An executive of the Woolworth Company claimed they had to dump millions of dollars worth of crockery and dishes into the river; that their stores were boycotted if anyone came in and found a dish marked "made in Germany," they were picketed with signs saying "Hitler", "murderer," and so forth.

The Jews organised street protests, in one case involving some 40,000 of them parading in New York, urging everyone to boycott all German goods because the Germans were murderers, cutting the hands off babies, and so on. There is no evidence that any of their claims were true, nor any evidence that up to that point that either Germany or Hitler had persecuted the Jews.

Wikipedia puts a typical spin on this astonishing event: "The Anti-Nazi Boycott of 1933 was a boycott of German products by foreign critics of the Nazi Party in response to 'anti-Semitism' in Nazi Germany." But in fact the boycott began long before German Jews experienced any unpleasantness. In fact, it was their boycott and economic war that finally prompted the backlash.

For his part, Hitler placed the blame for Germany's condition upon a Global conspiracy of Marxists and Capitalists. While FDR was implementing all of the Globalists' economic and foreign policy plans, Hitler was openly defying the architects of The New World Order. The Globalists had lost control of Germany, and wanted their revenge because by this time, Germany's unemployment had dropped from 30% to 5% and was rapidly becoming the strongest economy in Europe. According to Hitler, this global conspiracy, directed by Jewish bankers, engineered Germany's loss of The Great War (World War I), the Russian revolution, the Versailles Treaty, and the resulting hyperinflation that devastated Germany. He accused the elite Marxist Jews of Germany of controlling newspapers and banking, fomenting wars, and corrupting the art, culture and morality of Europe. And it wasn't only Hitler making these allegations; the feelings were the same in all countries where the Jews attempted similar revolutions.

After rising to power, Hitler implemented the following policies:

Pulled Germany out of the League of Nations

Banned the Communist Party and arrested its leaders

Replaced the national Marxist Trade Unions with company unions.

Established NSDAP as Germany's only political Party

Refused to make any more reparations payments from the Versailles Treaty/Dawes Plan

Took control of Germany's Reichsbank away from Warburg/Rothschild bankers and issued German debt-free currency

Restricted Jewish ownership of radio and newspapers

Cut taxes and provided tax incentives for mothers to stay at home and raise their children

Rebuilt German infrastructure and initiated projects like the Autobahn Highway system

A Brief Review of Germany

According to Benjamin Freedman, the Jews had been treated quite well in Germany until immediately prior to the Second World War – which was also true of Austria, by the way – and it was primarily the combined actions by the Jews during the preceding two decades that turned the country – and Hitler – so firmly against them.

To review, it was only at the meetings for the Treaty of Versailles when Germany discovered to its great surprise that it had been betrayed by the Jews and was defeated by the US entry to the war, only because the Zionists had made a deal with England to get Palestine. It would be naive to assume this discovery promoted friendship.

Next, in the aftermath of the war and the impossibility of making reparations payments, Germany's economy crashed with devastating results, including the severe hyperinflation. Germany blamed the Jews in part for its economic distress because prior to the war the economy had been an outstanding success – and would have continued so, if not for the war – which was not Germany's fault. Next, at the crisis point of the economy, many rich Jewish bankers and families took advantage of Germany's plight by buying up a great deal of the economy for pennies. That didn't win many friends either, considering that Germans justifiably blamed the Jews' betrayal for their economic plight.

Then, the Jews presented an ultimatum to Germany to replace Hitler as Chancellor and reinstate all Jews to their former positions in government and elsewhere – or else. It isn't difficult to understand that Germany, like any country would not take kindly to such an ultimatum. When Germany refused to cooperate, the International Jewry organised and forced a worldwide boycott of all German goods in an openly declared attempt to destroy Germany's economy. In fact, the Jews worldwide declared economic war on Germany. Once again, that move would not be expected to earn many friends. And lastly, Germany and Hitler were not unaware of the events that had transpired in Russia, Hungary, Austria, in Germany itself, with respect to the Jewish Communist Revolutions and the actions of the Bolsheviks once in power. And certainly Germans generally could be expected to be aware of the attack on Christianity and the church, and of Bela Kun's outrageous attempts to destroy the morals and family values in his attempt to "destroy society".

It has been said that in Hitler's mind, the Second war was not only between countries but was a fight to the death between Communism and Christianity. Whatever else Hitler and the Germans may have been, they were still firm Christians and saw Communism as the destruction of every value that country held dear. And, to repeat, most Communists were Jews. From all this, it isn't difficult to understand that a great deal of resentment must have existed against the Jews by the start of World War II. Pipes (1993, 258) links the Holocaust ultimately to the German perception that the Bolshevik revolution was dominated by Jews and was part of a plan for Jewish world supremacy: "The Jewish Holocaust thus turned out to be one of the many unanticipated and unintended consequences of the Russian Revolution." It's Even Worse than you Might Think – The Lusitania

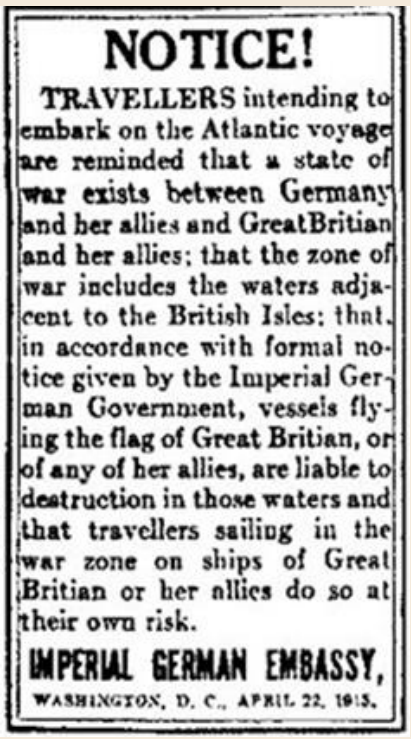
Edward Mandell House, the US President's Jewish "advisor", believed that if the Germans could be baited into sinking a British ship with Americans on board, the US would be drawn into the war. Unknown to its passengers, the luxury liner Lusitania was being used to ship war munitions to England.



NOTICE!

TRAVELLERS intending to embark on the Atlantic voyage are reminded that a state of war exists between Germany and her allies and GreatBritian and her allies; that the zone of war includes the waters adjacent to the British Isles; that, in accordance with formal notice given by the Imperial German Government, vessels flying the flag of Great Britian, or of any of her allies, are liable to destruction in those waters and that travellers sailing in the war zone on ships of Great Britian or her allies do so at their own risk.

IMPERIAL GERMAN EMBASSY,

WASHINGTON, D. C., APRIL 22, 1915.

Prior to departure from New York City, the Lusitania was loaded with 600 tons of explosives, 6 million pounds of ammunition, 1,200 cases of shrapnel shells, and about 2,000 passengers. The German Embassy in Washington was made aware of the Lusitania's military cargo and made significant efforts to warn American travelers, embassy officials attempting to place ads in all major US newspapers, ads which were refused by the Jewish-owned media. (22) (23)

As the Lusitania approached the Irish coast, it was ordered to reduce speed, cease its zigzag defensive course and steam straight ahead – and its military escort vessel, Juno, was ordered to withdraw. (24) Churchill knew German U-Boats were in the vicinity, but purposely slowed the Lusitania and called off the Juno, leaving the Lusitania and many of his own countrymen, as sitting ducks. A German torpedo ignited the munitions, causing a secondary explosion which sank the massive liner in about 15 minutes. About 1200 of its nearly 2,000 passengers were killed. The Jewish media of course took advantage of this to vilify Germany, but made no mention of the illegal munitions which actually sank the Lusitania and Germany's efforts to warn civilians of the danger were totally suppressed.

This wasn't quite the end of the story. After the war, the British and their Jewish collaborators lived in fear the wreckage of the Lusitania might one day be located and the real truth discovered, so the UK military launched a secret expedition to find the remains of the Lusitania and destroy it beyond recognition to prevent the truth from escaping containment. They did locate the wreckage and dropped hundreds of tons of explosives but failed in their attempt. In 2015, Jim Jarrat, a member of the Tritonia Corporation of Glasgow, discovered the location of the Lusitania and during the next several years explored the remains and brought up many items from the wreckage. One of his discoveries was a large number of unexploded munitions surrounding the wreckage, full evidence of the attempted destruction years earlier. Further, his team found lockers labeled "butter" or "cheese" that were still full of munitions being transported by the Lusitania. (25) (26) (27)

In summary, the truth of the matter is that the US government deliberately loaded a passenger liner with thousands of tons of munitions and explosives meant for use against Germany, while taking pains to ensure the Germans were aware of this military cargo, and thus making the Lusitania a legal military target. The German government made great efforts to warn Americans to not sail on this ship, but the Jewish-owned media refused to publish the warnings. The US then boarded the vessel with around 2,000 unwitting passengers and sent them deliberately to their death. To ensure this outcome, the captain of the Lusitania was ordered to reduce speed and travel in a straight line very near the coast where German U-boats would be waiting, and further ordered the Lusitania's military escort to withdraw, leaving the ship openly vulnerable to attack and helpless. The sinking of the Lusitania was then used as the pretext for entry into the war.

This was neither the first nor the last time the US government willingly sacrificed the lives of its own citizens and military personnel to obtain justification for a declaration of war that had no justification. The US military destroyed the USS Maine in Havana Harbor, killing hundreds of its own men, as an excuse to blame the Cubans and declare war on Spain. For many decades the official explanation was that the source of the explosion was "unknown", but eventually the truth emerged. The Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor was essentially the same. The US had complete intelligence on the Japanese fleet and knew precisely its location and the expected time of attack, but refused to warn its base in Pearl Harbor and sacrificed thousands of American lives for the sake of having an excuse to enter World War II on behalf of the Jewish Zionists in Europe. And once again, for many decades the truth was suppressed, but finally today there is undeniable confirmed evidence the US sacrificed thousands of its own citizens as an excuse to declare another war.

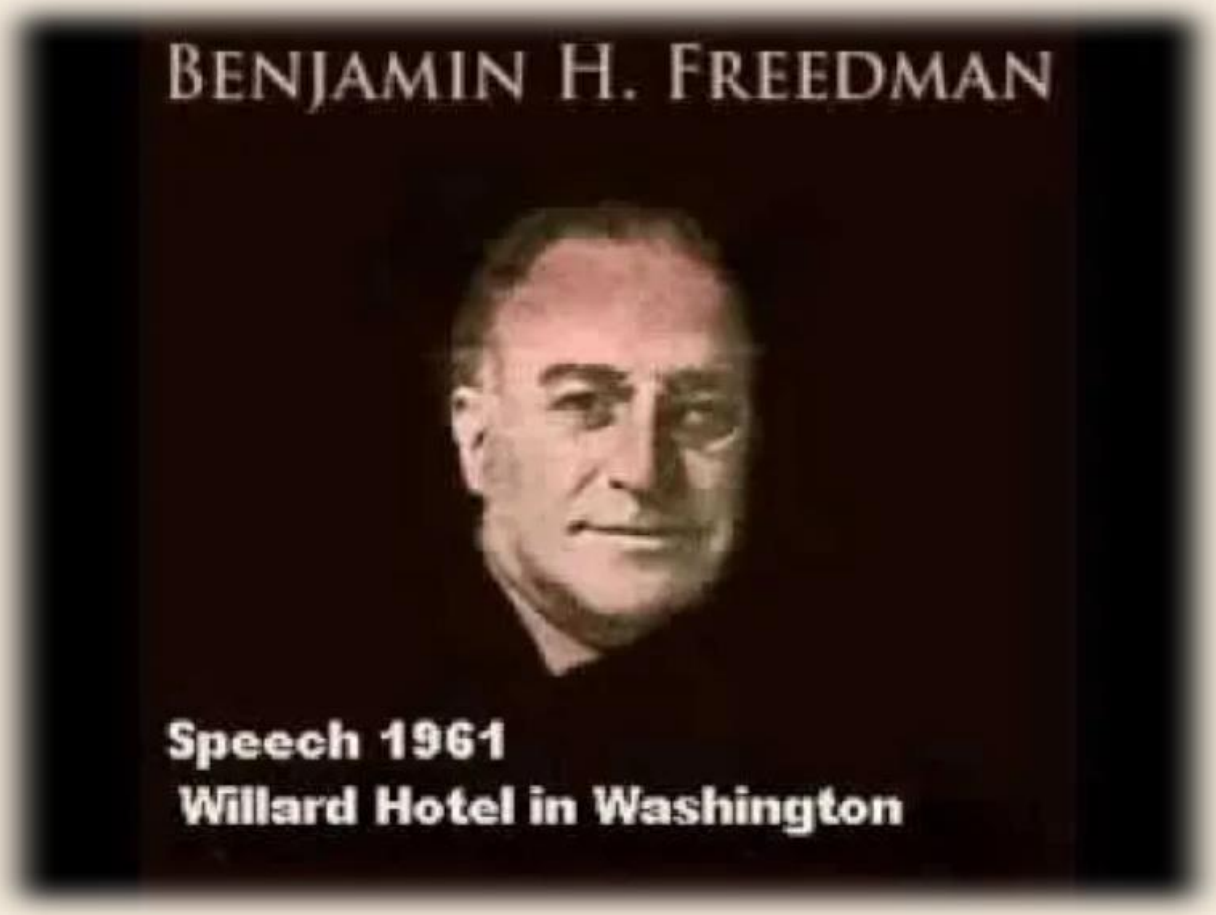
Chapter 3– Jewish Responsibility for Both World Wars: A Speech by Benjamin Freedman

(Introduction by Larry Romanoff)



Introduction

Benjamin Harrison Freedman was born in 1890, and became a successful New York City businessman, at one time being the principal owner of the Woodbury Soap Company. Mr. Freedman is Jewish. However, Mr. Freedman is not only a Jew, but was a highly-placed official in the US government and was present during many of the historical events he describes. He was liaison to Henry Morgenthau, Sr., in the 1912 campaign when President Wilson was elected. Mr. Freedman was very much an insider at the highest levels of Jewish machinations, and his descriptions of events do have a ring of truth to them.

Source

Freedman became active in politics at an early age and was well acquainted with many important people, such as Bernard Baruch, Samuel Untermeyer, Woodrow Wilson, Franklin Roosevelt, Joseph Kennedy and his son John F. Kennedy. He knew well all US presidents from Woodrow Wilson on up to President Richard Nixon, and for his articles he personally interviewed seven US presidents at length.

Freedman broke with organised Jewry at the end of World War II, 1945. At least 2.5 million dollars was spent by Mr. Friedman to educate people about what he himself called "The Talmudic Tyranny", the stronghold of which, according to him, was – and is – the United States of America.

I have not done exhaustive research on all the items covered in this historical speech, but from what I have done, it appears all of Mr. Freedman's claims are independently verifiable. It would seem the entire world needs to readjust its perception of Israel and the Jews, including not only the parts they played in two World Wars but also the pervasiveness of the Jewish lobby today.

This is the text of a speech made by Benjamin H. Freedman in the Willard Hotel in 1961 on behalf of Conde Mcginley's newspaper, Common Sense. There is another slightly more complete version of Freedman's speech that includes questions and answers, as well as the actual audio of the speech. It can be accessed here:

Mr. Freedman's Speech

Here in the United States, the Zionists and their co-religionists have complete control of our government. For many reasons, too many and too complex to go into here at this time, the Zionists and their co-religionists rule these United States as though they were the absolute monarchs of this country. Now you may say that is a very broad statement, but let me show you what happened while we were all asleep.

What happened? World War I broke out in the summer of 1914. There are few people here my age who remember that. Now that war was waged on one side by Great Britain, France, and Russia; and on the other side by Germany, Austria-Hungary, and Turkey.

Within two years Germany had won that war: not only won it nominally, but won it actually. The German submarines, which were a surprise to the world, had swept all the convoys from the Atlantic Ocean. Great Britain stood there without ammunition for her soldiers, with one week's food supply – and after that, starvation. At that time, the French army had mutinied. They had lost 600,000 of the flower of French youth in the defense of Verdun on the Somme. The Russian army was defecting, they were picking up their toys and going home, they didn't want to play war anymore, they didn't like the Czar. And the Italian army had collapsed.

Not a shot had been fired on German soil. Not one enemy soldier had crossed the border into Germany. And yet, Germany was offering England peace terms. They offered England a negotiated peace on what the lawyers call a status quo ante basis. That means: "Let's call the war off, and let everything be as it was before the war started." England, in the summer of 1916 was considering that – seriously. They had no choice. It was either accepting this negotiated peace that Germany was magnanimously offering them, or going on with the war and being totally defeated.

While that was going on, the Zionists in Germany, who represented the Zionists from Eastern Europe, went to the British War Cabinet and – I am going to be brief because it's a long story, but I have all the documents to prove any statement that I make – they said: "Look here. You can yet win this war. You don't have to give up. You don't have to accept the negotiated peace offered to you now by Germany. You can win this war if the United States will come in as your ally."

The United States was not in the war at that time. We were fresh; we were young; we were rich; we were powerful. They told England: "We will guarantee to bring the United States into the war as your ally, to fight with you on your side, if you will promise us Palestine after you win the war." In other words, they made this deal: "We will get the United States into this war as your ally. The price you must pay is Palestine after you have won the war and defeated Germany, Austria-Hungary, and Turkey." Now England had as much right to promise Palestine to anybody, as the United States would have to promise Japan to Ireland for any reason whatsoever.

It's absolutely absurd that Great Britain, that never had any connection or any interest or any right in what is known as Palestine should offer it as coin of the realm to pay the Zionists for bringing the United States into the war. However, they did make that promise, in October of 1916. And shortly after that – I don't know how many here remember it – the United States, which was almost totally pro-German, entered the war as Britain's ally.

I say that the United States was almost totally pro-German because the newspapers here were controlled by Jews, the bankers were Jews, all the media of mass communications in this country were controlled by Jews; and they, the Jews, were pro-German. They were pro-German because many of them had come from Germany, and also they wanted to see Germany lick the Czar. The Jews didn't like the Czar, and they didn't want Russia to win this war.

These German-Jew bankers, like Kuhn Loeb and the other big banking firms in the United States refused to finance France or England to the extent of one dollar. They stood aside and they said: "As long as France and England are tied up with Russia, not one cent!" But they poured money into Germany, they fought beside Germany against Russia, trying to lick the Czarist regime.

Now those same Jews, when they saw the possibility of getting Palestine, went to England and they made this deal. At that time, everything changed, like a traffic light that changes from red to green. Where the newspapers had been all pro-German, where they'd been telling the people of the difficulties that Germany was having fighting Great Britain commercially and in other respects, all of a sudden the Germans were no good. They were villains. They were Huns. They were shooting Red Cross nurses. They were cutting off babies' hands. They were no good. Shortly after that, Mr. Wilson declared war on Germany.

The Zionists in London had sent cables to the United States, to Justice Brandeis, saying "Go to work on President Wilson. We're getting from England what we want. Now you go to work on President Wilson and get the United States into the war." That's how the United States got into the war. We had no more interest in it; we had no more right to be in it than we have to be on the moon tonight instead of in this room.

There was absolutely no reason for World War I to be our war. We were railroaded into – if I can be vulgar, we were suckered into – that war merely so that the Zionists of the world could obtain Palestine. That is something that the people of the United States have never been told. They never knew why we went into World War I.

After we got into the war, the Zionists went to Great Britain and they said: "Well, we performed our part of the agreement. Let's have something in writing that shows that you are going to keep your bargain and give us Palestine after you win the war." They didn't know whether the war would last another year or another ten years. So they started to work out a receipt. The receipt took the form of a letter, which was worded in very cryptic language so that the world at large wouldn't know what it was all about. And that was called the Balfour Declaration.

The Balfour Declaration was merely Great Britain's promise to pay the Zionists what they had agreed upon as a consideration for getting the United States into the war. So this great Balfour Declaration, that you hear so much about, is just as phony as a three dollar bill. I don't think I could make it more emphatic than that.

Bernard Baruch. Source

That is where all the trouble started. The United States got in the war. The United States crushed Germany. You know what happened. When the war ended, and the Germans went to Paris for the Paris Peace Conference in 1919 there were 117 Jews there, as a delegation representing the Jews, headed by Bernard Baruch. I was there: I ought to know. Now what happened? The Jews at that peace conference, when they were cutting up Germany and parceling out Europe to all these nations who claimed a right to a certain part of European territory, said, "How about Palestine for us?" And they produced, for the first time to the knowledge of the Germans, this Balfour Declaration.

"Baruch wants to rule the world, the moon, and perhaps Jupiter, but we'll see about that," Truman said about Baruch, describing his insatiable interest in global politics and economics. Source

So the Germans, for the first time realized, "Oh, so that was the game! That's why the United States came into the war." The Germans for the first time realized that they were defeated, they suffered the terrific reparations that were slapped onto them, because the Zionists wanted Palestine and were determined to get it at any cost.

That brings us to another very interesting point. When the Germans realized this, they naturally resented it. Up to that time, the Jews had never been better off in any country in the world than they had been in Germany. You had Mr. Rathenau there, who was maybe 100 times as important in industry and finance as is Bernard Baruch in this country. You had Mr. Balin, who owned the two big steamship lines, the North German Lloyd's and the Hamburg-American Lines. You had Mr. Bleichroder, who was the banker for the Hohenzollern family. You had the Warburgs in Hamburg, who were the big merchant bankers — the biggest in the world. The Jews were doing very well in Germany. No question about that. The Germans felt: "Well, that was quite a sellout."

It was a sellout that might be compared to this hypothetical situation: Suppose the United States was at war with the Soviet Union. And we were winning. And we told the Soviet Union: "Well, let's quit. We offer you peace terms. Let's forget the whole thing." And all of a sudden Red China came into the war as an ally of the Soviet Union. And throwing them into the war brought about our defeat. A crushing defeat, with reparations the likes of which man's imagination cannot encompass.

Imagine, then, after that defeat, if we found out that it was the Chinese in this country, our Chinese citizens, who all the time we had thought were loyal citizens working with us, were selling us out to the Soviet Union and that it was through them that Red China was brought into the war against us. How would we feel, then, in the United States against Chinese? I don't think that one of them would dare show his face on any street. There wouldn't be enough convenient lampposts to take care of them. Imagine how we would feel.

Well, that's how the Germans felt towards these Jews. They'd been so nice to them: from 1905 on, when the first Communist revolution in Russia failed, and the Jews had to scramble out of Russia, they all went to Germany. And Germany gave them refuge. And they were treated very nicely. And here they had sold Germany down the river for no reason at all other than the fact that they wanted Palestine as a so-called "Jewish commonwealth."

Now Nahum Sokolow, and all the great leaders and great names that you read about in connection with Zionism today, in 1919, 1920, 1921, 1922, and 1923 wrote in all their papers – and the press was filled with their statements – that the feeling against the Jews in Germany is due to the fact that they realized that this great defeat was brought about by Jewish intercession in bringing the United States into the war.

The Jews themselves admitted that. It wasn't that the Germans in 1919 discovered that a glass of Jewish blood tasted better than Coca-Cola or Muenschner Beer. There was no religious feeling. There was no sentiment against those people merely on account of their religious belief. It was all political. It was economic. It was anything but religious. Nobody cared in Germany whether a Jew went home and pulled down the shades and said "Shema' Yisroel" or "Our Father." Nobody cared in Germany any more than they do in the United States. Now this feeling that developed later in Germany was due to one thing: the Germans held the Jews responsible for their crushing defeat.

And World War I had been started against Germany for no reason for which Germany was responsible. They were guilty of nothing. Only of being successful. They built up a big navy. They built up world trade. You must remember that Germany at the time of the French Revolution consisted of 300 small city-states, principalities, dukedoms, and so forth. Three hundred separate little political entities.

And between that time, between the times of Napoleon and Bismarck, they were consolidated into one state. And within 50 years they became one of the world's great powers. Their navy was rivaling Great Britain's, they were doing business all over the world, they could undersell anybody, they could make better products. What happened as a result of that?

The Treaty of Versailles
Signed 28 June 1919
Germany had to accept blame for starting the war.
Pay $31.4 billion in reparations.
Make substantial territorial concessions, with the loss of:
Alsace Lorraine (France)
Eupen & Malmedy (Belgium)
North Schleswig (Denmark)
Hulschin (Czechoslovakia)
West Prussia, Posen & Upper Silesia (Poland)
Saar, Danzig & Memel (League of Nations)
All gains from the Treaty of Brest Litovsk (Russia)
All colonies (League of Nations)
Cut its army to 100,000 men.
Only 6 battleships - no submarines or airforce.
De-militarise the Rhineland.

There was a conspiracy between England, France, and Russia to slap down Germany. There isn't one historian in the world who can find a valid reason why those three countries decided to wipe Germany off the map politically.

When Germany realized that the Jews were responsible for her defeat, they naturally resented it. But not a hair on the head of any Jew was harmed. Not a single hair. Professor Tansill, of Georgetown University, who had access to all the secret papers of the State Department, wrote in his book, and quoted from a State Department document written by Hugo Schoenfelt, a Jew whom Cordell Hull sent to Europe in 1933 to investigate the so-called camps of political prisoners, who wrote back that he found them in very fine condition.

They were in excellent shape, with everybody treated well. And they were filled with Communists. Well, a lot of them were Jews, because the Jews happened to comprise about 98 per cent of the Communists in Europe at that time. And there were some priests there, and ministers, and labor leaders, and Masons, and others who had international affiliations.

Some background is in order: In 1918-1919 the Communists took over Bavaria for a few days. Rosa Luxemburg and Karl Liebknecht and a group of other Jews took over the government for three days. In fact, when the Kaiser ended the war he fled to Holland because he thought the Communists were going to take over Germany as they did Russia and that he was going to meet the same fate as the Czar.

So he fled to Holland for safety, for security. After the Communist threat in Germany was quashed, the Jews were still working, trying to get back into their former status, and the Germans fought them in every way they could without hurting a single hair on anyone's head.

They fought them the same way that, in this country, the Prohibitionists fought anyone who was interested in liquor. They didn't fight one another with pistols. Well, that's the way they were fighting the Jews in Germany. And at that time, mind you, there were 80 to 90 million Germans, and there were only 460,000 Jews.

About one half of one per cent of the population of Germany were Jews. And yet they controlled all the press, and they controlled most of the economy because they had come in with cheap money when the mark was devalued and bought up practically everything. The Jews tried to keep a lid on this fact.

The Germans took appropriate action against the Jews. They, shall I say, discriminated against them wherever they could. They shunned them. The same way that we would shun the Chinese, or the Negroes, or the Catholics, or anyone in this country who had sold us out to an enemy and brought about our defeat.

After a while, the Jews of the world called a meeting in Amsterdam. Jews from every country in the world attended this meeting in July 1933. And they said to Germany: "You fire Hitler, and you put every Jew back into his former position, whether he was a Communist or no matter what he was. You can't treat us that way. And we, the Jews of the world, are serving an ultimatum upon you." You can imagine what the Germans told them. So what did the Jews do?

Samuel Untermeyer

In 1933, when Germany refused to surrender to the world conference of Jews in Amsterdam, the conference broke up, and Mr. Samuel Untermyer, who was the head of the American delegation and the president of the whole conference, came to the United States and went from the steamer to the studios of the Columbia Broadcasting System and made a radio broadcast throughout the United States in which he in effect said, "The Jews of the world now declare a Holy War against Germany. We are now engaged in a sacred conflict against the Germans. And we are going to starve them into surrender. We are going to use a world-wide boycott against them. That will destroy them because they are dependent upon their export business."

And it is a fact that two thirds of Germany's food supply had to be imported, and it could only be imported with the proceeds of what they exported. So if Germany could not export, two thirds of Germany's population would have to starve. There was just not enough food for more than one third of the population.

Samuel Untermyer

Now in this declaration, which I have here, and which was printed in the New York Times on August 7, 1933, Mr. Samuel Untermyer boldly stated that "this economic boycott is our means of self-defense. President Roosevelt has advocated its use in the National Recovery Administration," which some of you may remember, where everybody was to be boycotted unless he followed the rules laid down by the New Deal, and which was declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of that time.

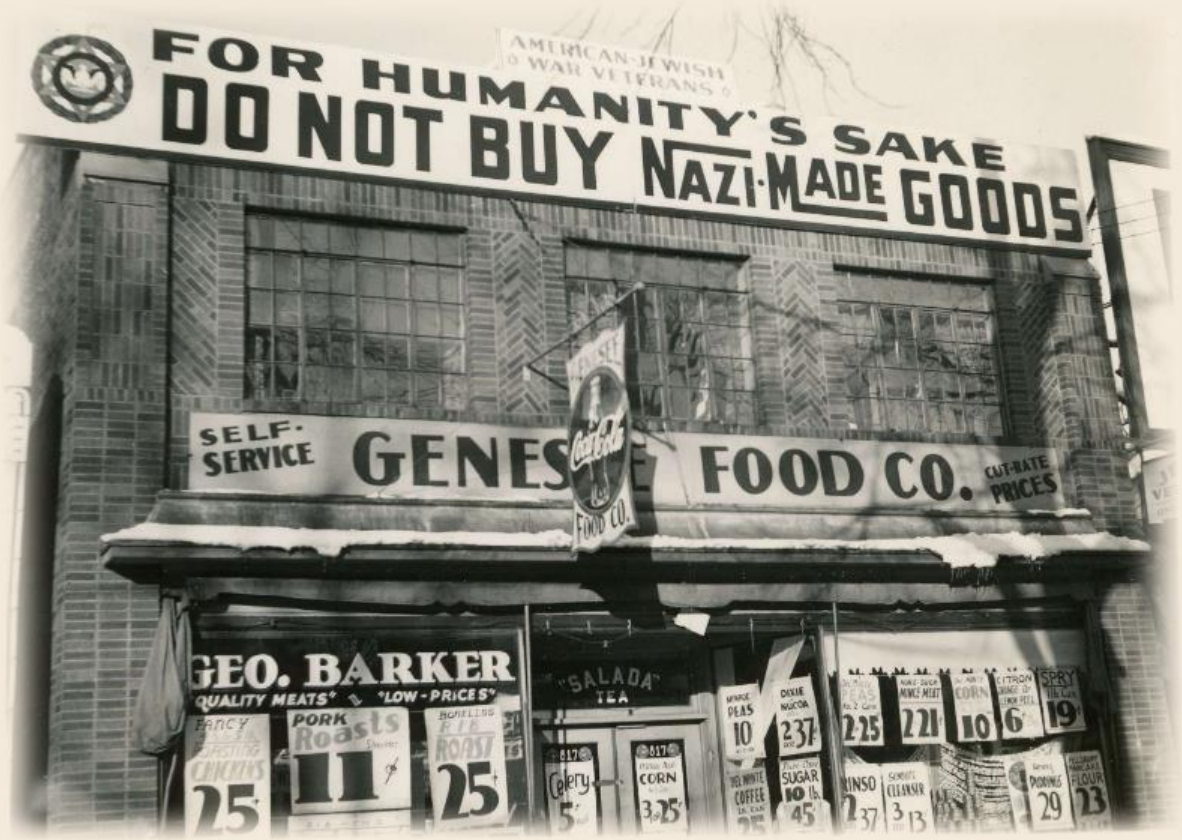
Nevertheless, the Jews of the world declared a boycott against Germany, and it was so effective that you couldn't find one thing in any store anywhere in the world with the words "made in Germany" on it. In fact, an executive of the Woolworth Company told me that they had to dump millions of dollars worth of crockery and dishes into the river; that their stores were boycotted if anyone came in and found a dish marked "made in Germany," they were picketed with signs saying "Hitler," "murderer," and so forth, something like these sit-ins that are taking place in the South.



At a store belonging to the R. H. Macy chain, which was controlled by a family called Strauss who also happen to be Jews, a woman found stockings there which came from Chemnitz, marked "made in Germany." Well, they were cotton stockings and they may have been there 20 years, since I've been observing women's legs for many years and it's been a long time since I've seen any cotton stockings on them. I saw Macy's boycotted, with hundreds of people walking around with signs saying "murderers," "Hitlerites," and so forth. Now up to that time, not one hair on the head of any Jew had been hurt in Germany. There was no suffering, there was no starvation, there was no murder, there was nothing.

Naturally, the Germans said, "Who are these people to declare a boycott against us and throw all our people out of work, and make our industries come to a standstill? Who are they to do that to us?" They naturally resented it. Certainly they painted swastikas on stores owned by Jews. Why should a German go in and give his money to a storekeeper who was part of a boycott that was going to starve Germany into surrendering to the Jews of the world, who were going to dictate who their premier or chancellor was to be? Well, it was ridiculous.

Herschel Grynszpan

Paris, 7. November 1938: In the morning, a young man enters the German Embassy in Paris. It is the 17-year-old Jew, Herschel Grynszpan. He explains that he had to deliver to the Ambassador an important document in person. The employees will lead him to the Embassy Secretary Ernst vom Rath. Grynszpan's shooting the diplomat and hurt him with five shots life-threatening. Source*

The boycott continued for some time, but it wasn't until 1938, when a young Jew from Poland walked into the German embassy in Paris and shot a German official, that the Germans really started to get rough with the Jews in Germany. And you found them then breaking windows and having street fights and so forth.

Now I don't like to use the word "anti-Semitism" because it's meaningless, but it means something to you still, so I'll have to use it. The only reason that there was any feeling in Germany against Jews was that they were responsible for World War I and for this world-wide boycott.

Ultimately they were also responsible for World War II, because after this thing got out of hand, it was absolutely necessary for the Jews and Germany to lock horns in a war to see which one was going to survive. In the meanwhile, I had lived in Germany, and I knew that the Germans had decided that Europe is going to be Christian or Communist: there is no in between. And the Germans decided they were going to keep it Christian if possible. And they started to re-arm. In November 1933 the United States recognized the Soviet Union. The Soviet Union was becoming very powerful, and Germany realized that "Our turn was going to come soon, unless we are strong." The same as we in this country are saying today, "Our turn is going to come soon, unless we are strong."

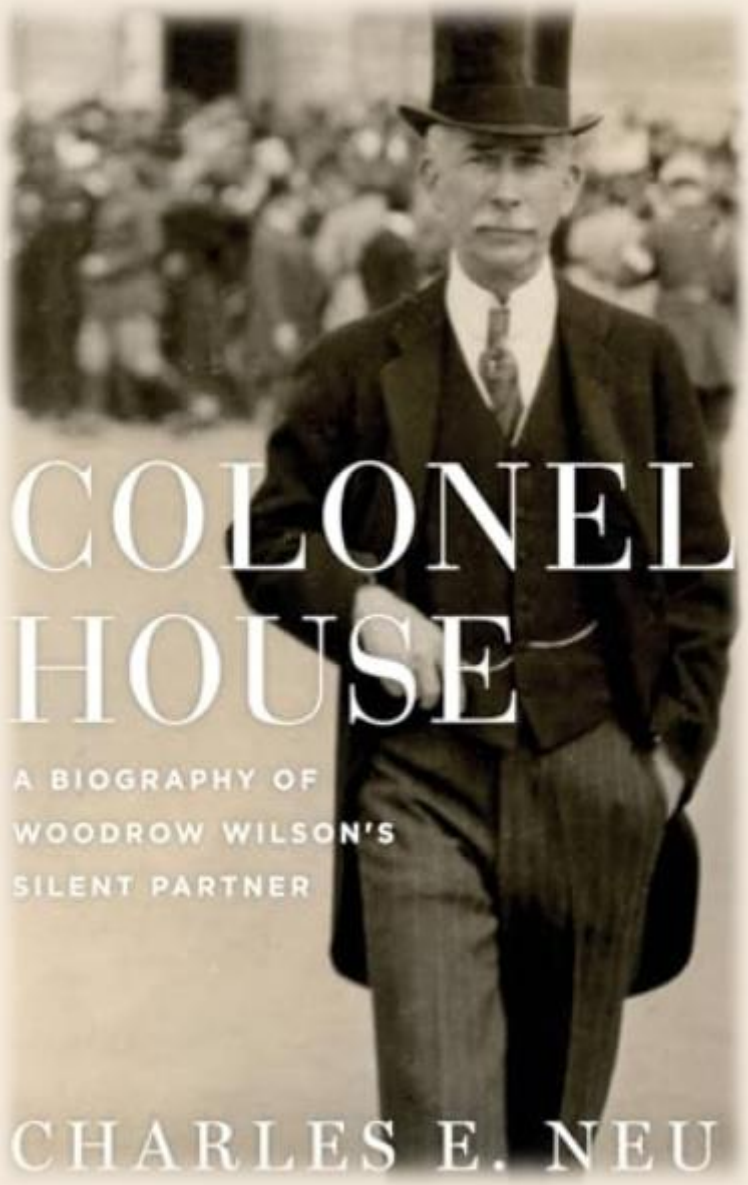
Our government is spending 83 or 84 billion dollars for defense. Defense against whom? Defense against 40,000 little Jews in Moscow that took over Russia, and then, in their devious ways, took over control of many other countries of the world.

For this country now to be on the verge of a Third World War, from which we cannot emerge a victor, is something that staggers my imagination. I know that nuclear bombs are measured in terms of megatons. A megaton is a term used to describe one million tons of TNT. Our nuclear bombs had a capacity of 10 megatons, or 10 million tons of TNT, when they were first developed. Now, the nuclear bombs that are being developed have a capacity of 200 megatons, and God knows how many megatons the nuclear bombs of the Soviet Union have.

What do we face now? If we trigger a world war that may develop into a nuclear war, humanity is finished. Why might such a war take place? It will take place as the curtain goes up on Act 3:

Act 1 was World War I, Act 2 was World War II, Act 3 is going to be World War III.

The Jews of the world, the Zionists and their co-religionists everywhere, are determined that they are going to again use the United States to help them permanently retain Palestine as their foothold for their world government. That is just as true as I am standing here. Not alone have I read it, but many here have also read it, and it is known all over the world.



What are we going to do? The life you save may be your son's. Your boys may be on their way to that war tonight; and you don't know it any more than you knew that in 1916 in London the Zionists made a deal with the British War Cabinet to send your sons to war in Europe. Did you know it at that time? Not a person in the United States knew it. You weren't permitted to know it. Who knew it? President Wilson knew it. Colonel House knew it. Other insiders knew it.

Did I know it? I had a pretty good idea of what was going on: I was liaison to Henry Morgenthau, Sr., in the 1912 campaign when President Wilson was elected, and there was talk around the office there. I was "confidential man" to Henry Morgenthau, Sr., who was chairman of the finance committee, and I was liaison between him and Rollo Wells, the treasurer.

So I sat in these meetings with President Wilson at the head of the table, and all the others, and I heard them drum into President Wilson's brain the graduated income tax and what has become the Federal Reserve, and I heard them indoctrinate him with the Zionist movement.

Justice Brandeis and President Wilson were just as close as the two fingers on this hand. President Woodrow Wilson was just as incompetent when it came to determining what was going on as a newborn baby. That is how they got us into World War I, while we all slept. They sent our boys over there to be slaughtered. For what? So the Jews can have Palestine as their "commonwealth." They've fooled you so much that you don't know whether you're coming or going.

Now any judge, when he charges a jury, says, "Gentlemen, any witness who you find has told a single lie, you can disregard all his testimony." I don't know what state you come from, but in New York state that is the way a judge addresses a jury. If that witness told one lie, disregard his testimony.

What are the facts about the Jews? (I call them Jews to you, because they are known as Jews. I don't call them Jews myself. I refer to them as so-called Jews, because I know what they are.)

The eastern European Jews, who form 92 per cent of the world's population of those people who call themselves Jews, were originally Khazars. They were a warlike tribe who lived deep in the heart of Asia. And they were so warlike that even the Asiatics drove them out of Asia into eastern Europe. They set up a large Khazar kingdom of 800,000 square miles.

At the time, Russia did not exist, nor did many other European countries. The Khazar kingdom was the biggest country in all Europe – so big and so powerful that when the other monarchs wanted to go to war, the Khazars would lend them 40,000 soldiers. That's how big and powerful they were.

They were phallic worshippers, which is filthy and I do not want to go into the details of that now. But that was their religion, as it was also the religion of many other pagans and barbarians elsewhere in the world. The Khazar king became so disgusted with the degeneracy of his kingdom that he decided to adopt a so-called monotheistic faith – either Christianity, Islam, or what is known today as Judaism, which is really Talmudism. By spinning a top, and calling out "eeny, meeny, miney, moe," he picked out so-called .

And that became the state religion. He sent down to the Talmudic schools of Pumbedita and Sura and brought up thousands of rabbis, and opened up synagogues and schools, and his people became what we call Jews. There wasn't one of them who had an ancestor who ever put a toe in the Holy Land. Not only in Old Testament history, but back to the beginning of time. Not one of them! And yet they come to the Christians and ask us to support their armed insurrections in Palestine by saying, "You want to help repatriate God's Chosen People to their Promised Land, their ancestral home, don't you? It's your Christian duty. We gave you one of our boys as your Lord and Savior. You now go to church on Sunday, and you kneel and you worship a Jew, and we're Jews."

But they are pagan Khazars who were converted just the same as the Irish were converted. It is as ridiculous to call them "people of the Holy Land," as it would be to call the 54 million Chinese Moslems "Arabs." Mohammed only died in 620 A.D., and since then 54 million Chinese have accepted Islam as their religious belief. Now imagine, in China, 2,000 miles away from Arabia, from Mecca and Mohammed's birthplace.

Imagine if the 54 million Chinese decided to call themselves "Arabs." You would say they were lunatics. Anyone who believes that those 54 million Chinese are Arabs must be crazy. All they did was adopt as a religious faith a belief that had its origin in Mecca, in Arabia. The same as the Irish. When the Irish became Christians, nobody dumped them in the ocean and imported to the Holy Land a new crop of inhabitants. They hadn't become a different people. They were the same people, but they had accepted Christianity as a religious faith.

These Khazars, these pagans, these Asiatics, these Turko-Finns, were a Mongoloid race who were forced out of Asia into Eastern Europe. Because their king took the Talmudic faith, they had no choice in the matter. Just the same as in Spain: If the king was Catholic, everybody had to be a Catholic. If not, you had to get out of Spain.

So the Khazars became what we call today Jews. Now imagine how silly it was for the great Christian countries of the world to say, "We're going to use our power and prestige to repatriate God's Chosen People to their ancestral homeland, their Promised Land." Could there be a bigger lie than that?

Because they control the newspapers, the magazines, the radio, the television, the book publishing business, and because they have the ministers in the pulpit and the politicians on the soapboxes talking the same language, it is not too surprising that you believe that lie. You'd believe black is white if you heard it often enough. You wouldn't call black black anymore — you'd start to call black white. And nobody could blame you.

That is one of the great lies of history. It is the foundation of all the misery that has befallen the world.

Kol Nidre: The Jewish prayer

Jews Praying in the Synagogue on Yom Kippur. Source

"All personal vows we are likely to make, all personal oaths and pledges we are likely to take between this Yom Kippur and the next Yom Kippur, we publicly renounce. Let them all be relinquished and abandoned, null and void, neither firm nor established. Let our personal vows, pledges and oaths be considered neither vows nor pledges nor oaths."

Do you know what Jews do on the Day of Atonement, that you think is so sacred to them? I was one of them. This is not hearsay. I'm not here to be a rabble-rouser. I'm here to give you facts. When, on the Day of Atonement, you walk into a synagogue, you stand up for the very first prayer that you recite. It is the only prayer for which you stand.

You repeat three times a short prayer called the Kol Nidre. In that prayer, you enter into an agreement with God Almighty that any oath, vow, or pledge that you may make during the next twelve months shall be null and void. The oath shall not be an oath; the vow shall not be a vow; the pledge shall not be a pledge. They shall have no force or effect.

And further, the Talmud teaches that whenever you take an oath, vow, or pledge, you are to remember the Kol Nidre prayer that you recited on the Day of Atonement, and you are exempted from fulfilling them. How much can you depend on their loyalty? You can depend upon their loyalty as much as the Germans depended upon it in 1916.

We are going to suffer the same fate as Germany suffered, and for the same reason.

Chap 4 – The Jewish Declaration of War on Germany - The Economic Boycott of 1933

Note to Readers: Some of the content of this essay was extracted from an article in The Barnes Review, Jan./Feb. 2001, pp. 41-45, by M. Raphael Johnson, Ph.D., assistant editor of TBR. It was published with permission in a digitized version © 2002-2019 by The Scriptorium.[1]*

The Jews over the centuries have executed numerous atrocities and crimes against various peoples and sovereign nations. Aside from the wars and revolutions, they have launched numerous food embargoes, economic embargoes, instigated brutal economic recessions, and many other such.

This essay covers one such event that has been totally buried by history, by Jewish authors, by Jewish book publishers, the Jewish-owned mainstream media, and buried so well that perhaps only a few people of a million are even aware of its existence. Yet this is one of the more savage attempts at Jewish control of a nation, and has been described as "the singular event that sparked what became World War II." This event was the 1933 Jewish worldwide economic war on Germany, one that occurred long before there was any such thing as sanctions or reprisals of any kind against Jews in Germany.

"Contrary to popular myth, the Jews remained "free" inside Germany – albeit subject to laws which did restrict certain of their privileges – prior to the outbreak of World War II. Yet, a little-known fact is that before the war began, the leadership of the world Jewish community formally declared war on Germany – above and beyond the ongoing six-year-long economic boycott launched by the worldwide Jewish community when the Nazi Party came to power in 1933. As a consequence of the formal declaration of war, the German authorities thus deemed Jews to be potential enemy agents. "Long before the Hitler government began restricting the rights of the German Jews, the leaders of the worldwide Jewish community formally declared war on the "New Germany". To this day, it is generally (although incorrectly) believed that when Adolf Hitler was appointed German chancellor in January of 1933, the German government began policies to suppress the Jews of Germany."[2]

The background of this event was that Hitler – who was only a member of a coalition and by no means the "leader" of Germany at the time – fully recognised that the bulk of the troubles confronting Germany had been caused by the Jews. Among these were the instigation of WW1 against Germany, Germany's defeat in WW1 by the conscription of the US into the war, and the brutal and unconscionable provisions of the Treaty of Versailles. Hitler fully recognised that Germany's hyperinflation and the accompanying severe depression were entirely instigated by Jewish bankers to plunder Germany. At the time, Germany's economy was in shambles, with a very high unemployment rate and little hope for any sort of reconstruction, primarily because the Jews (Rothschild) owned Germany's central bank and controlled the currency and much of the economy and were much more interested in looting the country than in rebuilding it. In recognition of this, Hitler took some remarkable steps. He killed the Jewish privately-owned central bank, evicted all Jews from the national banking system, evicted all Jews from high government positions, and effectively removed them from any positions where they could continue to do harm to Germany and to prevent its resurrection as a sovereign state. The historical record of Hitler's subsequent "economic miracle" in Germany is legend and information is easily available. Within only three years after removing Rothschild and the Jews from the banking system and taking control of banking and the currency, Germany was at full employment and the economy was humming again. Hitler's economic measures were so successful that Roosevelt wanted very badly to copy his formula.

Even more, the US generally was so impressed with Hitler's economic miracle that Time Magazine named him "Man of the Year". Of course, Time has since learned its lesson and covers this with an astonishingly hateful diatribe of the same man they so highly honored, telling us now that ""He Continues to Live as a Symbol of Evil"[3]. And of course, Snopes (another Jewish Hasbara troll) "fact-checked" this[4], and tells us that it is a totally false assumption that "Time's "Man of the Year" designations were intended to signify greatness and approval, and were assigned only to people who had beneficial effects on the world. Snopes tells us further that "Time's standard for the title has been identifying the person who has "had the greatest impact on the news," regardless of whether that impact was positive or negative" But that stance constitutes unforgivable dishonesty; Time's "Man of the Year" was an enormous honor for an outstanding person. And, to round out Snopes series of Jewish lies on the matter, they tell us that in the very same 1938 issue where Hitler was named Time's "Man of the Year", Hitler was described as the "greatest threatening force that the democratic, freedom-loving world faces today." I think this is a good time to abandon any delusions we might hold about independent or honest fact-checking.

Naturally, the Jews objected to their removal from the corridors of power. They held a more or less immediate international conference on Germany, after which they presented Hitler with basically two demands: One was the re-installation of Rothschild's privately-owned central bank, and the other was the reinstatement of all Jews evicted from their positions of political or other power. Hitler flatly refused, and the worldwide boycott of Germany was the result.

This was a much greater and more sinister enterprise than is generally appreciated, even by those who are aware of the basics. At the time, Germany was able to produce only enough food for about 70% of its population, which meant the country had to import vast amounts of food on a regular basis. And this of course necessitated foreign exchange – foreign currencies for the purchases. The Jewish Economic Boycott was fundamentally directed against German exports, on the basis that if the country's exports plummeted, the Germans would have no foreign exchange to pay for food imports, and thus perhaps 30% of Germans would slowly starve to death. And that was the plan: make no mistake about this. The intention was to starve to death a huge percentage of the population of Germany. The Jews didn't publish this intent in the mainstream media, but it was published in lesser journals and it was widely-discussed and understood that this would be the result. And I would argue that it would be totally irrelevant and disingenuous to argue the Jews had no such intentions because, whatever their actual intent, this would be the inevitable result. If Germany's exports collapsed, the country would be unable to purchase foodstuffs and much of the population would slowly starve to death. No other outcome was possible. Again, make no mistake: this was the intent, and let's not delude ourselves into believing or thinking the Jews weren't aware of this outcome. I have written many times before, that it is always a serious mistake in foreign affairs to assume that people don't know what they are doing.

JUDEA DECLARES WAR ON GERMANY

Jews Of All The World Unite In Action

BOYCOTT OF GERMAN GOODS

MASS DEMONSTRATIONS IN MANY DISTRICTS

DRAMATIC ACTION

"Daily Express" Special Political Correspondent.

ALL Israel is uniting in wrath against the Nazi onslaught on the Jews in Germany.

Adolf Hitler, swept into power by an appeal to elemental patriotism, is making history of a kind he least expected. Thinking to unite only the German nation to race consciousness he has roused the whole Jewish people to a national renaissance.

The appearance of the swastika symbol of a new Germany has called forth the Lion of Judah, the old battle symbol of Jewish defiance.

Fourteen million Jews dispersed throughout the world have banded together as one man to declare war on the German persecutors of their co-religionists. Sectional differences and antagonisms have been submerged in one common aim—to stand by the 600,000 Jews of Germany who are terrorised by Hitlerist anti-semitism, and to compel Fascist Germany to end its campaign of violence and suppression directed against its Jewish minority.

World Jewry has made up its mind not to rest quiescent in face of this revival of medieval Jew-baiting.

£111,111 a minute to £1,000,000 a minute.

This is the record of the public's thirst for sound investments with a taxable status.

When the West Riding County Council issued £1,000,000 of 3½ per cent. stock at £99 per cent. last week they obtained £14,000,000 in fifteen minutes.

Yesterday Middlesbrough asked the public to subscribe to £1,500,000 of its 3½ per cent. stock, and raised the price to £99 10s. per cent.

The lists were closed in five minutes, during which time applications had been received for £30,000,000.

HIGHER WAGES FOR STEEL WORKERS

AN INCREASE OF THREE SHILLINGS A WEEK

BRIGHT SPOT IN A BLACK TOWN

THE "Daily Express" has sent a special representative on an unusual mission. He is touring the north in search of high wages. In his tour he is going to tell the facts about all classes of wages, high and low. He is going to show how low wages reduce the morale of the community. He is going to show how courageous spending reacts favourably throughout the community.

In his first dispatch it is revealed that the steel masters of Middlesbrough have been able to make a gesture in the cause of high wages.

Fitters in steel works have recently received an increase of 3s. a week. Their wages are not high, but this is a step in the right direction. It is a bright spot in an otherwise black town—brought low by wage cuts and false economy.

CUTS THAT KILL

The Powell Duffryn Steam Coal Company of South Wales increased its profits by £100,000 last year.

Mr. E. L. Hann, the chairman and managing director, told shareholders at yesterday's annual meeting that this had not been achieved by a policy of wage reductions.

In fact he revealed that the earnings of their employees were higher than the average of the coal-field.

New "Sweep" Bill In The Dail

MR. DE VALERA AND STATE CONTROL

SECRET MEASURE

"Daily Express" Special Correspondent.

DUBLIN, Thursday.

WHILE Mr. Jack O'Sheehan, the official announcer of the Irish sweepstake draw, was dividing the remnants of the latest Irish lottery prize fund between lucky ticket-holders in the Plaza Ballroom to-day I was listening to an Under-Secretary of the Free State Government introducing a Bill which may change the whole future, scope, and purpose of these Irish hospitals lotteries.

NO CLUE

A mysterious measure entitled "The Public Hospitals Bill, 1933," appeared on the agenda for this afternoon's meeting of the Dail.

The Bill was set down for formal introduction, and a motion to this effect was moved in a six or seven-words speech by Mr. Sean O'Kelly, the Minister of Local Government. His brief remarks gave no clue to the

"PEACE CAN BE KEPT IN EUROPE"

MR. RAMSAY MACDONALD faced a crowded House of Commons yesterday afternoon when he spoke about his visits to Paris, Geneva, and Rome, and his talks with Signor Mussolini.

The German, French, Italian, Polish, and Belgian Ambassadors were among a crowd of diplomatic representatives in their special gallery, and Mr. Bruce, of Australia, and other representatives of the Dominions also listened.

Mr. MacDonald, who was greeted with cheers, said:—

"I take the earliest available opportunity to inform the House regarding what happened while the Foreign Secretary and myself were at Geneva and Rome.

"We were asked by our colleagues here to go to Geneva, first because every report showed that there was a grave danger of immediate collapse of the Disarmament Conference, and we felt strongly that it might be possible to avert such a collapse, because we were not at all convinced that it was necessary that it should take place.

Mr. MacDonald.

"Therefore, the Foreign Secretary and I went to Geneva. Our first business was to discover how matters exactly stood, and for that purpose we interviewed for some two or three days the leading delegates from various nations.

"It is perfectly plain that the conference took had somewhat lost itself in details.

At the time, many large and small retailers (in many countries) were Jewish, most of the large wholesalers were owned by Jews as were most of the large importers and a majority of the ships or shipping lines. The plan was that no Jewish company of any kind (nor any Gentile company over whom the Jews could exercise banking or other leverage) would deal in any German goods of any kind. Moreover, Jews and Jewish-owned banks would refuse to finance any part of the movement of German goods, and Jewish insurance companies would refuse to insure either the goods or the vessels carrying them. Brokers would refuse to trade in shares of German companies. Also, a great amount of the shipping capacity of the time was owned by Jews, and no Jewish ship would carry German goods. Where the Jews didn't own or control the companies, they would exercise much leverage and pressure on banking and finance, on advertising, on transport, and virtually force Gentile companies to submit to their wishes, much as they do today with "sanctions" and other pressures. The embargo was to be worldwide, and total. Many ads were placed by Jews in media publications, whether Jewish-owned or not, imploring all citizens of every nation to totally boycott all German goods. The justification was presented as cruelty being inflicted on Jews in Germany, when in fact no such thing was occurring. The entire justification for the boycott was founded on lies. It was further presented as retaliation against "Nazi Germany" when "Nazi" had no part whatever to play in this charade, but this was the foundation for all the media stories of the time on this matter.

Jewish War Veterans of the U.S. Source

"According to The Daily Express of London of March 24, 1933, the Jews had already launched their boycott against Germany and her elected government. The headline read "Judea Declares War on Germany – Jews of All the World Unite – Boycott of German Goods – Mass Demonstrations." The article described a forthcoming "holy war" and went on to implore Jews everywhere to boycott German goods and engage in mass demonstrations against German economic interests. According to the Express:

"The whole of Israel throughout the world is uniting to declare an economic and financial war on Germany. The appearance of the Swastika as the symbol of the new Germany has revived the old war symbol of Judas to new life. Fourteen million Jews scattered over the entire world are tight to each other as if one man, in order to declare war against the German persecutors of their fellow believers. The Jewish wholesaler will quit his house, the banker his stock exchange, the merchant his business, and the beggar his humble hut, in order to join the holy war against Hitler's people. The Express said that Germany was "now confronted with an international boycott of its trade, its finances, and its industry…. In London, New York, Paris and Warsaw, Jewish businessmen are united to go on an economic crusade." The article said "worldwide preparations are being made to organize protest demonstrations," and reported that "the old and reunited nation of Israel gets in formation with new and modern weapons to fight out its age-old battle against its persecutors." This truly could be described as "the first shot fired in the Second World War."

In a similar vein, the Jewish newspaper Natscha Retsch wrote:

"The war against Germany will be waged by all Jewish communities, conferences, congresses… by every individual Jew. Thereby the war against Germany will ideologically enliven and promote our interests, which require that Germany be wholly destroyed. The danger for us Jews lies in the whole German people, in Germany as a whole as well as individually. It must be rendered harmless for all time…. In this war we Jews have to participate, and this with all the strength and might we have at our disposal." [6]

"It was in direct response to this that the German government later announced a one-day boycott of Jewish businesses in Germany. The government announced that if, after the one-day boycott, there were no further attacks on Germany, the boycott would be stopped. Hitler himself responded to the Jewish boycott and the threats in a speech on March 28 – four days after the original Jewish declaration of war – saying:

"Thus, the fact – one conveniently left out of nearly all history on the subject – is that Hitler's March 28, 1933 boycott order was in direct response to the declaration of war on Germany by the worldwide Jewish leadership just four days earlier. Today, Hitler's boycott order is described as a naked act of aggression, yet the full circumstances leading up to his order are seldom described in even the most ponderous and detailed histories of "the Holocaust". Not even Saul Friedlander in his otherwise comprehensive overview of German policy, Nazi Germany and the Jews, mentions the fact that the Jewish declaration of war and boycott preceded Hitler's speech of March 28, 1933. Discerning readers would be wise to ask why Friedlander felt this item of history so irrelevant. The simple fact is that it was organized Jewry as a political entity – and not the German Jewish community per se – that actually initiated the first shot in the war with Germany." Germany's response was a defensive – not an offensive – measure.

Were that fact widely known today, it would cast new light on the subsequent events that ultimately led to the world-wide conflagration that followed."[7]

"The Jewish leaders were not bluffing. The boycott was an act of war not solely in metaphor: it was a means, well crafted, to destroy Germany as a political, social and economic entity. The long-term purpose of the Jewish boycott against Germany was to bankrupt her with respect to the reparation payments imposed on Germany after World War I and to keep Germany demilitarized and vulnerable. The boycott, in fact, was quite crippling to Germany. Jewish scholars such as Edwin Black have reported that, in response to the boycott, German exports were cut by 10 percent, and that many were demanding seizing German assets in foreign countries."[8] The photo above shows a 1933 issue of The New York Daily News, of a Jewish-organised 40,000-strong protest rally.

Source

"The attacks on Germany did not cease. The worldwide Jewish leadership became ever the more belligerent and worked itself into a frenzy. An International Jewish Boycott Conference was held in Amsterdam (organised by the Khazar Jews in The City of London), to coordinate the ongoing boycott campaign. It was held under the auspices of the self-styled World Jewish Economic Federation, of which famous New York City attorney and longtime political power broker, Samuel Untermeyer, was president. Upon returning to the United States in the wake of the conference, Untermeyer delivered a speech over WABC Radio (New York), a transcript of which was printed in The New York Times on August 7, 1933.[8a][8b] Untermeyer's inflammatory oratory called for a "sacred war" against Germany, making the flat-out allegation that Germany was engaged in a plan to "exterminate the Jews"." He said (in part):

> "Germany [has] been converted from a nation of culture into a veritable hell of cruel and savage beasts. We owe it not only to our persecuted brethren but to the entire world to now strike in self-defense a blow that will free humanity from a repetition of this incredible outrage….Now or never must all the nations of the earth make common cause against the… slaughter, starvation and annihilation… fiendish torture, cruelty and persecution that are being inflicted day by day upon these men, women and children….When the tale is told… the world will confront a picture so fearful in its barbarous cruelty that the hell of war and the alleged Belgian atrocities pale into insignificance as compared to this devilishly, deliberately, cold-bloodedly planned and already partially executed campaign for the extermination of a proud, gentle, loyal, law-abiding people…The Jews are the aristocrats of the world. From time immemorial they have … seen their persecutors come and go. They alone have survived. And so will history repeat itself. Untermeyer then proceeded to provide his listeners with a wholly fraudulent history of the circumstances of the German boycott and how it originated. He also proclaimed that the Germans were bent on a plan to "exterminate the Jews".

The Hitler regime originated and are fiendishly prosecuting their boycott to exterminate the Jews by placarding Jewish shops, warning Germans against dealing with them, by imprisoning Jewish shopkeepers and parading them through the streets by the hundreds under guard of Nazi troops for the sole crime of being Jews, by ejecting them from the learned professions in which many of them had attained eminence, by excluding their children from the schools, their men from the labor unions, closing against them every avenue of livelihood, locking them in vile concentration camps and starving and torturing them without cause and resorting to every other conceivable form of torture, inhuman beyond conception, until suicide has become their only means of escape, and all solely because they are or their remote ancestors were Jews, and all with the avowed object of exterminating them."

Rather inflammatory talk built entirely on fabrications ; the "atrocity porn" for which Jews have become so famous and have used to start many wars, including the hoped-for wars today against Russia, China and Iran.

The March 24, 1933 issue of The Daily Express of London described how Jewish leaders, in combination with powerful international Jewish financial interests, had launched a boycott of Germany for the express purpose of crippling her already precarious economy in the hope of bringing down the new government. It was only then that Germany struck back in response. Thus, if truth be told, it was the worldwide Jewish leadership – not the Third Reich – that effectively fired the first shot in the Second World War. Prominent New York attorney Samuel Untermeyer was one of the leading agitators in the war against Germany, describing the Jewish campaign as nothing less than a "holy war." This all occurred long before the German government began restricting the rights of German Jews.

"To this day, it is generally (although incorrectly) believed that when Adolf Hitler was appointed German chancellor in January of 1933, the German government began policies to suppress the Jews of Germany, including rounding up of Jews and putting them in concentration camps and launching campaigns of terror and violence against the domestic Jewish population." Nothing could be further from the truth. Even Germany's Jewish Central Association, known as the Verein, rejected the suggestion made loudly by Jewish leaders everywhere that the new German government was deliberately provoking anti-Jewish uprisings. The Verein issued a statement that "the responsible government authorities [i.e., the Hitler regime] are unaware of the threatening situation," saying, "we do not believe our German fellow citizens will let themselves be carried away into committing excesses against the Jews." And even the Zionist Association of Germany issued a telegram on the 26th of March rejecting the allegations made against the German government as "propaganda," "mendacious" and "sensational". Nevertheless, the Jewish powers emanating from The City of London were determined to continue the vicious propaganda hate campaign and to launch the economic war against Germany.

In 1933 the American Jewish Congress announced a massive protest at Madison Square Gardens for March 27. A few days prior to this, a huge rally was organised with 20,000 Jews protesting at New York's City Hall. They staged rallies outside the German Lloyd and Hamburg-American shipping lines, and boycotts were mounted against German goods throughout shops and businesses in New York City and throughout the US.

1937 Anti-Nazi Rally at Madison Square Garden – Madison Square Garden – Wikipedia

The German government complained of the "vilification campaign" against Germany, and referred to "their distorted and untruthful news about persecution and torture of Jews, the impression that they actually halt at nothing, not even at lies and calumny, to fight the present German government." The New York Daily News front page headline hailed the massive anti-German protest rally held in Madison Square Garden on March 27, 1933. "Despite efforts by the German government to alleviate tensions and prevent the escalation of name-calling and threats by the international Jewish leadership, the rally was held as scheduled. Similar rallies and protest marches were also being held in other cities during the same time frame."

German poster urging boycott of Jewish shops. Source

The Jews simply refused to relent, and held simultaneous protests and rallies in more than 70 locations in the US, all based on despicably false and inflammatory allegations against Germany. The Jews even then had sufficient media power that many of these anti-German hate rallies were broadcast not only throughout the US, but worldwide. The story was that "The New Germany" was an evil entity, an "enemy of Jewish interests", and for these reasons needed urgently to be "economically strangled". It was only in direct response to this that the German government announced a one-day boycott of Jewish businesses in Germany, stating that if the Jewish attacks on Germany ceased, there would be no repeats.

The photo below shows a German Poster calling for a reciprocal boycott of Jewish merchants, in retaliation for the worldwide Jewish boycott of German goods.

aber wahrt strengste Disziplin. Keinem Juden darf auch nur ein Haar gekrümmt werden.

Der Boykott beginnt am Samstag, den 1. April 1933 um 10 Uhr vormittags.

Von diesem Augenblick an werden wir über die strikte Durchführung des Boykotts wachen. Wer es unternimmt, den Boykott zu durchbrechen, wird als Feind des Deutschen Volkes festgestellt.

Am Samstag vormittag 9.30 Uhr findet auf dem Lindenplatz und anschließend im Pfänzer eine große öffentliche

Boykott-Kundgebung

The poster reads in part, "German people's comrades! German housewives! You all know the disgraceful methods that so-called "German" Jews abroad are using to incite against the German people and Adolf Hitler's national government. If we do not want to give up and sink into deeper misery, we must defend ourselves. We therefore call on you to heed the appeal of our Führer, the German people's chancellor, for a boycott against the Jews and expect the full support of each person in this defensive action. The placard texts read: "Germans! Defend yourselves! Don't shop at Jewish stores!" Others read, "Do not buy from Jewish shops! Do not go to a Jewish doctor! But maintain the strictest discipline. Do not even touch the hair on a Jew's head. The boycott begins Saturday morning at 10:00 AM."

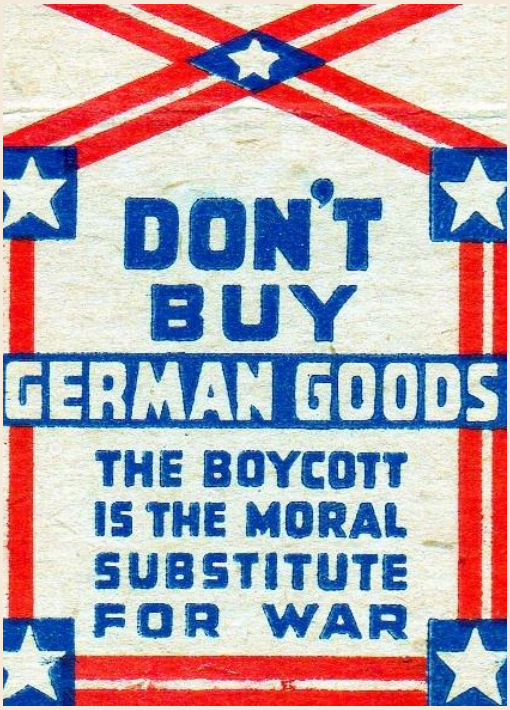
A Jewish ad in a 1933 issue of The Leader Post, urging a boycott of German goods. Source



According to p. 45 of The Jewish War Veterans Story, "the boycott was "kicked off" by a mammoth parade under J.W.V. sponsorship, held in New York on March 23, 1933, on three days' notice", and states further that the parade route "was lined with almost a million people. "It is unfortunate that Jews are almost unanimously (and viciously) determined to keep this story buried, and also unfortunate that every part of the Jewish media are unanimously reading from a false script in relating circumstances of this event, twisting a brutal assault on Germany by the International Jews into a kind of punishment for (imaginary) German transgressions. The Internet is flooded only with articles on a "Nazi boycott of Jewish businesses", but nobody is telling the truth about what really happened, and almost all references are to Germany's one-day boycott of Jewish businesses, totally ignoring the underlying facts. Wikipedia's opening sentence: "The anti-Nazi boycott was an international boycott of German products in response to violence and harassment by members of Hitler's Nazi Party against Jews." This statement is an outright lie, with no facts to support it. [1] The website My Jewish Learning, tells us: "The New York rally was broadcast worldwide. A crowd of 55,000 overflowed the Garden into the streets outside to hear American Jewish Congress President Bernard Deutsch, American Federation of Labor president William Green, Senator Robert F. Wagner." It doesn't bother to mention these were all Jews, and not independent reports or spontaneous gatherings. [2] I once made mention of this event in a comment posted on The Economist, and a virtual flood of Hasbara Jews emerged to ridicule it, denying the event in totality, and claiming among other things that some irresponsible article in a "little English tabloid" had no credibility. But in fact, the Daily Express was very respectable, and was generally presented as the most widely-read newspaper in the world at the time.

Chapter 5 – Stalin's Jews

Introduction

This topic is important not only for its own sake but because it provides linkages that help us to put other historical events in perspective, and even more because it is an astonishing, even astounding, example of how history is spun, of how the omission of only a few crucial facts can totally distort an entire vital segment of history. One result is that much of what we "know" of our history is factually wrong, but also it provokes us to despise innocent people while sympathising with the guilty.

Some years ago, Sever Plocker wrote an article for Israel's Ynet News titled "Stalin's Jews" (1) in which he stated, "We mustn't forget that some of greatest [mass] murderers of modern times were Jewish." This article is a testimony to his statements.

To quote Plocker, "We cannot know with certainty the number of deaths Cheka was responsible for in its various manifestations, but the number is surely at least 20 million, including victims of the forced collectivization, the hunger, large purges, expulsions, banishments, executions, and mass death at Gulags. Whole population strata were eliminated: Independent farmers, ethnic minorities, members of the bourgeoisie, senior officers, intellectuals, artists, labor movement activists, "opposition members" who were defined completely randomly, and countless members of the Communist party itself.

And us, the Jews? Many Jews sold their soul to the devil of the Communist revolution and have blood on their hands for eternity. Dr. Halfin described the waves of soviet terror as a "carnival of mass murder," "fantasy of purges", and "messianism of evil." Turns out that Jews too, when they become captivated by messianic ideology, can become great murderers, among the greatest known by modern history. Even if we deny it, we cannot escape the Jewishness of "our hangmen", who served the Red Terror with loyalty and dedication from its establishment.

An Israeli student finishes high school without ever hearing the name "Genrikh Yagoda," the greatest Jewish murderer of the 20th Century, the GPU's deputy commander and the founder and commander of the NKVD. Yagoda diligently implemented Stalin's collectivization orders and is responsible for the deaths of at least 10 million people. His Jewish deputies established and managed the Gulag system."

Plocker then states a view all too common among Jews everywhere, when he writes, "The Jews active in official communist terror apparatuses . . . did not do this, obviously, as Jews, but rather, as Stalinists, communists, and "Soviet people". But he does redeem himself by stating further, "My own view is different. I find it unacceptable that a person will be considered a member of the Jewish people when he does great things, but not considered part of our people when he does amazingly despicable things." I couldn't agree more. If the arguments are valid, then Germany shouldn't apologise or feel remorse about anything, because after all Hitler wasn't acting as a German, but as a "European" or a "Nazi". This is simply a lame attempt to tell us that Jews are "really Jews" only when they're good. When they're evil, their Jewishness is presumably cast off and they assume some other identity.

Jews are unwilling to confront the history of significant numbers of their own people committing savage atrocities, so they downplay their own origin, rewrite history, and forget it. Perhaps even more to the point, what about the savage and inhuman treatment the Jews in Israel inflict on the Palestinian people? When they shoot children in the head, bomb the UN school to utter destruction, destroy the American School in Gaza with white phosphor, and burn children alive, are they acting as Jews? Surely they must be.

Plocker refers to one other thing, an attempt to confuse and transfer liability and guilt from the Jews to the Russian people. He noted that Niall Ferguson, a so-called "historian" at Harvard University, in his book "The War of the World", wrote that "no revolution in the history of mankind devoured its children with the same unrestrained appetite as did the Soviet revolution". Plocker also recalled that Tel Aviv University's Dr. Igal Halfin, in a book on the Stalinist purges, wrote that "Stalinist violence was unique in that it was directed internally".

I find both those statements repulsive idiotic sophistry, apparent deliberate acts to deflect responsibility for a campaign of mass murder almost without equal. In no way did the Soviet Revolution "devour its own children"; rather the Jews came to Russia to devour Russian children. And the violence was "directed internally" only in the sense that those executing it were external agents, outsiders who came to kill.

A Bit of Historical Background

In a previous essay on Jews and Revolutions (2) I noted that there have been many waves of attempted revolutions in the past, all instigated by the Jews, but mostly buried and misrepresented by these same people. Russia is a particular case in point. It doesn't seem widely-known, but Russia has had more than its share of attempted revolutions, both before and after the 1917 event we all know as "The Russian Revolution".

The Revolutions of 1848

The Spring of Nations. Source

The world in 1848 had a virtual epidemic of attempted revolutions and overthrows of government, affecting literally dozens of countries, Russia among them. There was mild success in France, but all others were crushed. Nevertheless, 1848 was a major point in world history that is almost never seen as such because the individual elements are all treated separately by our so-called historians (primarily Jewish) and the book publishers (almost entirely Jewish) who never provide us with the tools to link all those disparate events into one picture. I won't dwell on it here, but all of those revolutions of that year were from the same source, an enormous concentrated effort to reconfigure the governments of the world to be more compatible with the aims of the Khazar Jews.

The Revolution of 1881

In 1879, the Narodnaya Volya society split off from Zemlya I Volya. His main goal was to kill Alexander II. They attempted to assassinate the tsar several times. The emperor was afraid to leave the palace and rarely did. He only went out to change the guard. Narodnaya Volya residents were preparing a new plan.Sofia Perovskaya, waved her handkerchief, Nikolai Rysakov threw a bomb at the carriage. The emperor was not injured, he wanted to see the terrorist and approached him. Just at this moment, Ignatius Grinevitsky threw a second bomb, which became fatal for Alexander II. Source

Russia had another revolution in 1881, (3) stirred up by the same people, in this case with the assassination of Tsar Alexander II by a Jew named Vera Figner, leader of a Jewish terrorist group called "The People's Will". This was their notification to the new Tsar Alexander III: (4)

"Workers of Russia! Today, March 1st, Alexander the Tyrant (Alexander II) has been killed by us, Socialists. He was killed because he did not care for his people. He burdened them with taxes. He deprived the peasant of his land. He handed over the workers to plunderers and exploiters. He did not give the people freedom. He did not heed the people's tears. He cared only for the rich. He himself lived in luxury. The police maltreated the people and he rewarded them instead of punishing them. He hanged or exiled any who stood out on behalf of the people or on behalf of justice. That is why he was killed. A Tsar should be a good shepherd, ready to devote his life to his sheep. Alexander II was a ravening wolf and a terrible death overtook him."

The Revolution of 1890

Encouraged by its successful assassination of Alexander II, the Narodnaya Volya movement began planning the murder of Alexander III. The Okhrana uncovered the plot and five of the conspirators, including Alexander Ulyanov, the older brother of Vladimir Lenin, were captured and hanged on 20 May [O.S. 8 May] 1887.He died on 1894 at the age of forty-nine, and was succeeded by his eldest son Tsesarevich Nicholas, who took the throne as Nicholas II. Source

It seems our revolutionaries didn't much care for Alexander III either, and made another stillborn attempt in 1890. As part of their revolutionary plot, the Jews took advantage of a poor crop year in an attempt to foster a popular revolution with hunger as they did in France. The Russian government was at first unaware of the extent of the poor harvest and the food shortages, and delayed acting for some time.

Realising the natural outcome, and also knowing that grain prices were much higher for export than for domestic consumption, Jewish "grain buyers" pre-empted the government's actions by quickly purchasing and exporting much of the year's already-limited crop before Imperial edicts could prevent it. The resulting famine was serious, and nearly 500,000 people died. The hoped-for revolution failed to appear, however. (5)

The Revolution of 1905

January 9: Bloody Sunday. 150,000 striking workers and their families march through St. Petersburg to deliver a protest to the Tsar but are shot and ridden down on multiple occasions by the army. Source

The next attempt following was much more momentous, this being the revolution of 1905 and the event termed "Bloody Sunday" where an organised protest was put down rather brutally by the new Tsar Nicholas II. During the next two years, the Jews organised terror brigades that killed many thousands of people, mainly police and government officials. Several thousand Jewish terrorists were caught and exiled to Siberia and elsewhere, but this story has a closely-related and very important element that history has de-linked and which we need to understand. (6)

The Russo-Japanese War

Source

I won't go into too much detail here because the topic is large and other references are easily available on the basic facts. (7) In simple terms, Russia wanted a warm-water naval port in Northern Korea or Northern China, areas under the control of the Japanese. The picture is a bit murky but it is clear that the Jews were heavily pushing belligerence and intractability on both sides, and definitely promoting serious military engagement. Jacob Schiff was promoting a (thoroughly fictitious) policy of helping Japan to industrialise and militarise, to protect itself from the "Christians of Russia's Tsar". (8)

One of the crucial details history has suppressed is that Japan was not only being pushed into a war with Russia, but was given financing of $200 million by the European Rothschilds to purchase a wide array of arms and weapons conveniently supplied by Rothschild's arms factories in Germany. Japan was literally armed to the teeth with the latest of everything – and all on credit. Another detail history has omitted is that Russia was sold essentially the same weapons for about the same $200 million and also on credit, financed by another group of Jewish bankers but supplied by the same Rothschild factories. Fortunately for the Japanese, their weapons arrived just in time for the attacks on Russia, permitting Japan to destroy much of the Russian fleet. Unfortunately for Russia, their weapons shipments were inexplicably delayed, not arriving until all the damage had been done, thus leaving the government weak, demoralised and in disarray, with much of its military destroyed.

In spite of this defeat, Russia did eventually obtain half of Sakhalin Island at the time for use as its naval bases, and obtained the remainder after WWII. Thus, the Japanese realised that their war with Russia was actually of no benefit at all, at least not to them. However, they also realised something else – that they had been suckered by the Jews into a war with Russia for the sole purpose of weakening Russia as preparation for the planned 1905 revolution. They not only obtained no benefit from the war, but were used merely as an unwitting tool to weaken an enemy for someone else to conquer – and left almost bankrupt and with $200 million in debt for the experience.

Our history books and Wikipedia have no knowledge of this. One example of how omitting just one crucial detail changes the entire picture of an historical event, leading all students to precisely the wrong conclusion.

The Japanese didn't forget this and, with further similar experiences, they realised they were never going to be accepted as part of the Western world. Thus, when the winds of WWII began blowing, the Japanese understandably didn't want enemy aliens in their midst. They first expelled all the Jews from Nagasaki in 1926 and then later all the Jews from all of Japan. This is where we can make more historical links. It appears almost a certainty that the reason Bernard Baruch, a Jew and "the most powerful man in the US" at the time, selected Nagasaki as one of the targets for the atomic bomb. And the later total expulsions were arguably the reason Baruch chose Japan as the target for the US to demonstrate its new atomic prowess.

The Khazar Jews are not forgiving to any nation who expels them, which is the reason poor little Cuba has been horribly punished ever since Castro's revolution, and one of the reasons China is such a target today – because Mao expelled all the opium and every other kind of Jew from China as soon as he took power. Jewish publications tell us the Jews left Shanghai "in a hurry" after the war, neglecting to mention the cause of that "hurry".

This is an aside, but the second expulsion of all Jews from Japan is the source of the fabricated stories of Shanghai "welcoming 40,000 Jews who were escaping Hitler's atrocities in Europe". The story, a lie in its entirety, is that all these Jews traveled from Germany to Shanghai where they would be "safe" from Hitler. But if this were their objective, crossing the border into Russia would have been enough; reaching Moscow would have been more than enough. Traveling 7,000 Kms. all the way through Siberia, then another 5,000 Kms. south to Shanghai makes no sense. There were many safe places on the way. In any case, transportation from Moscow to Siberia was minimal at best and there was no system capable of carrying an additional 40,000 people to Yakutsk, nor were there facilities to take those people through Siberia, Mongolia and Japan-controlled Manchuria all the way to Shanghai. While there might have been a few who did travel overland, it was the Jews expelled from Japan that flooded into Shanghai. And it was not the "warm-hearted Chinese" who saved 40,000 Jews from Hitler as we are told. The Japanese had full control of Shanghai as well as much of Northeast China, and Shanghai already had a huge number of opium Jews, so the transfer was a natural one. "China" had no say in the matter, Shanghai had no say in the matter, and all those "warm-hearted Chinese" didn't even know what happened.

Back to the Revolution of 1905

Source

The Tsar at the time, Nicholas II, had a serious change of heart and was willing to make major concessions to keep his country at peace and to avoid a civil war. One of his most effective ministers, Peter Stolypin, proposed many changes that would have cemented the contentment of the population and the security of Russia. It is said that Stolypin was perhaps the one man who could have avoided all the bloodshed and saved the Romanovs. Thus, Stolypin had to be removed. (9) A Jewish revolutionary named Dmitri Bogrov shot and killed Stolypin. (10) The Jews quickly claimed that Bogrov "acted alone" but mysteries about that assassination were never resolved. In any case, his assassination doomed the Romanov dynasty. Wikipedia had no idea Bogrov was a Jew. (11)

The 1917 Russian Revolution

Cannibalism during Russian famine of 1921. Source

We need to note first that the 1917 Russian Revolution was not, in any sense, a "Russian" revolution. It was entirely, 100%, a Jewish revolution against Russia and the Russian people. Native Russians had no part in the planning, and played little role in the execution of this immense tragedy, absolutely one of the bloodiest and most savage events in the world's recent history.

It isn't so much the revolution that is of interest to us, but the events preceding and following that should claim our attention. The Jews desperately wanted an upheaval to destroy Russia as it was, according to the plan for worldwide Communist control. This time, they planned much more carefully. It doesn't seem widely-known, but Trotsky and several hundred Russian Jews who were expelled from Russia after the failed 1905 revolution, were all in the US receiving training for the next attempt, and they received literally many years of coaching. They were heavily financed by Jacob Schiff and Max Warburg, who spent more than $20 million on the training and the financing of the revolution itself (11a). That would be about $750 million today, an enormous amount of money for the time.

In March of 1917, Schiff and Warburg sent Lev Davidovich Bronstein, better known as "Trotsky" and his group of several hundred Jewish communists off to Russia, to foment a revolution. At the same time, some 90,000 Jewish exiles returned to Russia from all over the world to infiltrate the country and assist in the revolution, most changing their Jewish names to blend more easily into Russian society. You can see this was not a trivial undertaking, but one with extensive worldwide planning from a single source – that source being the City of London.

Lenin's Return From Exile Put Russia on the Fast Track to Revolution …

Lenin was sent across Europe to Russia on the famous "sealed train" with an additional $5 million or $6 million in gold (about $175 million in today's dollars). At the same time, Trotsky left New York aboard the S.S. Christiania with approximately 300 intensively-trained Jewish revolutionaries, with a huge hoard of gold in hand, their first port of call being Halifax, Nova Scotia. The Canadian government was aware of the plot and of the identities of those men, and arrested Trotsky and his people, and impounded their gold. But the Jews reacted immediately and with threats of force, with William Wiseman of Kuhn Loeb, and the famous "Colonel" House, imposing enormous pressure on Canada to release the men. Canada, cowardly as always, capitulated to the pressure and complied, Trotsky then free to meet up with Lenin and proceed with the Jewish plans for Russia. This is one of the many parts of Canadian history that no Canadian is permitted to learn.

Finally at 11.10 at night on 3 April the Sealed Train pulled into Petrograd's Finland Station where Lenin was greeted by a crowd of supporters mostly sailors from the Naval Base at Kronstadt and soldiers who had deserted from the front waving placards and cheering wildly. Hoisted onto a nearby Armoured Car Lenin would deliver his famous 'April Theses' promising Peace, Land and Bread. Source

In the world of motor vehicle insurance there used to be a doctrine for assigning responsibility for collisions, known as "the last clear chance". The theory was that, regardless of who created the circumstances for an accident, if one driver had a last clear chance to avoid the collision but failed to exercise it, the blame would fall on him. If we adopt this doctrine, Canada had the last clear chance and can be assessed the entire blame for the revolution in Russia and the enormous toll of casualties that ensued.

The Jewish Revolutionists

The Georgian, Ioseb Besarionis dze Jughashvili (aka. Joseph Vissarionovich Stalin), may have been little more than a front, the real power behind the throne emanating from the City of London and masterminded by Jacob Schiff and Max Warburg. Some historians agree that Stalin was a mere figurehead, that it was Lazar Kaganovich (the Jewish head of the CHEKA, and the brother of Stalin's Jewish wife) who was really in charge. More than a few historians appear to accept the thesis that it was all the Jews in important positions under Stalin, who actually made the decisions and determined the policies.

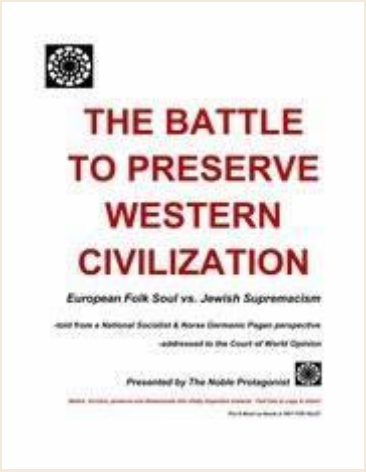
It should be noted that, while Jews were only a minuscule percentage of Russia's population, between 80% and 90% of all Russian revolutionaries were Jews and, in some segments like the Gulags and the CHEKA, Jewish participation was effectively 100%. Jews absolutely dominated the entire Bolshevik regime after the 1917 Red October Revolution. Almost all the ministers in the first Soviet government were Jews, and the few who were not, were Freemasons, had Jewish wives, and spoke Yiddish. "The Bolshevik's revolution in Russia was the work of Jewish brains, of Jewish dissatisfaction, of Jewish planning, whose goal is to create a new order in the world."

(12) As noted above, about 90,000 Jews from many European regions poured into the major cities of Russia, to be given prominent executive positions in all major sectors of government and the economy.

"According to data furnished by the Soviet press, out of 556 important functionaries of the Bolshevik state, including the above-mentioned, in 1918-1919 there were: 17 Russians, two Ukrainians, eleven Armenians, 35 Letts [Latvians], 15 Germans, one Hungarian, ten Georgians, three Poles, three Finns, one Czech, one Karaim, and 457 Jews." (13)

"According to the U.S. State Department's documents, a group of powerful Jewish financial elites were planning the overthrown of the Russian Tsar, Nicholas II, in 1916. These plotters included Jacob Schiff, Mortimer Schiff, Felix Warburg, Otto Kahn and Isaac Zeelman. They decided that Russia should be destroyed and a communist dictatorial regime would be implemented, subservient to the dictates of International Jewry." (14)

Alexander Solzhenitsyn wrote: "You must understand. The . . . Bolsheviks who took over Russia were not Russians. They hated Russians! They hated Christians! Driven by ethnic hatred they tortured & slaughtered millions of Russians without a shred of human remorse. The October Revolution was not what you call in America the 'Russian Revolution'. It was an invasion & conquest over the Russian people. More of my countrymen suffered horrific crimes at the blood-stained hands than any people, or nation ever suffered in the entirety of human history. It cannot be understated! Bolshevism was the greatest human slaughter of all time. The fact that most of the world is ignorant of this reality is proof that the global media itself is in the hands of the perpetrators. We cannot state that all Jews are Bolsheviks, but without Jews there would have been no Bolshevism. For a Jew, nothing is more insulting than the truth. The blood-maddened Jewish terrorists murdered 66 million in Russia from 1918 to 1957." (15)



Free PDF

Winston Churchill wrote, "There is no need to exaggerate the part played in the creation of Bolshevism and in the actual bringing about of the Russian Revolution by these international and for the most part atheistical Jews . . . In the Soviet institutions the predominance of Jews is even more astonishing. And the prominent, if not indeed the principal, part in the system of terrorism applied by the Extraordinary Commissions for Combating Counter-Revolution (CHEKA) has been taken by Jews, and in some notable cases by Jewesses." (16)

"The world revolution which we will experience will be exclusively our affair and will rest in our hands. This revolution will tighten the Jewish domination over all other people." (17)

The Jewish CHEKA

The Jewish CHEKA was a secret police force created through the NKVD; its makeup was almost entirely Jewish. "Jews were especially dominant in the most feared and bloodthirsty part of the Bolshevik State apparatus, the CHEKA, which consisted of 250,000 officers", all Jews, and with unlimited power, Kaganovich and his CHEKA organisation acting as "policeman, investigator, jailer, prosecutor, judge and executioner". (18)

Lazar Kaganovich was the Jewish head of the CHEKA and was famous for his purges of those who opposed Jewish control of the country. Anyone daring to criticize Jewish Supremacy was mercilessly murdered, as "anti-Semitism" became a crime punishable by death in the Soviet Union.

Primarily, the CHEKA rounded up all Gentiles failing to support the Jewish government, then tortured and killed them. This especially included the military and government workers, all Christian clergy, and anyone with property valued at more than 10,000 rubles. The Jews operating the CHEKA not only exterminated all these categories of people but specialised in torture, their methods including skinning people while alive, scalping, impaling on stakes, hanging, stoning to death, being 'crowned' with barbed wire, being tied to planks and pushed slowly into tanks of boiling water. There was a further atrocity that was also commonly done to black slaves in America, that of pounding nails into a large wooden barrel so the points protruded into the inside, then placing a naked man into the barrel, nailing it shut, and rolling it down steep hills. They also used what is called the "rat torture", placing a rat inside an open-bottom metal box attached to a man's abdomen, then heating the metal box to red-hot, at which point the animal, crazed from the heat, would attempt escape by eating into the man's body.

These Jews also specialised in torturing and killing women and children, inevitably raping the women before they were killed. The CHEKA Jews quite openly roamed the countryside kidnapping and killing children, eventually exterminating entire rural populations. They also burned down many or even most of the churches and destroyed most of the Christian monuments in Russia, turned the priests into street-sweepers or simply murdering them outright. In the end, the majority of the Christian clergy were killed by the Jews. "The Jewish CHEKA systematically exterminated the wealthy, the business class, the intelligent educated class, all the high-achieving segments of the population, leaving Russia with a population of ignorant workers, peasants, and a powerful Jewish ruling elite."

The reward for the assassination of the Imperial family posted by Wall Street Jewish banker Jacob Schiff was settled with the Bolsheviks. This German-born Jew was later to boast and celebrate the funding of the 1917 Bolshevik coup which overthrew Russia's legitimate government. Schiff personally offered a substantial reward for the murder of the Russian royal family.

This Jewish banker's investment funded a tyranny which, at the time of its collapse in 1990, is estimated to have directly or indirectly led to loss of life estimated between 70 and 100 million people — most of them Russians. Jacob Schiff appears to have achieved the dubious distinction of being the biggest murder-for-hire procurer in the history of humankind. Source.

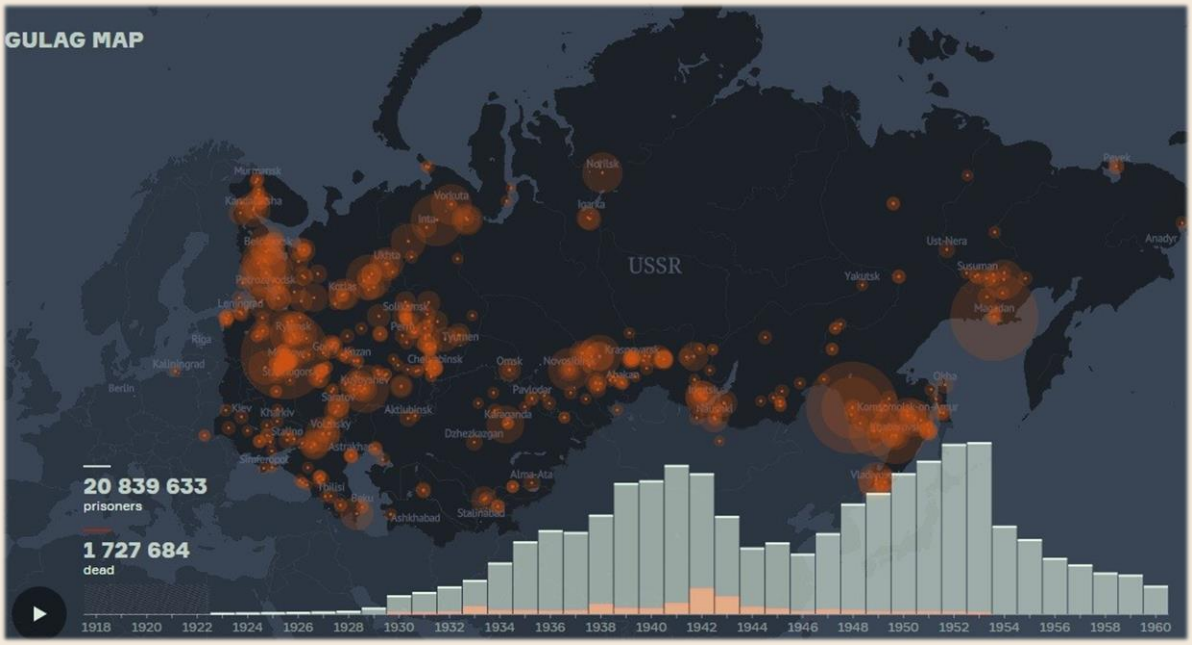
The Jews in the CHEKA also murdered the entire family of Tsar Nicholas II, "the last of the Romanovs". It was Yakov M. Yurovksy, a Jew, who carried out the murders. Trotsky rationalised the murders as "a useful measure, not only expedient but necessary." He claimed it proved that "it showed everyone that we would continue to fight on mercilessly, stopping at nothing." He said the executions were meant "to frighten, horrify and instill a sense of hopelessness" in the Gentile Christians, and also to show other Jews that "there was no turning back, that ahead lay either total victory or total doom."

The Jewish Gulags



Source

The Gulags consisted of about 500 Jewish concentration camps established under the CHEKA, and used primarily for forced labor, any dissenters in the population typically receiving sentences of 5 to 25 years of hard labor. Yagoda sent hundreds of thousands to work on the Baltic Sea canal project where countless numbers of Russians, Ukrainians, and others perished. The system was created and founded by two Jews, Naftaly Frenkel and Levi Berman, under the direct control of Genrikh Yagoda and with the camps commanded by Jews such as Rappoport, Solz, and Spiegelglas, all of whom are mentioned at length in the work of Solzhenitsyn:

Aleksandr Isaievech Solzhenitsyn slew the dragon of ideological despotism with rare eloquence, determination, and grit. For that alone, he deserves to be forever remembered. Source

"Millions of innocent people were incarcerated in these gulags which eventually became death camps. "Prisoners worked outdoors and in mines, in arid regions and the Arctic Circle without adequate clothing, tools, shelter, food, or even clean water. They trudged through mud in sub-zero -20C temperatures, cut down trees with handsaws, dug at frozen ground with primitive pickaxes and heaved huge rocks with primitive tools. Others mined coal or copper by hand, often suffering painful or fatal lung diseases from inhaling ore dust while on the job. These prisoners worked up to 14 hours a day on massive projects, including the Moscow-Volga Canal, the White Sea-Baltic Canal, and the Kolyma Highway."

Before Stalin's death, nearly 20 million men and women were transported to these camps in Siberia and other outposts, many of them never to return. The prisoners suffered from starvation, illness, violence, and cold; an immense number of people died. Starvation was not uncommon, as prisoners were barely fed enough to sustain such difficult labor. Other prisoners were simply dragged out to the woods and shot by guards for little or no reason." (19)

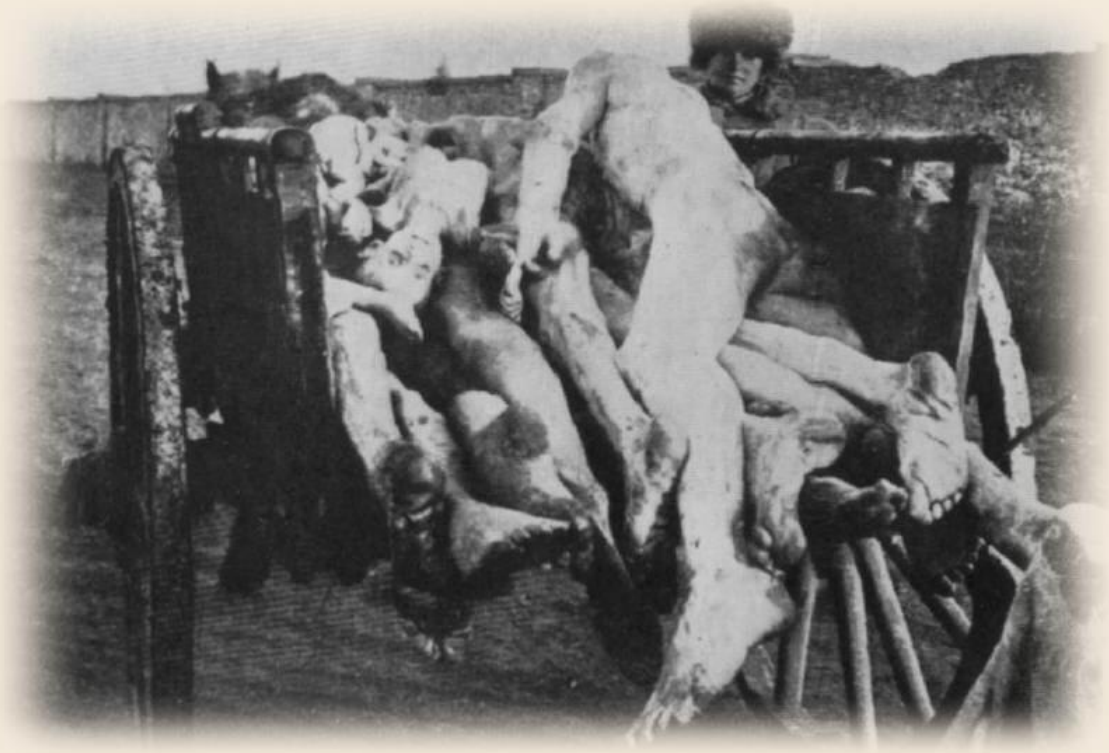
Jewish Collectivisation

A starving mother holds her child at the height of Holodomor. USSR. Circa 1933.Wikimedia Commons. Source

The Jewish Bolsheviks implemented a policy known as "Collectivisation", which meant confiscating all peasant land in the name of the state, and by the use of Red Terror at the hands of the CHEKA. "This is what Karl Marx himself described as the "essence of communism", to abolish private property which belongs to the Gentiles". After a dozen or so years, more than 90% of all the land had been 'collectivised'. One direct result of this process was death by starvation, since the Jews confiscated not only the land but all the grain from these areas, directly condemning the peasants to death.

The famines created in Russia by the Jews were unimaginable. One historian, Yulia Khmelevskaya, wrote that "People were eating almost everything that could be swallowed. They ate straw from the roof." The Jews deliberately organised three large waves of "man-made famines aimed at starving farmers in Ukraine, Belarus, Kazakhstan and Russia. Millions of people died a slow death and people resorted to eating grass and some even to cannibalism." And the Jews' attitude toward this? Trotsky is famous for having stated, "You are Starving? This is not famine yet; when your women start eating their children, then you may come and say we are starving." (20)

The Jewish Holodomor in the Ukraine



A cart full of dead bodies is dragged off to be burned. Ukraine. Circa 1932-1933.Wikimedia Commons. Source

The Encyclopedia Britannica estimates that around 8 million people, five million of them Ukrainian, were starved to death by one Kaganovich famine alone and the three Holodomor genocides together resulted ina death toll of 16.5 million people. The Jewish media and Jewish organisations of all stripes make enormous efforts today to dismiss the Ukrainian famines as a hoax when the evidence is overwhelming. They do so primarily to avoid competition for the Jews as the world's only victims in WWII. This is worse than you might imagine; we have all seen photos of huge piles of emaciated dead bodies – literally skin and bones piled two or more meters high, which are presented to us as evidence of Jews starved to death by the Germans. But they are no such thing. They are instead evidence of Ukrainians, Russians and other Slavs starved to death by the Jews. (21)

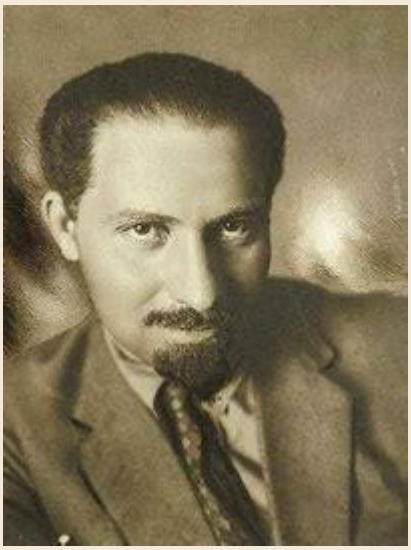
Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn estimated that in total the Jewish regime in Russia managed to exterminate more than 60 million people, including victims of the forced Collectivisation, the starvations and famines, the purges, expulsions, banishments, executions, and mass deaths at Gulags. I believe he also said that "Industrial-scale murders like these are an essential part of [Jewish] communist theory."

Khazar Jewish Sympathy for the Victims

Trotsky said "We must turn Russia into a desert, populated by White negroes upon whom we shall impose a tyranny such as the most terrible Eastern despots never dreamt of. The only difference is that this will be a left-wing tyranny, not a right-wing tyranny. It will be a Red (Jewish) tyranny, and not a White one. We mean the word "red" literally, because we shall shed such floods of blood as will make all the human losses suffered in the capitalist wars pale by comparison. The biggest bankers across the ocean will work in the closest possible contact with us. If we win the revolution, we shall establish the power of Zionism upon the wreckage of the revolution's funeral, and we shall become a power before which the whole world will sink to its knees. We shall know what real power is. By means of terror & bloodbaths,we shall reduce the Russian intelligentsia to a state of complete stupefaction & idiocy and to an animal existence." Lenin said that "Three-quarters of mankind may die, if necessary, to ensure the other quarter for Communism".

Grigori Zinoviev, the head of the Jewish Communist International (Comintern), wrote in an article in the Krasnaya Gazeta, in 1918 where he stated, "We will make our hearts cruel, hard and immovable, so that no mercy will enter them, and so that they will not quiver at the sight of a sea of enemy blood. We will let loose the floodgates of that sea. Without mercy, without sparing, we will kill our enemies in scores of hundreds. Let them be thousands. Let them drown themselves in their own blood. Let there be floods of the blood of the bourgeois;more blood, as much as possible." (22)

Lazar Kaganovich



Lazar Kaganovich was a close associate of Joseph Stalin and the brother of Stalin's wife. As noted above, Kaganovich was the Jewish head of the CHEKA and famous for his purges of those who opposed Jewish control of the country, having ordered the deaths of millions. Kaganovich openly boasted of personal responsibility for killing at least twenty million people. It was Kaganovich also who presided over the total destruction of Christian churches and clergy, the man famous for standing atop the rubble of a Russian church and proclaiming, "Mother Russia has been cast down! We have torn away her skirts!". (23)

This Jew truly "made life a living hell" for the people of Russia, killing countless millions of innocent peasants in a sea of blood. Not everyone objected: One Jew in Hollywood was reported to have said, "You can't make an omelet without breaking eggs" and, in a statement variously attributed to both Stalin and Kaganovich, "The death of one man is a tragedy, the death of a million is a statistic."

On the other hand, the Jewish Virtual Library seems to know only that Kaganovich "managed the construction of the Moscow underground", and that, rather than being Stalin's main Jewish handler, his "subservience to Stalin was made abundantly clear" in some obscure article he supposedly wrote. (24) Kaganovich was just one of the Jewish mass murderers; there were many other Jews who contributed to the massacre of Russians under the cruelest circumstances.

Yakov Sverdlov

Yakov Sverdlov, known as the "devil of the revolution", was the Jew's executive secretary and head of the Jewish government. It was this man who created and unleashed what became known as "The Red Terror". It was also Sverdlov who initiated the so-called "decossackization", where about 1 million Don Cossacks were brutally killed, including women and infants, often by being buried alive. For the first several years after 1917, it seems that every single bloody action against the Russian people was instigated by Sverdlov, being "the brains of the party". The writer P. Paganuzi said that "the monstrous crimes of the [Jewish] Bolsheviks which exceeded all measures of cruelty, were committed on orders from the center, and the main responsibility for them lay with Sverdlovsk." (25) (26) (27) (28) (29)

It was Sverdlov who gave the order to kill the Russian Royal Family. "Research in 1990 by the Moscow playwright and historian Edvard Radzinsky uncovered Sverdlov's role in ordering the execution of Tsar Nicholas II and his family." The Jews were so proud of him that the city of Yekaterinburg where the Tsar and his family were killed, was renamed Sverdlovsk in his honor.

Genrikh Yagoda (real name: Genakh Gershenovich)

Genrikh Yagoda was described as "Stalin's leading terror chief responsible for keeping him in power", and who was unquestionably "one of the greatest Jewish mass murderers of the 20th Century". He was the GPU's deputy commander and the founder and commander of the NKVD. It was Yagoda who implemented the Collectivisation of peasant lands and crops and was responsible for the deaths of at least 10 million people. It was Yagoda's Jewish deputies who established & managed the Gulag system, of Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn fame. (30) Yagoda was later demoted and replaced as chief hangman by Nikolai Yezhov, "the bloodthirsty dwarf".

Lavrentiy Pavlovich Beria

Lavrentiy Beria, certainly Stalin's most powerful and vicious Jewish Lieutenant, was a mass murderer of peasants and a bloodthirsty sex maniac and pedophile who buried children in his basement, apparently many while still alive. Beria was the notorious police chief and powerful lieutenant who initiated the Katyn massacre. (31) Beria joined the CHEKA and became head of the NKVD in Georgia and eventually a member of the Central Committee of the Communist Party, then deputy prime minister and member of the Politburo. After Stalin's death in 1953, Beria attempted to replace him as dictator of the Soviet Union, but was defeated by Nikita Khrushchev, Molotov and Malenkov.

As an example of how history is spun, consider this apparently trivial statement: "Beria has long symbolized all the evils of Stalinism . . ." Stalinism? This immense Russian tragedy, planned and executed entirely by Jews, is suddenly reduced to a single adjective that pins the entire blame on one man not apparently Jewish. In fact, Beria symbolises all the evils of "Jewish-ism", still "haunting the public imagination both in the West and in the former Soviet Union". Yet the man's name (along with a few others) has been expunged from history and almost no one has heard of him.

Ilya Ehrenburg

There was also Ilya Ehrenburg, who is perhaps most famous as the Jew who taught people to hate – to "Kill all Germans because they are not human". (32) It was Ehrenburg who incited troops to rape and maim German, Polish, and Czech women as a form of punishment, as part of his agitation for genocide against all Germans. (33)

"The Germans are not human beings. From now on, the word 'German' is the most horrible curse. From now on, the word 'German' strikes us to the quick. We have nothing to discuss. We will not get excited. We will kill. If you have not killed at least one German a day, you have wasted that day … If you cannot kill a German with a bullet, then kill him with your bayonet. If your part of the front is quiet and there is no fighting, then kill a German in the meantime … If you have already killed a German, then kill another one – there is nothing more amusing to us than a heap of German corpses. Don't count the days, don't count the kilometers. Count only one thing: the number of Germans you have killed. Kill the Germans! … – Kill the Germans! Kill!"

And in another leaflet: "The Germans must be killed. One must kill them … Do you feel sick? Do you feel a nightmare in your breast? … Kill a German! If you are a righteous and conscientious man – kill a German! … Kill!" (34). But according to Wikipedia, Ehrenburg was a nice man, a quiet journalist who is most famous for his written works detailing "the genocide of Russian Jews". (35) Oddly, his fanatical writings demanding the genocide of all German Gentiles has been deleted by our history book publishers. (36)

And Many More

There was Leonid Reichman who was head of the NKVD's special department and the organization's chief interrogator, and a particularly cruel sadist. (37) There are many more, names that will mean little to you: Alexander Parvus, Solomon Lozovsky, Moisei Uritsky, Adolph Abramovich Joffe, Dmitry Bogrov, Lev Kamenev (real name Rosenfeld), Maxim Litvinov (born Meir Henoch Mojszewicz Wallach-Finkelstein), Karl Radek (real name Karol Sobelsohn), Grigori Zinoviev, Ilya Ehrenburg, Natalfy Frenkel, Mathias Berman. All Jewish mass murderers in their own right.

The Anonymity of the Jews

Who is Jew? Source

It is not always easy to know with certainty the Jewish identity of some people due to attempts of so many natures to disguise and obfuscate the facts. Merely by changing their names so often, Jews make the truth of their ethnicity difficult to discern. Lenin (Vladimir Ulyanov) was a Jew. (38) (39) (40) (41) It is widely speculated now that Stalin was a Georgian Jew, with even the Los Angeles B'nai B'rith Messenger crediting him as being a Jew. Certainly, he spoke Yiddish, he had three Jewish wives, and had no Gentiles anywhere in his inner circle. And certainly, part of the issue is that identifying Stalin as a Jew, eliminates his usefulness as a poster boy for Russian psychopathology, leaving no Gentile to blame for Jewish atrocities. As mentioned above, this permits the Jews to categorise the entire "Russian" revolution and all the atrocities as "Stalinism", i.e., an entirely Gentile event when the destruction of Russia and the extermination of more than 60 million Russians was entirely of Jewish creation and execution. It should be noted that Russia's population at the time, was only 125 million.

There are some Jewish websites such as Jew or Not Jew that are often very helpful in offering their determination of the ethnicity of various people, and usually one can write and ask for an opinion or determination. But there are some individuals who appear to be verboten in this respect. One such is Reimert Ravenholt, the former head of USAID, surely one of the greatest sociopaths and psychopaths of all time, having forcibly sterilised literally hundreds of millions of women in undeveloped countries, and causing only God knows how many deaths. I have attempted through these Jewish websites to obtain information or opinions on Ravenholt's ethnic background, and in only this one case have all websites unanimously refused to reply to me.

"The difficulty in arriving at an accurate understanding of the problem of the Jews lies in the fact that there is a distinct Jewish religion and a distinct Jewish race. Where one ends and the other begins. Jews will, however, reply with assurance that they are not a race but a religion and that to differentiate between them and other religious bodies is sheer prejudice and bald Anti-Semitism." (42)

"Judaism is a religion, not a nation." That may be true, but we aren't discussing the religion of Judaism; rather, we are focused on Jews as a people. The preceding statements deny that Jews are a people, a race, or a nation, and can be identified only as members of a religion. Well, maybe, but how is it that I – and hundreds of millions of others – can look at a face and tell you instantly that person is a Jew? It would be a very powerful religion indeed if it can alter the facial features of its adherents.

There is more to this. Many years ago, the Jewish Kehillah in New York heavily pressured the US government to avoid altogether the ethnic or racial identities of Jews and to record only their passport status. This resulted in the government having no firm knowledge of the number of Jews in the US, the NYC Kehilla being the only body possessing such records. The Jews have gone much further in the recent past by pressuring the US government to make illegal any request of a person's religion on the basis that this amounted to "religious discrimination". Having succeeded in this, the Jews then conflated the two and heavily promoted the thesis that "Jewishness" is solely a religion and not a race or nation, thus making it impossible to have any legal means to discover if someone is a Jew. Quite clever. And, since so many Jews frequently change their names, the identification effort becomes almost impossible.

Yet, the effort is necessary because it is only when we can make this identification that we can form the links necessary to connect all the dots and understand both our history and the current affairs of the world. It is only with this identification that we can realise that pornography is almost exclusively a Jewish talent, that the alphabet soup of "sexual preferences" is being promoted nearly entirely by Jews. It is only by this identification of Jews as a race and a nation that we can realise that the "Russian Revolution" was in actuality entirely a Jewish Revolution against Russia, and that the destruction and colonisation of Yugoslavia, Iraq and Libya were entirely Jewish events even though effected by the US military on the Jews' behalf. For example, the so-called "provisional orders" issued for the colonisation of Iraq by Paul Bremer, take on a very different light when we learn that Bremer, the "Temporary President of Iraq" was a Jew, and a close affiliate of Henry Kissinger. (43) Bremer was clearly taking his direction from the City of London and not from George Bush. Thus, Iraq was also a "Jewish Revolution", as were Yugoslavia and Libya.

There is yet more. I once had an acquaintance in Shanghai named Steven Wood – hardly a name one would identify as a Jew. At the time, Steven had a high HR position with Huawei, and confided that he possessed both American and Israeli passports and traveled to Israel several times a year. One day he sent me a file of about 50Mb, if I recall correctly, containing the technical details of all of Huawei's products. I was surprised because it seemed to me that was information he should not have had, since engineering and design were not part of his job description. He never told me anything directly but, from the context, I assumed that whenever he traveled to Israel all of Huawei's information went with him. Huawei of course would have no way of knowing they had been infiltrated.

Given the difficulties, it is possible to make occasional errors in the identification, and classify someone provisionally as a Jew when they are not. I would argue that such occasional errors are almost always trivial. Most of those so identified are dead, and these errors, though unfortunate, are unlikely to do particular harm. This is by no means an excuse for carelessness or a casual attitude, but I would argue that so much is at stake that "it is better to be safe than sorry".

There are many other items of immense historical significance whose flavor is considerably altered if we can accurately make these identifications. For example, the greatest criminal organisation in the history of the world was Rothschild's British East India Company, followed closely by the Dutch East India Company, both of which were created and controlled by Jews. Rothschild and his Jews killed at least 200 million people in India by execution and famine, with some estimations being much higher. Similarly, the business of growing opium in India and forcing it onto China, were entirely Jewish enterprises – which our history books, thanks to Jewish publishers, blame on "the British". Again, Rothschild and Sassoon killed that least 100 million in China by slaughter and at least an additional 50 million by other means. The CIA's MK-ULTRA program was entirely Jewish at the top and at least through the middle ranks, with atrocities that may never have an equal. The decision to do incendiary bombing of Germany's residential areas was the result of one of Churchill's Jewish advisors. Similarly, Holland's Tulip Bubble and the South Seas Bubble were Jewish concoctions. There is so much more.

Enormous historical crimes are thus covered up, with the blame assigned to the wrong persons and leaving the Jews free to present themselves as the world's victims instead of the perpetrators.

I would add a final note. Readers often complain they are unable to locate evidence of certain historical events such as the expulsions of Jews from Cuba or China, stating that their searches uncover nothing. They seem unable to fathom that Google heavily censors any topic dealing with the Jews, with Israel, with history (especially any history involving the Jews), with most political topics and much more. It is almost amusing that Google has no knowledge of the expulsion of Jews from China after the war, but instead knows a great deal about Jews who remained in China and who carried much influence. As someone wrote, "It would be better to not know so many things, than to know so many things that are wrong."

It shouldn't be necessary to point out that Google is as Jewish as Israel, and that the historical facts it permits to escape through the net on these topics, are those with a particular propaganda point of view and are, more often than not, factually wrong. For this reason, and because Google assiduously tracks (and saves in perpetuity) every search, every topic, every keyword, every clicked link, every website visited, I haven't used Google for 20 years.

And, in spite of having no Google-related programs or apps on my computers, I am still warned of more than 500 attempts every month by Google attempting to track my online movements.

The Jewish Pogroms

Refugees try to escape the Ukraine flood by hopping onto a train. Some cling to the roof to get out. Ukraine, USSR. 1933.Wikimedia Commons. Source

These were events of punishment (by imprisoning or killing Jews) in Russia and some other countries, events which are presented (and which may have been) "witch hunts" against Jews for the crimes committed during and after the Revolution of 1917.

We have all seen enough of the Dr. Zhivago and Fiddler on the Roof-type movies to give us a sense of the sympathy-seeking approach by the Jews about the Russian Revolution. Because of their media and Hollywood control, much or even most of the world's public consciousness about this enormous event has been resolved to only two items: One, Stalin was evil, and two, the Jews in Russia suffered terribly from these "anti-Semitic" pogroms, persecutions which the ever-chaste and stellarly-virginal Jews absolutely did not deserve because no Jew anywhere has ever done anything to anybody. It is almost unimaginable that the Jews have so much control over the media and book publishing that they have been able to perpetrate such an enormous and truly unforgivable hoax on the world's public consciousness. Compared to what the Jews did to the Russian people, the so-called "pogroms" were too trivial to warrant mention.

I am obviously of Russian extraction. If you and your friends come to my country, brutally exterminate nearly half of our population, kill my King and his entire family and steal most of the Royal Treasures, torture millions, create famines to kill millions more, destroy the nation and the economy, then loot my country of most of its most priceless art treasures while also emptying my government's central bank on your way out, I might be tempted to hunt you down and kill you too.

Epilogue

"We mustn't forget that some of greatest [mass] murderers of modern times were Jewish."

> Does anyone recall Hitler writing: "The Jews are not human beings. From now on, the word 'Jew' is the most horrible curse. The Jews must be killed. One must kill them … If you cannot kill a Jew with a bullet, then kill him with your bayonet … Kill a Jew! If you are a righteous and conscientious man – kill a Jew! If you have already killed a Jew, then kill another one… Kill!"

No, of course not. Then, it is reasonable to ask why Hitler has become the poster boy for historical atrocities when most of these Jews were far worse, especially considering that much, if not most, of the so-called Nazi atrocities were merely "atrocity porn" proven later to have been entirely fabricated by the Jews.

> Why is it that we are inundated with tales of Hitler's evils, both real and imaginary, but we have never heard of Beria, Kaganovich, Yagoda, Ehrenberg or Sverdlov?
> Who is it that controls the media and the book publishers?
> Who is it that labels you an "anti-Semitic Nazi Jew-hater" for revealing historical truths?

Think of the attitudes of the Jews mentioned in this article, of their actions. What kind of man boasts about having personal responsibility for killing "at least" 20 million innocent people? What kind of man says "If you are righteous and conscientious, kill a German"?

What kind of man confiscates all the farm crops and thus sentences tens of millions to die?

These are the Khazar Jews, as murderous and savage today as they were 700 years ago.

Brutal massacre of Palestinian protesters in the Gaza Strip by the Israeli regime on 2018. Source

Moreover, these are the same people who today populate the City of London which is where the planning for all these atrocities has originated for centuries and continues still. Today, they dress nicely, drink afternoon tea with Royalty, and always brush their teeth after every meal. But they are responsible for one million deaths in Iraq, and many more recent tragedies. If COVID-19 was planned, this is where it was planned. These are the people who want a Third World War with Russia, China and Iran, and they will almost certainly have it because the Americans so under their control are stupid enough to launch it.

The end.

Chapter 6 – Jews and Revolutions

Introduction

Much of the so-called "history" we were taught in our schools has not been so accurate as we might have believed. In particular, the book publishers, with cunning aforethought, have managed to eliminate much of the most important information necessary to give us a real understanding of the world in which we live. After the elimination of perhaps 50% of the crucial facts, much of the remainder that has been presented to us is factually false. Even worse, they have managed to construct a disconnected historical narrative consisting of sound bytes that appear unrelated and thus prevent us from being able to connect the necessary dots to see the overall picture as it really is (or has been). To make matters worse, our teachers, having been educated in this same system, are themselves ignorant of most of the crucial facts. In this essay, I will attempt to present some major sections of an important segment of our history so the relations can be made and the picture discerned as a whole.

Contrary to our propagandised history texts, revolutions have seldom resulted from a 'spontaneous combustion of the social order' as someone wrote. Most often, the match is lit by some "secret agency that conceals itself in the shadowy sanctuaries of certain forms of Freemasonry" that inevitably has "a distinctly Jewish" origin. Our recorded history has in every case omitted the ethnic identities of the instigators and main players and, with few exceptions (France and Russia, most notably), has buried the fact of these revolutions altogether. The European countries had two waves of revolutions about 100 years apart, directed to the overthrow of monarchies, but this was only the beginning. Few seem aware today that the Communist movement was more or less 100% a Jewish creation, one bent on fostering revolutions not only in Europe but throughout the world. We had Trotsky and Lenin in Russia, the Jewish Masonic lodges in France, a successful coup in Mongolia, Bela Kun in Hungary, Rosa Luxembourg in Germany, attempted Communist revolutions in the US (Emma Goldman) and Canada, China (Voitinsky), Bettelheim (Austria), and many more.

Some Historical Background

They were entirely Turkic and Eastern European, genetically more closely related to the Hun, Uigur and Magyar tribes than to the seed of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob (2 – p. 17)

The paragraphs immediately following are an abbreviated extract from an earlier article titled, "It's Time to Trash Democracy — Part 1 – The Origin". (1)

Most everyone knows that the Jews have for centuries been expelled repeatedly from nation after nation, at least for the past 700 or 800 years, the expulsions often occurring every 50 years or so. This much is well-documented, but it is interesting that no one seems to have paid attention to precisely when these expulsions ceased or, more importantly, why they ceased. We need to retrace some history from Eastern Europe.

Many centuries ago, the Eastern confines of Europe between the Caucasus and the Volga were ruled by a Jewish state known as the Khazar Empire, (2) (3) the peak of its power from the seventh to the tenth centuries, AD. The Khazars were a people of Turkish stock who, for reasons unclear, chose to adopt Judaism as their religion in about 750 AD, but of critical importance is that they were not Jews, not in any sense of the meaning of that word. They were entirely Turkic and Eastern European, genetically more closely related to the Hun, Uigur and Magyar tribes than to the seed of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. (2 – p. 17)

Fragment of Giovanni Gasparro painting – Martyrdom of Saint Simonino from Trent. Source

The Khazars were nomadic warriors, "wild men with hideous faces and the manners of wild beasts, eaters of blood". An Armenian writer refers to the "horrible multitude". They were without doubt one of the most violent and cruel of the animal species that have ever inhabited the earth, with no use for life other than their own. The Khazars were so violent, brutal, and savage a people that they are described to be "feared and abhorred above all peoples in that region of the world". Little is known of their origin because Jewish historians and book publishers have written them out of our history and do their best today to deny even the existence of these people. These Eastern European Khazars were without question the most hated and feared peoples of all Europe at the time, perhaps in all of history. Their blood-thirstiness and cruelty were legendary, to say nothing of their greed. (4) (5) It will be of significance that prior to the time they adopted Judaism, the Khazar religion was one of phallic worship.

The Khazar Empire came to an end when the peoples of Europe, unable to tolerate their savage brutality, bound together, exterminated the Empire and scattered the surviving Khazars to the four winds. They were defeated primarily by the Russians in about 965 AD but persisted to some significant degree, suffering various additional exterminations until the late 1300s when Genghis Khan cleaned them out and occupied almost all their prior territory. The Khazars simply 'disappeared' from history, to be replaced by "Jews" who suddenly appeared almost everywhere at the same time. These dispersed survivors remained nomads, people of no nation and no place – and of no loyalty to any people, nation, or place. And, as Koestler points out, this is "the cradle of the numerically strongest and culturally dominant part of modern Jewry". And indeed, I have read Jewish publications which state flatly that (to paraphrase, but accurately) "one might as well say there are no more 'real Jews' left in the world, that at least 95% of all Jews are European Khazars". They give real Jews a bad name.

Greed drove this Khazarian diaspora to banking and money, while their native brutality lent itself well to slave-trading, all occupations they have pursued ever since. Their natural homelessness and fundamental dissimilarity with other human tribes were perhaps responsible for their lack of loyalty to any nation or peoples, and their apparently innate cruel brutality, along with their apparently also innate sexual perversions, accounted for their drift to occupations like slave-trading, kidnapping countless young women for sale in harems around the world and for kidnapping and castrating young men to serve as eunuchs in these same harems. The latter may also have accounted for their sudden shift to Judaism, the Babylonian Talmud resonating well with their sexual proclivities, a kind of 'kindred spirit' to which they were quite disposed and receptive. Their violent and independent nature also manifested in a powerful unwillingness to accept subjection or subordination to ruling power, and most definitely rejected assimilation.

Their problems were many. These Khazars (now our "so-called" Jews) were also bitterly hated for their tax-farming. The process was simple. They would approach a monarch with a proposition to pay the entire tax revenue of his kingdom annually in advance, in a lump sum, in return for which they would have the right to levy and collect taxes from the citizenry during the ensuing year, to recover their 'investment' and make a profit. The theory was sound; the practice brutal. These so-called Jews would create, levy and collect taxes in kind and volume that would stagger the imagination and eventually bankrupt an entire nation. Many a monarch would discover the tax collections progressing without limit until the entire kingdom was on the verge of a revolution, at which point these so-called Jews would be expelled from the country, sometimes permitted to take their booty with them, sometimes it being confiscating on exit. In every case, this "Jewish" diaspora pushed matters to the point where a mass expulsion was considered the only salvation of a country.

We have been for generations exposed to tales of 'the Jews' being expelled from various nations for reasons of anti-Semitism, but this was never true. First, and again, these people were not Jews, and they were expelled for their crimes and their greed, unrelated to their (false) ethnic origin. It seems unknown today that the expulsions never really ceased. Cuba expelled all the Jews after the revolution. Japan expelled all the Jews in two waves prior to WWII, and Mao's first act on assuming power was to expel all the Jews from China. Germany attempted the same (to Madagascar) prior to WWII, but failed. These were all for similar reasons, and many more such exist today.

The Roots of Revolution

We can imagine that these repeated expulsions from dozens of countries perhaps every 50 years or so, for hundreds of years would become inconvenient and tiresome. The primary issue was that people were subject to the whim of a monarch – of one man – who had the power and the might to expel them and confiscate their assets at his pleasure. Subversion and revolution may not have been so difficult when we consider that monarchs were often uncompromising and brutal to their own populations as well.

The Jews produced two rounds of revolutions in Europe when they sensed the expulsion winds blowing, the first set producing no lasting benefit to our Khazars, one unfriendly monarch quickly being replaced by another of similar sentiment and with similar concerns for his own longevity.

The Khazarian Jews found a better way. The conception was brilliant, the process simple, the theory eminently seductive. "We don't need a king. A country is easy to manage. We can form a government from the people. We can rule ourselves. No more useless wars, no more punishing taxes, no monarch living in luxury while we starve. We can do this ourselves, and be free." And of course, the Jews could guide the people to the formation of an effective government, primarily by creating two "parties" from which the people could choose, and with the ability to eject one party if unsatisfactory and select the other, thus keeping them "honest". We know how that turned out.

The Death of Socrates by Jacques-Louis David in 1787. Source

The peasants were ecstatic with visions of sugar plums dancing in their heads, while the elites were even more ecstatic because they realised from the outset that government leaders could come only from their group. These so-called Jews were offering the elites total control of their entire country, and were willing to finance the transition. How could you refuse an offer like this? To put this into perspective, the entire story unfolded over 200 or more years, involved thousands of Khazars, sometimes acting independently but often in concert, and with mistakes, lapses and learning before the final product was firmly established. So, in this sense, it is a bit simplistic to simply say "The Jews created democracy". Nevertheless, this is how it happened. This was the genesis of democracy, at least of the multi-party form of electoral system we have today.

The reason it happened this way is because a multi-party electoral system is the only government system that can be completely corrupted and controlled from behind the scenes with that corruption and control institutionalised in perpetuity. It is true that any kind of government can be corrupt, but the multi-party "democratic" system was created to be corruptible in all its constituent elements and where each individual politician could be bought, with the entire population being exploited, this process having now been developed to a fine art. At first, party leaders developed a machine, each to impress its views on the people, but quickly "the party machine" took charge of the process and all control was assumed by those in charge of that machine. The result was that neither the politicians nor the people today have any influence in the process which is controlled in the background for everything from financing to policy.

This is the reason the Jews, through their control of the media and publishing, have promulgated "democracy" ceaselessly as a religion so holy that even to examine or question it constitutes blasphemy of the highest order. It has been so successful that there are precious few "democracies" today that are not effectively controlled by Jews in the background – our so-called "Deep State". The US is widely-known as a Jewish state, but Canada, Germany, Sweden, Ukraine, the Netherlands, England, France, Italy, Australia, and all the others are not better. Even Japan is factually a Jewish colony.

The Color of Revolutions

The Uprising by Kliment Redko, 1924-1925, in The State Tretyakov Gallery, Moscow. Source

Our revolutionary picture is muddy and clouded because we have had several other categories of Jew-induced revolutions, some of which coincided with the removal of a monarch (notably the French Revolution) while others were for a vast social upheaval and the replacement of any government with a Communist elite (Russia, Germany, Hungary, Austria, Spain). There is yet another entire category which we can loosely call "Color Revolutions" which were meant to replace existing (non-Jewish) governments with new ones that would be controlled by Jews. One of the greatest such attempts was the violence in China in 1989, the so-called "Tiananmen Square Incident", which was entirely a (failed) organised attempt by Worldwide Jewry at a Color Revolution in China. If you are interested to know more, I believe this is recognised as the definitive article on the subject. (6) Ukraine was another (successful one), and there were many more such attempts.

There are other categories too. The American Revolution was unrelated to slavery but was really a "War of Financial Disobedience" inflicted on the US by the European Jewish bankers, primarily Rothschild. There are others, as well as wars instigated, Presidential assassinations committed, and other mortal sins, all from the same source and for similar political reasons.

The truth is that in all the past revolutionary movements there is plain evidence of a common design. This was true of the two series of European revolutions meant to depose existing monarchies, of the long series of Communist revolutions meant to replace the existing social orders, of the series of so-called "Color Revolutions" meant to replace existing governments with new regimes under Jewish control. To this we could add the 50 or so so-called 'revolutions' where the European Jewish bankers in the City of London replaced functioning legitimate governments with brutal dictatorships (Latin America, Africa), for both financial and political gain, in all cases using the US CIA and military as the Bankers Private Army. Today, they destroy countries to "make the world safe for democracy", but first they needed to destroy countries to make the world safe for the Jews.

Prior to and following WWI, there was a long series of serious revolutionary outbreaks in Portugal, Prussia, Bavaria, Hungary, Holland, Switzerland, France, Denmark, Turkey, and many more. In all of these instances, the same "foreign influence" was primarily responsible but history seems to have deleted not only the instigators but the events themselves.

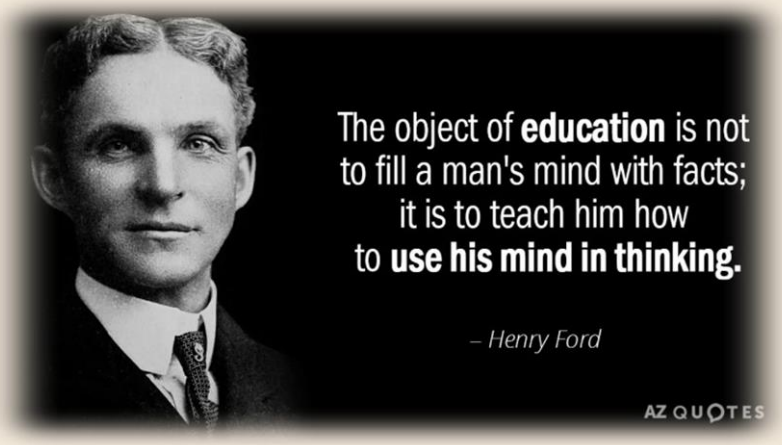
Benjamin Disraeli, in his book "Coningsby", written in 1844, wrote "that mighty Revolution which is at this moment preparing in Germany, and which will be, in fact, a second and greater Reformation, and of which so little is yet known in England, is developing entirely under the auspices of Jews." And of course, the two Jews primarily behind that 'reformation' were Ferdinand Lassalle and Karl Marx. "Political freedom is an idea but not a fact. This idea one must know how to use as a bait to attract the masses of the people so as to crush those in authority."

Winston Churchill, Britain's future Prime Minister, railed against "the schemes of the International Jews" as follows:

> "This movement among the Jews is not new. From the days of Weishaupt to those of Karl Marx, and down to Trotsky (Russia), Bela Kun (Hungary), Rosa Luxembourg (Germany), and Emma Goldman (United States), this worldwide conspiracy for the overthrow of civilization and for the reconstitution of society on the basis of arrested development, envious malevolence, and impossible equality, has been steadily growing. It played, as a modern writer Mrs. (Nesta) Webster has so ably shown, a definitely recognizable part in the tragedy of the French Revolution. It has been the mainspring of every subversive movement during the Nineteenth Century; and now at last this band of extraordinary personalities from the underworld of the great cities of Europe and America have gripped the Russian people by the hair of their heads and have become practically the undisputed masters of that enormous empire." (7)

Many books have been written on this topic from the late 1800s to the middle and late 1900s, but these books are no longer in vogue, are not referenced or cited by anyone, and probably not read by academics anywhere, their attention having been directed to more "approved" topics. Thus, the knowledge falls out of the world's consciousness. Some people today try to tell us, but few listen. Carroll Quigley uncovered and revealed part of the plot, but the printing plates to his books were destroyed and publishers forbidden to resurrect them.

Henry Ford and The Protocols



The object of education is not to fill a man's mind with facts; it is to teach him how to use his mind in thinking.
– Henry Ford
AZ QUOTES

Henry Ford's long series of essays titled "The International Jew – The World's Foremost Problem", (8) written in the early 1920s, tried to bring public attention to the matter of Jewish-instigated revolutions and much more, his writings being of perhaps even more importance today. Benjamin Freedman, who had been an advisor to five US Presidents, wrote some articles that revealed much of the buried history of the Jews. (9) (10). An exceptionally-informed book titled "The Cause of World Unrest" was written by Howell Arthur Gwynne, the Editor of the London Morning Post from 1911 to 1937, one I have used in part as a reference for this article and which is eminently worth reading. (11)

Gwynne wrote:

> "Lately there has been published both in America and England a translation of a work entitled "The Protocols of the Elders of Zion." It is difficult to say whether or not it is a genuine document. But today, after our experience of the War, the Peace Conference, and the doings of the Jews in Russia, it has received everywhere a great deal of earnest study and consideration. Many of its prophecies are being fulfilled before our eyes and, because of this, we are justified in giving to it a greater credence than could have been possible ten years ago. Jewish writers and newspapers have denied with indignation the authenticity of the protocols. But even if indisputable proof were adduced tomorrow that they are a forgery, there would still be asked the same question which the protocols have provoked and are provoking every day. Have the Jews a foreign policy of their own with a definite end in view? It would be difficult to deny to that section of Jewry which is best described as political, a definite national policy."

> "And if we consider the internal evidence fairly it amounts to this: that the document predicts a world revolution, and a world revolution carried out by a Jewish organization, and that the revolution now in progress — the Bolshevist Revolution — is in fact carried on mainly by Jews, and is an attempt at a world revolution. There we must leave it. If our readers believe that such a prophecy could have been made without foreknowledge by some anti-Semitic fanatic, then, of course, they will not accept the document as genuine. If, on the other hand, they believe that such a hypothesis is untenable, then there is only the alternative that the document is genuine."

Gwynne writes further:

> "Time and again they have been used with most barefaced effrontery as a means of producing results which they themselves never desired." This much is certainly true. There is no question the Jews in the City of London wanted to cause the breakup of Yugoslavia, and that they used the auspices of Harvard University's "Albert Einstein Institution", Gene Sharp being the facilitator. Sharp's Otpor Manual, a pathetically-fictitious instruction for "non-violent struggle" that culminated in one of the most violent episodes in our Earth's recent history, beginning with the destruction of Serbia but ending with countless hundreds of > thousands of deaths and one of the greatest programs of ethnic cleansing we have ever seen. When we think of the breakup of Yugoslavia, the deaths and migrations, there is no one who wanted that or foresaw the result, except for the Jews who initiated it. Talking today to those young people in Serbia who so eagerly adopted Sharp's Satanic mission, none wanted the result that was actually achieved, and in fact were horrified to witness what they had unleashed. They were, as are university students everywhere, merely unwitting and manipulated tools in someone else's grand scheme.

Gwynne again:

> "We are seeing today how the exploitation of the people can be achieved with comparative ease because the people throughout the civilised world is enfranchised and there is no one to stand between the exploiters and the exploited. If we look back in history, we shall find that the disappearance of this intermediate influence has not been altogether fortuitous. . . [There are] threads of a conspiracy engineered by people whose main object has been to destroy utterly anything – kings, governments, or institutions – which might stand between them and the people they would exploit."

> "The famous protocols may or may not be genuine, but even the most skeptical must admit that they are the abstract of a philosophy which may be devilish, but which is certainly coherent, and that in many important points they not only anticipate, but explain, some of the ills from which the world is at present suffering."

I would add that the US government and military studied this document extensively at the time (around 1920) and pronounced it genuine.

The World's Revolutions

This is an enormous topic which would require a library to do it justice. I will simply touch on some of the revolutions and revolutionary attempts, and which can do no more than provide some indication of the vastness, on the content and intent of those plans. I will omit the so-called "Russian Revolution" from this discussion because it deserves its own exposition and, more menacingly, illustrates the enormous savage brutality of the instigators. I say 'so-called' Russian Revolution because it was in no sense Russian but instead was entirely a Jewish Revolution against Russia. It may not have escaped the notice of readers that another such 'revolution' is in the planning today – and by the same people.

We already know about Iraq and Libya with their now totally Jewish-controlled governments and central banks, and we see what is happening in Syria, Yemen and other nearby nations. The main obstacles still preventing worldwide control are China, Russia and Iran, so it is not a surprise that all current media venom is directed against these three countries which must either be taken over or destroyed. Revolutions would appear to be a non-starter. The Jews tried to launch a "Jasmine Revolution" in China a few years ago, with the only result being then-US Ambassador Jon Huntsman putting his tail between his legs and running for cover from an angry mob in downtown Beijing. Indeed, popular domestic support for the leaders is very high with at least 80% in Russia and 90%-95% in China and Iran. This leaves World War Three as the only possible solution, one that would hopefully destroy these three nations in the process, leaving the field clear for a new World Government.

"Let Them Eat Cake" – The French Revolution

Lord Acton, in his Essays on the French Revolution, wrote "The appalling thing is not the tumult but the design. Through all the fire and smoke we perceive the evidence of calculating organization. The managers remain studiously concealed and masked, but there is no doubt about their presence from the first."

My recollection from High School of this part of history is that the peasants revolted against Royalty and the elite class, for various wrongs that included lack of food bordering on starvation – the most notable propaganda representing which, would be the above comment attributed to Marie Antoinette – and the callous lack of concern thereof.

The above quote supposedly would reflect Queen Marie Antoinette's obliviousness to the condition of the people but, while it has been commonly attributed to her, there is no record of these words ever having been uttered by her. They appear in Jean-Jacques Rousseau's "Confessions", his autobiography, whose first six books were written in 1765, when Marie Antoinette was nine years of age. (Rousseau was Jewish). It is worth noting that these words were never cited by opponents of the monarchy at the time of the French Revolution, but seemed to acquire great symbolic importance in subsequent histories when pro-revolutionary historians sought to demonstrate the obliviousness and selfishness of the French upper-classes at that time.

However, the French Revolution itself produces serious evidence of not having been a spontaneous event in any sense, but instead having been conspired, planned, and executed by various parties entirely for their own ends. It doesn't require much cynicism to observe that this really seems, at least superficially, a case of blaming the victims for the crime. There now appears a significant portion of history telling us that the Masonic Lodges and various Jewish groups – both international and in France – actively planned this revolution.

According to the emerging historical evidence, the food shortages in France at the time were intentionally created to trigger the Revolution. The claims are made, and they appear substantial, that grains and other food stocks were purchased by those with money and removed from the market – stored and hidden – to deliberately lead the population to the brink of starvation and thereby promoting a widespread revolt. A group of Jewish bankers bought up and put into storage the entire grain crop of France, and refused to let it onto the market at any price. The people literally had no bread to eat. Hence, our revolution.

As Henry Ford wrote in one of his articles: "For five generations the world has lived in a false light supposed to be shed by the French Revolution. It is now known that that revolution was not the Revolution of the French People, but the disorders of a minority who sought to impose upon the French People the very Plan which is now being considered.

It was the French People who ultimately put down the so-called French Revolution. [But] France, as a result of that upheaval of a well-organized minority, has been bound by Jewish control ever since."

The Little Engine That Couldn't – Emma Goldman and the Failed US Revolution

Emma Goldman. Source

Goldman emigrated from Russia as a teen-ager and soon began promulgating various models of society based primarily on the two pillars of political anarchy and promiscuous sex. Her widespread and excessively vocal promotion of these ideals earned Goldman the label of being one of the two most dangerous anarchists in America. Goldman's actual purpose was to foment a Communist revolution in the US, following the pattern these people had laid with their revolutions in Russia, Hungary, Germany, and other countries. But, in the end, Goldman didn't accomplish as much anarchy as she might have done, mostly because she discovered she was more interested in sex than politics. (12)

Goldman and her lover Berkman (a kind of political Bonnie and Clyde) conspired to kill then-US President William McKinley. (13) (14) The police were never able to link Goldman directly to McKinley's murder, though the assassin had frequently met with her and claimed to have acted under her instructions. It wasn't only a US President who was targeted by Goldman and her group. They attempted to kill several other public figures, their plan to bomb John D. Rockefeller's mansion in New York City failing only because the bomb exploded prematurely, killing a dozen or so anarchists while destroying much of Goldman's home in the process. One of Goldman's anarchists named Carlo Valdinoci blew up the front of Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer's home in Washington, D.C., also blowing himself up in the process when the bomb exploded too early. (15) And some other good tries. (16) (17)

The US was at the time panicking over the Russian and other European Revolutions and was not blind to the fact that so many Jewish Communists were migrating to the US – many under pressure from the Jewish lobby which was already powerful enough to demand that only the nationality of these immigrants be recorded and not the fact that they were either Jews or Communists. In any case, the fear of these communists was the starting point of McCarthyism in the US. It is true that McCarthy went too far, but America had very good reasons to have a dread fear of the Communists and their incipient domestic Communist Revolution. But the unforgivable deception was that all this fear and hatred of what were in fact Jewish Communists – mostly from Russia – was subverted and turned onto Russia itself and the USSR, instead of remaining with the primarily Jewish Communists who were responsible for the entire mess of upheavals in Europe for a period of 20 or 30 years.

One article titled, "Fear of Dissent: The Case Against the "Reds", by the US Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer, clearly outlines the dangers being faced to US society, morals and religion, seeking to replace them with the same perverted "values" as done by Bela Kun in Hungary. He states pointedly that "communism in this country was an organization of thousands of aliens who were direct allies of Trotsky", without mentioning that Trotsky was Jewish and that all these "direct allies" were also Jewish. In the end, everything was blamed on "Russia", although Russia as a country was innocent of the Bolshevik Revolution imposed upon it by Trotsky and his band of Jewish revolutionaries shipped there from the USA.

Other American Revolutions

Andrew Jackson was no sooner elected President than he was the target of an assassination attempt by a gunman named Richard Lawrence, who confessed to the police that that he had been "in touch with the powers in Europe". Despite the obvious danger to his life, Jackson refused to renew the bank's charter and the US national debt went to zero for the first and last time in the nation's history. But in retaliation, the Bank's president Nicholas Biddle, an agent for the Paris-based Jacob Rothschild, immediately cut off all funding to the US government and plunged the country into a deep depression. Simultaneously, the same bankers plunged the US into a war with Mexico, greatly exacerbating the economic hardship and once again offering the US president an opportunity to clarify his thinking. (18)

The bankers' incitement of wars of clarification in America included the US civil war which, contrary to popular belief, was not about slavery but about political and financial control of the US. There is more than ample evidence that the severe divisions within the country which led to the American civil war were deliberately inflicted upon the US by these same bankers, who were fulfilling their warning delivered more than ten years earlier that disobedience would be punished by the crafting and imposition of a civil war. Their plan, which succeeded admirably, was "to exploit the question of slavery and thus to dig an abyss between the two parts of the Republic", thereby throwing the new nation into a bitter civil war with the intent of ending with two weak and easily-controlled republics instead of one strong one.

Germany's Chancellor Otto Von Bismarck claimed the European bankers were responsible for the American Civil War, stating "The division of the United States was decided by the high financial powers of Europe", and van Helsing wrote "The reasons leading to this civil war were almost completely due to the Rothschild agents", one of whom was George Bickly who persuaded the Confederate States of the advantages of secession from the Union, thereby precipitating the American civil war. All American history texts attribute the civil war to slavery disputes, constituting one of the greatest lies and historical revisions existing in any nation.

In any case, the bankers did succeed in their incitement to violence, and the Civil War was unleashed on the US, with the London bankers backing the Union and the French bankers backing the South. Everyone made a fortune and by 1861 the US was $100 million in debt. At this time, Abraham Lincoln became the new President and snubbed the bankers by issuing US government currency popularly known as Greenbacks to pay Union Army bills without incurring debt to the Rothschilds.

At the time, the Rothschild-controlled Times of London wrote: "If that mischievous policy, which had its origins in the North American Republic, should become indurated down to a fixture, then that Government will furnish its own money without cost. It will pay off its debts and be without debt. It will have all the money necessary to carry on its commerce. It will become prosperous beyond precedent in the history of the civilized governments of the world. The brains and the wealth of all countries will go to North America. That government must be destroyed, or it will destroy every monarchy on the globe."

Canada

Death of General Wolfe by Benjamin West, 1770

This history has been mostly deleted and few even in Canada are aware of the Jewish Communists' "program of violence and hypocrisy" in Canada, where the [Communist] movement was very closely connected with the powerful revolutionary organisations in the US. Toronto and Winnipeg (cities with heavy Jewish populations) had many Bolshevik societies, of which the members were almost entirely Russian Jews.

They organised extensive riots in many cities, aligning their revolutionary intent with unrelated protests by war veterans. They created sufficient violence that the protests eventually had to be terminated by considerable force from the Canadian RCMP. Their program was based on a demand for the overthrow of what they called the "damnable trinity of Religion (Christianity), Government, and Capitalism." (19) (20)

England and World Revolution

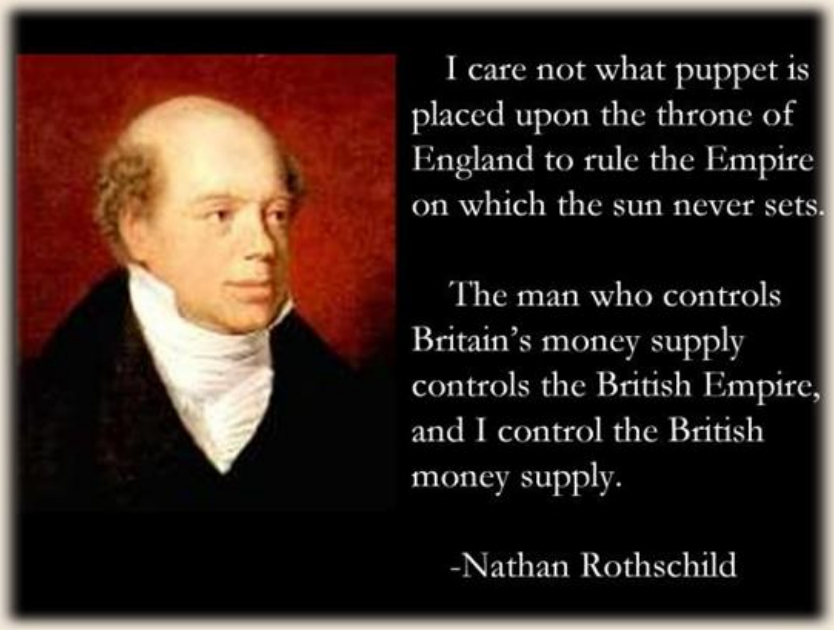
Dr. Hermann Gorter. Source

"Before a revolution can take place in any country, much preparatory work must be done. A revolutionary situation must first be created, and if the natural conditions of society do not tend in this direction, efforts must be made to force them into the right channel for revolution. This is the purpose of the revolutionary Socialists and Syndicalists in this country. Our revolutionaries, working in conjunction with foreign revolutionaries, who are mainly International Jews, have to find ways and means of creating in Great Britain an industrial crisis of such a magnitude that a revolution will be practically inevitable. This is the immediate problem of the revolutionary movement." It is notable that much of the direction of these Communist revolutions appears to have come from the Netherlands – which has always been a Jewish colony.

After the Russian Revolution, the Jewish Press displayed an alarming affection for Communist ideology in England, and openly encouraged "a dangerous campaign" of Bolshevik propaganda. "It was admitted by Trotsky and by Dr. Hermann Gorter, author of 'The World Revolution', that their plans for a worldwide revolution could not be successful so long as there was a united British Empire. This was also the opinion of Karl Marx. The problem of the international organizers of revolution consists of (a) how to destroy Britain's industrial prosperity, and (b) how to break up the British Empire." And of course, the two World Wars accomplished precisely this. In the first war, England lost a full 40% of her Empire, and the second war completed the process with the Empire gone and England facing bankruptcy.

England was spared because of the incestuous relationship between the British Royal Family and the Rothschilds (primarily), who became partners in looting the world – primarily India and China, with Britain's Royal Family (Queen Victoria, most notably), sharing in the wholesale looting of India and the profits from the opium travesties of Rothschild and Sassoon. Ireland and Scotland also both had periods where the Jews tried to put their Bolshevik theories into practice, but failed.

Ireland



I care not what puppet is placed upon the throne of England to rule the Empire on which the sun never sets.
The man who controls Britain's money supply controls the British Empire, and I control the British money supply.
-Nathan Rothschild

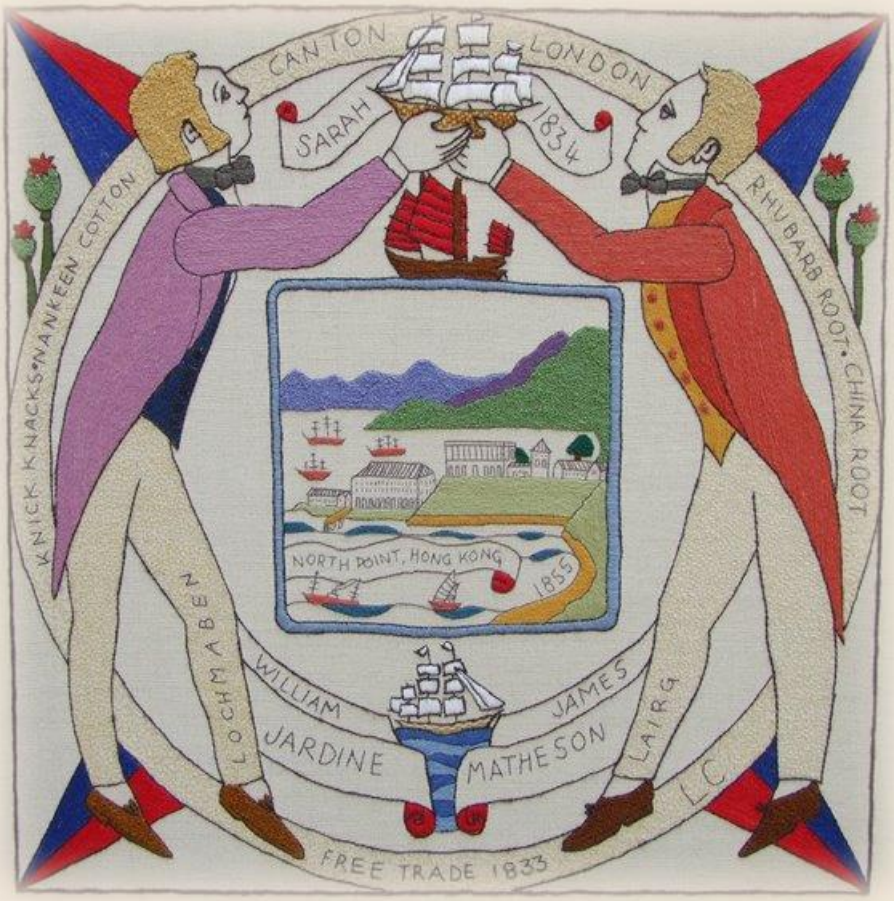
The Jewish Communists had a strange fixation on Ireland as a focal point for revolution. Marx wrote:

> "Ireland is the stronghold of English landed aristocracy. The exploitation of this country is not only the main source of the national wealth, it forms likewise England's greatest mora] strength. It represents, in fact, the domination of England over Ireland. Ireland, therefore, is the great expedient, by means of which the English aristocracy maintains its domination in England itself. On the other hand, withdraw the English Army and police from Ireland tomorrow and you will straightway have an agrarian revolution in Ireland. The fall of the English aristocracy in Ireland, however, needs must imply and inevitably leads to their overthrow in England. Through this the primal condition for the proletarian revolution in England would be fulfilled."

"For no country is this more true than for Ireland. If Ireland should become independent, Great Britain would be struck to the very foundations. Now, therefore, it is the duty of all British Communists to demand the complete independence of Ireland, and to take all the measures required to bring it about, and for the entire Third International this is of the utmost importance. Again, England is the rock on which Capitalism is firmly rooted, the bulwark of world Capitalism, the hope of all counter-revolution and all reaction. But Ireland is the Achilles's heel of England. For the revolution on the European continent, therefore for the world revolution, it is a vital question that British Capital should be hit there."

And, of course, Jewish money was pouring into Ireland to encourage a political rebellion that could cause the breakup of Great Britain. The Irish have suffered so much at the hands of the Jews, beginning with the near-depopulation of Ireland due to Jewish white slave-trading – a topic they are now desperately trying to discredit as an "anti-Semitic meme".

Scotland



In 1832 William Jardine and James Matheson founded a trading company in China which is now one of the world's largest conglomerates. The trade through Canton was originally monopolised by the East India Company, but this was broken in 1834 and China opened up to ambitious companies such as Jardine, Matheson & Co. Their clipper Sarah brought one of the first private tea shipments to Glasgow. They were involved in the trade which led to the First Opium War and Hong Kong being ceded to Britain and then led the initiative to transform the island into a major trade centre. Source

Aside from attempts at a Communist revolution in Scotland, there is the most unusual fact of "Scottish Masonry" which seems to rear its head in the most unusual places, inevitably in connection with Jewish crimes. One such was the creation of the HSBC bank, somehow "created in Scotland" but entirely owned and managed by Jews. David Sassoon was the first Chairman of the Board, the bank created solely to launder the Jews' drug money – a specialty it still proudly carries today. Another such is Jardine and Matheson, seemingly being 'Scottish Jews' and heavily involved in the opium trade which even the Jewish encyclopedias tell us was "entirely a Jewish business".

The Austrian Revolution

CONFLICT AT THE UNIVERSITY, VIENNA.

A Jewish lawyer in Budapest, Ernst Bettelheim, obtained funding from the Comintern to set up an Austrian Communist Party. Bettelheim and his followers planned to seize control of the main nerve centers of Austria's government, while Bela Kun sent his Communist Hungarian army to the Austrian border (only two hours' march from Vienna), ready to invade to support their comrades. However, the night before the planned revolution in June of 1919, the Austrian police arrested all of the Austrian Communist leadership except for Bettelheim. They didn't go down without a fight; a group of about 4000 Communists (mostly Jews) assembled to free the leaders, but withered and ran under police fire. That was the end of the Austrian Communist revolution, essentially strangled at birth. Vienna's Jews were also at the forefront of the earlier Austrian revolution of 1848, when they had planned massive changes to the social and political structure of the country, as well as to the wealth of Austrian Jews.

The Hungarian Revolution

There is a part of Hungary's history that seems to receive little attention, and that is the takeover of the country by the Jewish Communists led by Bela Kun who had been heavily involved with the Jewish Bolsheviks in Russia.

In November 1918, Bela Kun, with several hundred other Jewish Hungarian Communists, and with huge financing from the Jewish Bolsheviks in Russia, returned to Hungary and formed the Hungarian Communist Party. Kun got himself into power in 1919 by feigning a coalition, but then immediately betrayed it and proclaimed a dictatorship of the proletariat with himself as dictator. One of his first decrees was to nationalise almost all private property and to announce that private commerce would be punished with the death penalty. He immediately began by confiscating and nationalising all industry and land, and attacking religion while making great efforts to undermine and in fact to destroy all public morality as well as concepts of God and religion.

Following a popular anti-communist coup attempt a month later, Kun organized a response in the form of a Red Terror, carried out by secret police and mostly Jewish units. Red Tribunals arbitrarily condemned many hundreds prominent Hungarians to death. The Hungarian Jew Georg Lukacs wrote a "History and Class Consciousness" in which he wrote, "I saw the revolutionary destruction of society as the one and only solution".

"As Deputy commissar for culture in Bela Kun's regime, Lukacs put his self-described demonic ideas into action in what came to be known as cultural terrorism." As part of this terrorism, he instituted a radical sex education program in Hungarian schools. Children were instructed in free love, sexual intercourse, the archaic nature of middle-class family codes, the outdatedness of monogamy and the irrelevance of religion, which deprives man of all pleasures. Women too were called to rebel against the sexual mores of the time by engaging in open promiscuity. Lucacs' purpose in promoting licentiousness among women and children was to destroy the family, the core institution of Christianity and western culture". These "Communists" knew if they could destroy the West's traditional sexual morals, they would have taken a giant step toward destroying Western culture itself – and that would appear to have been the definite aim.

According to author and historian Brenton Sanderson, "the Jews involved in these communist regimes were engaged in actions opposed to the traditional peoples and culture of these societies, while typically maintaining their own ethnic commitments." In other words, the destruction of society, morals and religion was reserved for the Gentiles while the Jews remained as before.

Bela Kun was certainly one of the more despicable Jewish "revolutionists" to have ever appeared anywhere. Fortunately for Hungary, Kun's Communist regime lost all support when the Romanian army marched into Hungary and occupied Budapest. Kun's regime collapsed and was removed from power after this, and Kun and his Communist followers fled to Austria, then to Russia, looting numerous art treasures and the entire gold stocks of Hungary's National Bank when they left. Among the Hungarian population, all these events led to a deep feeling of dislike against the Jews since most members of Kun's government were Jews. The feelings were so strong they resulted in a wave of reprisals in which many Jewish Communists were executed.

It would be easy, as I believe is too often done, to blame these reprisals on feelings of "anti-Semitism", but both evidence and logic would indicate the purges were directed against evil and savage oppressors rather than being based on race or religion. I am unaware of evidence that the resentment was against the Jews for being Jews but rather against specific people for the attempted destruction of their country, society, morals and religion.

I once referenced this in another article and was bitterly attacked by the entire Hasbara tribe, one person claiming that Hungary had only "a few months of mild unrest". Sadly, the Hungarians suffered about two full years of the most intense social attacks, from every quarter, that few countries have experienced.

A former Hungarian Prime Minister, M. Huszar, the editor of the Nenzeti Ujsag, emphatically declared that "Bolshevism in Hungary could be explained alone by the fact that its moving force was the tenacious and secret solidarity of the Jews". It is worthy of note that Gwynne identified the Khazarian Jews as instigators of the turmoil in Hungary: "A particular race of Jews, the Khozar (Khazar), took a prominent part in this movement. Bela Kun, the leader of the Hungarian Bolsheviks, was a Jew, and nearly all his ministers, like Friedlander, Wertheim, Dorscak, and Kohn, were also Jews.

The campaign led by the Bolsheviks against Hungary was "extraordinarily malevolent and widespread". "Bela Kun's Jews, imported from Russia, carried out appalling atrocities during their tenure of power and, on his expulsion, there were some sporadic massacres organized by infuriated Hungarian officers, whose womenfolk had been shamefully maltreated. But the Government did, and is doing, all in its power to check any such excesses. Notwithstanding that fact, the pro-Bolshevik papers in Europe, including those in England, were deluged with lurid accounts of atrocities committed by the anti-Bolshevik Hungarians". The atrocity tales, like all such stories the Jews promulgate so frequently, were all proven to be false.

Upheavals in Germany

With the end of World War I, Communist-inspired power seizures were seen all over Germany. Most significant of these were the Spartacist Berlin rising, and the establishment of a Soviet republic in Bavaria. The history books tell us there was a minor event in Germany where a "dissident group" took over the Reichstag, but it is not widely known that the persons involved, led by Rosa Luxembourg, were all Communist Jews. Rosa Luxembourg was a much nastier Revolutionary than typically portrayed. It is true their coup was short-lived and they were evicted and killed after only a few days, but that may indicate only that they overestimated their strength and support and overplayed their hand.

This "revolution" – in reality, a Lenin-style coup d'état – petered out fairly quickly, although about 1200 people died during a week of street fighting. Luxemburg and Liebknecht went into hiding with a third comrade, Wilhelm Pieck. It was not long before the army tracked them down. Luxemburg and Liebknecht were killed shortly thereafter. A second Communist-inspired coup in Bavaria had far greater success. It began with the seizure of power by one Kurt Eisner. As usual, force was necessary: "a movement of war-tired and anti-Prussian peasant soldiers brought the local leader of the U.S.P., Kurt Eisner, into power" in November of 1918 (Franz Borkenau, World Communism). Elections held in January showed that Eisner's radical Independent had minimal popular support. Pressure was on Eisner to resign, and it appears that he would have done, were he not assassinated first.

The Jewish Bolsheviks were involved in Germany from the start. Lenin "dispatched a team of his most able revolutionaries to infiltrate Germany: Karl Radek, one of the most powerful men in the Comintern; Nikolai Bukharin, second-in-command of the Comintern; Christian Rakovsky, a Bulgarian who was a signatory at the founding of the Comintern; and a mysterious man called Ignatov, who probably was Alexander Shpigelglas, an official of the Cheka's Foreign Department who had a record of assassinations during the Terror.." Independent Soviet Republics were to be set up all over Germany, and these showed all the signs of the Jews' world-revolution policy – the disintegration of the State, the subversion of authority, the destruction of society, morals and religion.

Nationalist General Francisco Franco led a rebellion against the government in Spain. The country was deeply divided, with Socialists, Communists, and liberals fighting for the government, with Nationalists, conservatives, and the Catholic Church favoring Franco. The war became a proxy war between Nationalism and Globalism. Germany, Portugal and Italy provided military aid to Franco while the Communist Soviets sent arms to the Spanish government.

The Comintern sent volunteers to fight for the Spanish regime. As usual, the Jewish Communist fighters carried out sickening atrocities against civilians, such as setting fire to the wives and children of Nationalist officers after dousing them with petrol. The Communists were so determined to stamp out Christianity that they raped nuns, tortured priests, and set fire to churches with the worshippers locked inside.

Portuguese Revolution

The corpses of the alleged assassins who murdered Crown Prince Luis Filipe and King Carlos I of Portugal. They were lynched in the square by an angry mob.

Here, again, there is overwhelming evidence that the force at the back of the Revolution was European Jewish Freemasonry. Dr. Friedrich Wichtl, in his book Weltfreimatterei, Welt Revolution, Welt-republik, says: "Some readers may ask us which were then those circles which contributed the most to the downfall of the Portuguese Royal family? They are the leading families of the Castros, the Costas, Cohens, Pereiras, Ferreiras, Teixeiras, Fonsecas, etc. They have many widespread branches besides Portugal, also in Spain, Holland, England, etc., and in America, where they occupy prominent positions. They are all related to each other, they are all united by the mutual ties of [Jewish] Freemasonry and . . . the Alliance Israelite Universelle." The violent anti-Christian character of the Republic, particularly in its early days, is too well-known to need recapitulation.

The Turkish Revolution

The Turkish Revolution was the real death-knell of the Turkish Empire and was, emphatically, almost entirely the work of a Masonic-Jewish conspiracy. The following quotation from the well-known French Masonic review Acacia (October, 1908, No. 70) explains succinctly what was going on: A secret Young Turk Committee was founded, and the whole movement was directed from Salonika, as the town which has the greatest percentage of Jewish population in Europe – 70,000 Jews out of a total population of 110,000 – was specially qualified for this purpose. There were at the time many Jewish Freemason lodges in Salonika under the protection of European diplomacy. The Sultan was defenseless against them, and he could not prevent his own downfall. The Jews in Constantinople were closely linked with those in Moscow and Budapest, and terrorism and intimidation of every kind followed.

Wikipedia and many history books now term this event the "Turkish War of Independence", with sufficient slanted historical facts to bury forever the truth of what really happened. But it is clear from the facts of the events that the purpose was the creation of a Judeo-Turkish State which would subjugate the many other populations in the Turkish Empire.

The Mongolian Revolution

Thus, the Jewish Communist revolutions failed in Hungary, Austria, and Germany. They also failed in Russia itself. In Finland and the Baltic countries, separatists defeated Communists and set up independent non-Communist governments. But escaping world notice was the establishment of the world's second Communist dictatorship in the independent country of Mongolia.

Unlike the haphazard power seizures in Europe, the imposition of Jewish Bolshevik power upon Mongolia was carefully planned. First, a small number of Mongols were trained in Communist theory and practice in Moscow and Irkutsk. These Communist Mongols set up the First Congress of the Mongolian People's Party in Kyakhta, just north of the Mongolian border, and proclaimed a Provisional Revolution Government. Then the Mongolian Communists formed a minuscule Mongolian army, and in 1921 this tiny force marched into Mongolia. The Red Army followed close behind, which guaranteed victory to what would have otherwise been the movement of a few hundred malcontents. The Red Bolshevik Army was now in Mongolia, and used standard techniques to seize total power under the guise of national self-determination. The Mongolian People's Republic would be the first Soviet satellite state. It would not be the last.

The incipient Chinese Communist Revolution

The Russian Bolsheviks were intensely interested in China, and Lenin and Trotsky saw China as a place where they could inflict another blow as they had done to Mother Russia. In order to advance their interests, they sent Gregory Voitinsky to China to make contact with leftist intellectuals, especially Chen Duxiu. The actual process of forming the infant Communist Party can be mostly attributed to Voitinsky's influence.

China did indeed have its own revolution, but in the end it was commanded by its own people who meant to save China rather than destroy it. Happily, they succeeded. What Voitinsky proposed to Mao was essentially the same program that had been followed by the Jews in Russia – which was the extermination of the entire middle class, the educated, the wealthy, the commercial class, leaving only a small (Jewish-controlled) elite and hundreds of millions of hapless peasants.

The reason that the Chinese brand of "Communism" is so different from all others was that Mao rejected more or less in totality the savagery of the Jews. His only point of agreement was in a desire to eliminate much of the class structure, which was the cause of China's "cultural revolution" and Mao sending educated professors to work on farms. Ever since the failure of the Jews' version of Communism in China, they have incessantly portrayed Mao as an evil monster, failing to note that his only "crimes" were in following the prescriptions of those same Jews.

Of particular note are the decades-old accusations of Mao killing millions of Chinese, when Mao actually never killed anyone. The Jews later inflicted several worldwide food embargoes on China, then attributed the resultant deaths from famine as indicative of Mao's inhumanity. Propaganda is easy when you control the media.

One of the acts of that "revolution" was the expulsion of all Jews from China, something that can hardly be criticised when we consider the unconscionable damage and humiliation these same Jews had inflicted on the country. Many tens of thousands of Jews were expelled immediately by Mao after assuming power, these expulsions unrelated to the fact that the victims were ethnic Jews. Instead, it was primarily related to their devastation of China by their exclusive franchise for importing opium into China under the protection of the British military. And subsequently with their using their opium profits to buy up most of Shanghai and many other cities, as well as using those same profits to help finance the Japanese invasion of China.

As a closing note on this point, many Jewish websites extol the wealth and virtues of the Sassoons, the Kadoories, the Hartungs and more, without caring to specify the criminally evil source of their great wealth.

Chapter 7 – Humanity at the Crossroads –Connecting the Dots to Our Brave New World

Man at the Crossroads by Diego Rivera, 1932. It was commissioned by Nelson Rockefeller but later destroyed due to the inclusion of a figure representing Vladimir Lenin, the revolutionary leader. This bold move didn't sit well with the Rockefeller family, who deemed it too politically charged for their liking. When Rivera staunchly refused to erase Lenin from his masterpiece, he was promptly shown the door, and the mural was doomed to destruction. Source

Humankind is at a cusp, a point of transition between two different states of governance and existence. The world today is like a sack being slowly filled while the string around the opening is pulled increasingly tighter to prevent the contents from escaping confinement. The shadows of this future are everywhere to be seen but even the keenest of observers tend to view the portents not as the warnings they are, but instead regard all these pieces of one despairing puzzle as disconnected and unrelated events. In this essay, we will take a look at where our world is going, how it is going there, and why it is going there.

For, dark and despairing, my sight I may seal, but man cannot hide what God would reveal.

'Tis the sunset of life gives me mystical lore, and coming events cast their shadow before. (1)

One needn't be credentialed as either prophet or oracle to make the connections and expose the plan. It is another matter entirely to convince average readers of the truth of it. German philosopher Arthur Schopenhauer wrote that all truth passes through three stages. First, it is ridiculed. Second, it is violently opposed. Third, it is accepted as being self-evident. We are midway between the first and second stages, where proponents of exposure are still widely ridiculed but, if they gain a popular audience, they will be violently attacked.

Where we are going – One World Government

Mechanised Mind

Lest we succumb to the temptation of dismissing this as yet another batty conspiracy theory, it would be wise to consider these quotes:

David Rockefeller in an address to the Trilateral Commission, referring to the Bilderberg Group, whose existence was hotly denied and derided for decades as just another conspiracy theory:

> "We are grateful to the Washington Post, the New York Times, Time magazine and other great publications whose directors have attended our meetings and respected the promises of discretion for almost forty years. It would have been impossible for us to develop our plan for the world if we had been subject to the bright lights of public scrutiny during those years. But, the world is now more sophisticated and fully prepared to march towards our one world-government. The supranational sovereignty of our intellectual elites and world bankers is surely preferable to the globe as a whole." (2)

Montagu Norman, Governor of The Bank of England prior to the crash of 1929, addressing the United States Bankers' Association, New York, Idaho Leader, 26 August 1924:

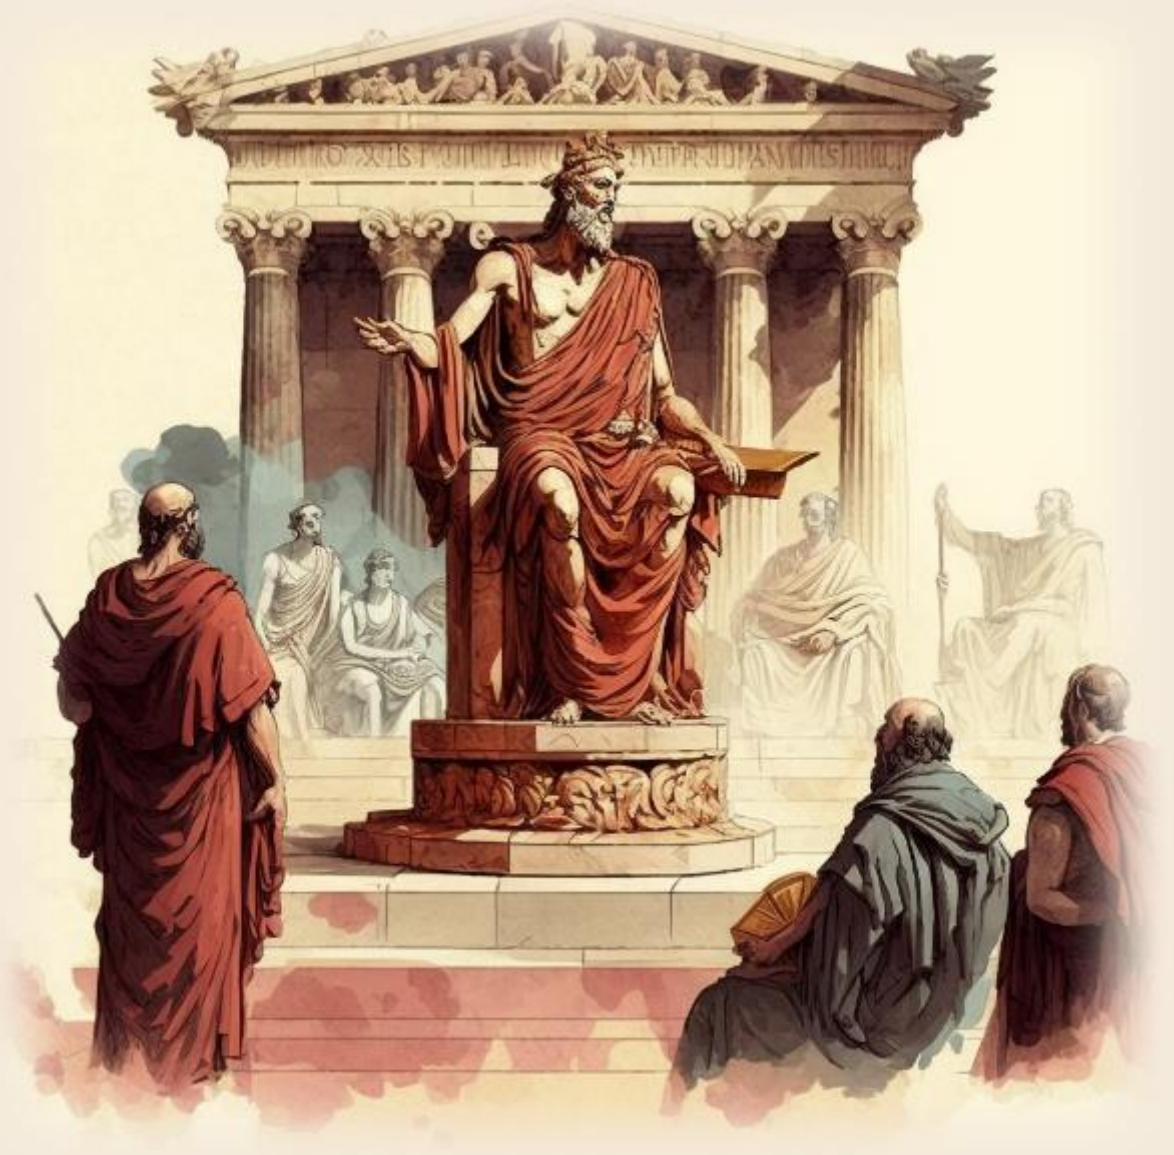
"When, through process of law, the common people lose their homes, they will become more docile and more easily governed through the strong arm of the government applied by a central power of wealth under leading financiers. These truths are well known among our principal men, who are now engaged in forming an imperialism to govern the world." (3)

Banker Paul Warburg, testifying before the US Senate on February 17, 1950, stated:

> "We will have a world government whether you like it or not. The only question is whether that government will be achieved by conquest or consent." (4)

We will have a look at one example each of the 'conquest' and 'consent' scenarios in Iraq and Greece, but let me state here that there are literally thousands of similar statements going back well over 100 years (sufficient with footnotes to fill a 300-page book), by authors and personalities famous and obscure, but all containing essentially the same message – that the financial powers of Europe and America are planning a super-sovereign world government within their absolute control. One would have to be a fool to ignore the sheer volume of evidence.

A Quick Look at Greece



Greece is now a failed state, an almost perfect exemplar of our future, the definitive ideal of those planning the world to come. Driven into bankruptcy by unrepayable loans, the leaders of Greece threw away their nation's one chance for survival as a sovereign state and instead capitulated totally, accepting draconian measures meant to perpetually impoverish their population, while privatising the entire nation in one fell swoop. The international bankers bullied Greece into placing the nation's entire infrastructure into a so-called trust (controlled by "an independent Luxembourg-based company"), which, by order, would be "entirely outside the reach or influence" of the Greek government. The bankers and their friends will now take ownership of all of it, at prices they set.

Greece was bullied into a package of reforms with severe austerity measures and spending cuts. The government slashed spending in all quarters, eliminated 25% of civil service positions, reducing wages by 30% for those remaining. Greece was forced to increase the VAT rate, reduce (and eliminate) pensions and increase the retirement age, raise the domestic corporation tax while cutting taxes for the top 1% and foreign corporations, take drastic measures to "improve tax collection and fight tax evasion". Naturally, the economy instantly cratered, losing about one quarter of its size with unemployment rising above 25% and youth unemployment above 50%,rendering the majority of families under considerable financial stress.

The government was also forced to establish virtually a new constitution, with Eurocrats and IMF officials not only writing the new laws but also having a veto over all new legislation, serving to embody in law a lack of social infrastructure and perpetual poverty, emasculating the sovereignty of the state. To ensure compliance with the austerity directives, Greece is obliged to surrender control over the policing of all major portions of its economy. Eurocrats and IMF officials not only wrote the new laws, but EU (i.e. banking) officials are placed inside all ministries, with authority to ensure compliance and control funds. Greeks now hate the Europeans bitterly, believing that these foreign creditors' power to "rummage through every government department on Greek soil" is an insult to Greek sovereignty, with Greece in fact and reality now facing not only austerity but external governance.

Greece's Finance Minister, Yanis Varoufakis, resigned his position rather than participate in the destruction of his country, accusing the bankers and the ECB of deploying "liquidity asphyxiation" to bring the country to its knees, saying:

"The costs being demanded of Greece are so punitive that they are almost impossible to meet." He said further that "The most humiliating and unbearable choice is an agreement that will surrender and loot our country and subjugate our people. The European Central Bank cut off all liquidity and creditors simply destroyed our country."

Greece's economy has become nearly paralysed, with the whole economy shifting to cash. The local payments system is breaking down since nobody wants to accept transfers into bank accounts that could be seized at any moment, the Greeks remembering only too well the recent prior events in Cyprus where the same bankers seized from 50% to 90% of all bank accounts of significant size, including pension funds and (to the glee of many) all accounts held by Russians. Many Cypriots saw their savings wiped out because of the privately-owned central bank. The US government did something similar to its own citizens in 1933 by seizing all gold holdings by Americans – in the depths of the Great Depression. Citizens received dollars in return for the seized gold, but that dollar was formally devalued by 40% at the same time, robbing all of 60% of their holdings. (5) (6)

Greece has virtually ceased to exist as a sovereign nation, and there are many others similar, including Cyprus, Haiti, Somalia, Iraq, Libya, the Balkans, Panama, Nicaragua. This is not news.

To quote William Blum:Greece has virtually ceased to exist as a sovereign nation, and there are many others similar, including Cyprus, Haiti, Somalia, Iraq, Libya, the Balkans, Panama, Nicaragua. This is not news.

To quote William Blum:

> "It was under Reagan administration influence that the International Monetary Fund and World Bank began widely imposing the policy package known as structural adjustment – featuring deregulation, privatization, emphasis on exports, cuts in social spending – that has plunged country after country in the developing world into economic destitution."

The IMF chief at the time was honest about what was to come, saying in 1981 that, for low-income countries, "adjustment is particularly costly in human terms". (7) (8)

With Greece as in all such cases after Imperialism has taken control, the nation is surrounded by a news blanket through which little if anything escapes, with the willing compliance (or terrified submission) of all news wires and media outlets, removing the country from the worldwide public mind.

A Look at Iraq

The US embassy in Baghdad contains more than 16,000 people, the largest and most expensive in the world, comprising more than 100 acres, larger than the Vatican City, and costing more than 2 billion dollars to build.

It is well-known the US launched a devastating war on Iraq, criminally unjustified and based entirely on falsehoods, and against the advice of its own military, some in the Pentagon labeling the idea "crazy". By 2013 the US media were reporting a US military withdrawal from Iraq, but the US never had any intention of ever leaving Iraq.

The myth of withdrawal was merely a PR attempt "to delete Iraq from the public's collective consciousness, to make it disappear so they can work quietly without public scrutiny". It is true that several hundred small military bases have been closed, but there are an additional 40 or 50 very large bases that were built to be permanent and will never be closed.

The US embassy in Beijing contains an astonishing more than 1,200 people, but the US embassy in Baghdad contains more than 16,000 people, the largest and most expensive in the world, comprising more than 100 acres, larger than the Vatican City, and costing more than 2 billion dollars to build.

It is a self-contained, heavily armed and fortified city in the center of Baghdad, centered on Saddam's former palace and containing more than 20 buildings surrounded by 20-foot walls and entirely self-sufficient for electricity, water, and all other functions, the permanent Middle East Headquarters of the American empire. From here, in conjunction with the US "embassy" in Yerevan, Armenia that contains 6,000 people (the second-largest embassy in the world) the US can spread its brutal imperial tentacles over a wide swath of Mesopotamia and the Middle East.

Iraq's New Legislative Control

U.S. Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld, center, is received off a C-130 transport plane by Paul Bremer, right, the chief of the U.S.-led coalition authority in Iraq, on Feb. 23, 2004 at the Baghdad International Airport. Source

Iraq's government is a nearly irrelevant puppet administration. The first acts of the occupying Provisional Authority were to rewrite Iraq's constitution and body of laws by declaring a succession of 100 so-called "Provisionary Orders" promulgated by American Paul Bremer. These Provisionary Orders were written into Iraqi law prior to the US handover of the government, and have the highest standing of all laws in Iraq,so high they “cannot be removed by any subsequent Iraqi government”. They are perpetual. (9)

Orders 57 and 77 ensure full control of Iraq by placing US-appointed auditors and inspectors-general in every government ministry, with sweeping authority over contracts, programs, employees and regulations. These Orders stipulate that the US must approve every senior government appointment and every candidate for elected office. US military officers are reported to frequently and freely enter cabinet meetings with demands or instructions on policy decisions to be made. One of Bremer’s first acts was to close almost 200 state-owned businesses and turn the industry sectors over to American companies, rendering unemployed more than 500,000 people. He took control of Iraq’s media, shuttering them on a whim, over the objections of virtually everyone.

Bremer’s Orders permit foreign multinationals to privatise the entire nation including all physical and social infrastructure and all commerce. They allocate to foreign oil companies the exclusive right to at least 65% of the country’s oil reserves, and to determine the distribution of revenue and profit allocated to Iraq from the remainder. Order 39 allows for the tax-free remittance of all foreign corporate profits. Order 81 stipulates that all Iraqi farmers must use Monsanto’s GM seed for all crops planted in the country, with the use of any heritage Iraqi seed stock now totally prohibited. Order 17 guarantees that all Americans and foreign contractors in Iraq will not be subject to Iraqi law. The orders state that “All trained elements of the Iraqi armed forces shall at all times be under the operational control of the American commander”. Order 56 creates a new privately-owned (foreign) central bank.

Examining Bremer's Laws

One of Paul Bremer's private security guards, stands in front of a monument built at site where a mass grave of Saddam Hussein's regime victims was discovered last year at the compound of the University for Humanities, Science and Theological Studies in Hilla, 100 Kms south of Baghdad, visited by Bremer 27 June 2004.Source

I have occasionally been charged with responsibility for drafting legislation at a national level and can testify this is not something one does in ten minutes over a cup of coffee. The task requires extreme expertise in a particular area and a more than adequate facility in the drafting of legal wording. When amending legislation, it is paramount to possess a flawless familiarity with the content of existing law and, most importantly, a thorough apprehension of the full range of potential consequences of a particular selection of legal wording.

Consider the framing of legislation for a national health care system. Certainly we need one or more medical experts intimately familiar with the entire range of health services and a general appreciation of the required infrastructure, but we also need extensive experience in planning the delivery system for such care, as well as the taxation implications of financing. It would be rare to find this combination of knowledge in one person, to say nothing of the legal knowledge necessary to draft the appropriate huge legislation. If we add medical insurance into this mix, it should be apparent that we need an entire team of specialists and considerable time to forge the necessary legal framework. Moreover, except for the most simple of items, we would almost never rely on the opinion or judgment of only one person in any field, thus considerably expanding the numbers of this team.

Bremer's laws covered virtually the entire gamut of Iraqi society, including taxation, transportation, and medical care, the founding of a privately-owned central bank, a new Iraqi currency and a full slate of laws on foreign investment, banking and securities markets, SOEs, a new electoral law governing parties and elections. There were new laws governing the nation's petroleum industry, control of the media, laws dealing with foreign contractors, the auditing of government departments, a new penal code, detention and prison facilities, control of Iraqi borders, ports and airports, a Ministry of Science and Technology, a full revision of the labor code, vast legislation dealing with trademarks, patents, design, and an overhaul of IP, entirely new laws controlling agriculture that included GM seed, and very much more.

It should be obvious that no one man could possess the required expertise in all these areas, and nothing in Bremer's background suggests ability of consequence in any of them. Further, many of these portions of legislation were extremely complex, each containing a great many pages of precise legal wording that would have required several months in the drafting. This means a great number of large teams meeting regularly over many months to finalise drafts, but it also infers mandatory reporting to a control group on the progress, guidance as to overall intent of each piece of legislation, with periodic approval of direction, content, and final result. Yet Bremer was promulgating these new Orders at the rate of three or four per week, the entire 100 produced in about ten months.

The drafting of these laws would have required at least hundreds of experts, perhaps more than 1,000, and a lengthy time in preparation. Bremer was appointed to Iraq on May 9, 2003, and issued his first Order (on the De-Ba'athification of Iraqi Society) on May 16. That would hardly provide adequate time to overcome jet lag, much less to obtain an appreciation of what Ba'ath society was, much less the rationale for, and consequences of, exterminating it. Bremer then issued another 30 or 40 laws within the next few months, including the entire penal code, banking and investment, the military, and more.

Order 56 creating the new privately-owned central bank is an immense document that would require months of preparation. The seed laws were almost certainly written by the lawyers from Monsanto and Cargill, et al. Others are similar. It is obvious these laws were written in advance by executives and lawyers of banks and multinational corporations all over the world and simply delivered to Bremer to promulgate. It is also obvious these laws were planned and in process long before the US invaded Iraq. To add to this equation, we have the fact that the laws were not prepared by any portion of the US government, since even the White House had no specific knowledge of any of Bremer's activities and the US Congress had been sidelined and silenced beforehand.

Bremer's Appointment

Paul Bremer interim President of Iraq.

Let's step back for a moment to examine Bremer's appointment as Director of the Coalition Provisional Authority and interim President of Iraq. The sanitised narrative tells us that Bremer was selected by President Bush, but there is no evidence that Bush had ever met Bremer or indeed ever heard his name, the man having had minor past appointments but having been out of government employ for more than ten years prior.

Secretary of State Colin Powell had already placed Lt. Gen. Jay Garner as the top official in Iraq, and planned to add Zalmay Khalilzad, an Iraqi with extensive local knowledge to assist Garner. Suddenly and without explanation (while Powell was out of town), Bremer was plucked from thin air and appointed to replace Garner – to the great surprise of Powell, Rice, and all others. According to the published record, Powell called Rice on his return and asked, "What's going on? What happened?" Rice apparently replied, "I don't know. I had nothing to do with it." Bremer's appointment was not only a surprise, but against the stated will of the President, the Secretary of State and the country's National Security Advisor.

As well, both the CIA and the military strongly objected, the CIA because they hadn't been asked or informed and the military because they viewed an uninformed civilian helicopter transplant as both dangerous and useless.

The facts suggest the impetus came through Henry Kissinger, with whom Bremer had been closely associated and was a Managing Director of Kissinger Associates for 10 or 12 years to that point, the thread seeming to lead through Cheney while bypassing the President. The facts are not clear on whether Bush was instructed to obey or was even informed on the matter prior to his announcement. Military knowledge and intimate familiarity with Iraq were deemed essential for this position, but Bremer had neither. When Bremer was given the position in Iraq, the White House plan was that he take Khalilzad with him but, in a private meeting with President Bush, Bremer insisted he be solely in charge, a demand Bush accommodated.

On the organisation chart, Bremer reported to Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld, but ample evidence exists that Rumsfeld totally ignored Bremer and his activity, Bremer doing the same in reverse. Rumsfeld had a reputation as a control mandarin; it has been widely documented that he was often present in Baghdad to direct the torture facilities and 'military pacification' of the Iraqi citizenry, and it is thus beyond logic that he would have ignored his most important subordinate – the "President of Iraq", who was tasked with remaking the entire country, but there is no credible record of the two even crossing paths. Bremer held what appears to have been a fully independent and unassailable position with no oversight from any part of the US government.

Rajiv Chandrasekaran, an assistant managing editor of The Washington Post and its bureau chief in Baghdad at the time, wrote a book titled 'Imperial Life in the Emerald City: Inside Iraq's Green Zone'. (9) He spoke at length about this in a PBS interview in 2006. (10) Chandrasekaran claims Bremer "viewed his (Saddam's) palace out there in Baghdad not as an embassy that had any obligation to report back developments to Washington", claiming further that virtually no information flowed from Baghdad to Washington and that "Bremer had been given an exemption" from clearing any decisions through the White House.

In fact, Bremer's leash was so long and Bremer so secretive that when the White House wanted information, Condolezza Rice could do no better than have her NSC staff check the Coalition Provisional Authority (CPA) website – to see if they could learn what was happening in Baghdad. Bremer further refused to hire anyone who wasn't 'ideologically sympathetic' to his real purposes, or who might have a 'back channel' to Washington. "Their only allegiance would be to Bremer." Chandrasekaran says that whatever Bremer wanted, he got, and that he "amassed quite a degree of power and influence". In this entire matter, the US Congress was nowhere to be seen, totally removed from oversight or governing.

A Matter of Money

US Army (Iraq -March 24.2003 – Iraqi city of Nasiriyah) Source

At least US$100 billion and perhaps as much as US$200 billion, the bulk of this in cash, all of it within Bremer's control, simply disappeared without a trace. The US FED alone shipped US$40 billion in cash by air to Iraq, most of it unaccounted for. Millions of tons of Iraqi oil were sold without accounting as to the purchasers and with no record of the disposition of the receipts. A large but undetermined additional amount of exported oil was unmetered, leaving no record of the volume or the payments. Bremer had a room near his office in Saddam's palace that contained by documented reports US$600 million to US$800 million in cash, that was his private 'slush fund' and which bore no records of any kind. There was no oversight from any source. Billions of dollars were repeatedly paid for contracts where no evidence existed of work having being done. In addition, Iraq's central bank was looted of at least US$20 billion in gold (some reports claimed US$60 billion), plus undocumented billions in foreign currency, which is also unaccounted for.

In one case, a 'reconstruction project' was quoted to the Iraqi 'government' as costing US$20 billion but Bremer presented instead an invoice for US$60 billion. When Iraq objected, Bremer's response was, "Just be grateful we saved you from Saddam." The $60 billion was paid from Iraqi oil exports but no documentation exists as to who received the money and no evidence existed as to any actual work having been performed. In other cases, Bremer paid multiple invoices for hundreds of millions of dollars each as wages for thousands of workers when no one could produce evidence that such workers had ever existed. (11)

An International Advisory and Monitoring Board (IAMB) was later established to provide independent financial oversight of Bremer's CPA spending, the board including representatives from the UN, the World Bank, the IMF and the Arab Fund for Economic and Social Development. The IAMB spent months trying to find auditors acceptable to the US, the Bahrain office of KPMG finally appointed in April 2004. It was stonewalled. They wrote in an interim report:

"KPMG has encountered resistance from CPA staff regarding the submission of information required to complete our procedures."

"The auditors even had trouble getting passes to enter the Green Zone. There appears to have been good reason for the Americans to stall. At the end of June 2004, the CPA would be disbanded and Bremer would leave Iraq. There was no way the (White House) would want independent auditors to publish a report into the financial propriety of its Iraqi administration while the CPA was still in existence and Bremer at its head still answerable to the press. So the report was published in July." (12)

Bremer's exit from Iraq raised many questions. His handover of government was done days in advance of the published schedule, performed entirely by surprise and literally in minutes, Bremer then quickly boarding a helicopter for the airport where he then boarded a US military transport. When all Iraqis had left the scene, he suddenly deplaned and boarded a private Gulfstream 4 that flew him out. He then resurfaced in Vermont as a ski instructor.

There is very much more. Generally, the auditors found either inadequate or no documentation to account for almost all funds, with no way of knowing how much money was actually looted or to whom it was paid. "Since then, investigators have spent years trying to trace what happened to the enormous amount of money shipped in the frantic days of the occupation of Iraq. Although there have been hundreds of pages of reports, Congressional hearings, and inquiries from Washington to Baghdad, no one in Congress, a special inspector general's office, the Department of Defense or the Iraqi government itself can say with certainty what exactly happened to all of that money." (12)

A Review

Let's review what we have so far. A group of powerful men decided that Iraq would be colonised, and pressed Bush to use the US military to destroy and then occupy the country, this over the objection of the US military. This same group removed Garner and installed Bremer as the head of the Coalition Occupying government, over the unanimous objections of the US President, the Secretary of State, the National Security Council, the US military and the CIA. Bremer, appearing to have unlimited power and no oversight, reported to no one in the US government, the evidence suggesting the White House and Cabinet, including Donald Rumsfeld, Bremer's direct superior, and the US President, were forbidden to meddle or even to ask direct questions on his activity. The US military and CIA voiced strong objections – to no avail – to many of Bremer's initial laws, especially on the Ba'ath society and dismantling the Iraqi military, stating these actions would lead to perpetual protests and bloodshed.

This same group of powerful men gathered hundreds of experts to draft new legislation to control Iraq according to their private plan. Simultaneously, Iraq was being unconscionably looted, openly and without apparent inhibition, perhaps of US $200 billion in total which disappeared without a trace, and with no information as to who received that money. This was all done with no identifiable benefit to the US as a nation, or to the American people. The US incurred the several trillion dollars of the cost of the Iraq war, took all the battlefield casualties, and was delegated to occupy Iraq at its own expense, then remain silent. The only apparent duty of the US Congress was to conduct an insincere investigation into the missing billions, then sweep the matter under the carpet. The media, compliant as always, remained silent on all matters demanding a voice.

Who are They?

Who Are They?

Who were those people, this handful of powerful men, who decided to subjugate and loot Iraq, the men responsible for drafting all Iraq's new laws, and undoubtedly the recipients of the missing billions? Who are these men who have the power to direct the US President and the military to destroy an innocent country and occupy it? Who has the power to take over Iraq's entire infrastructure and loot all its assets, while forbidding any part of the US government to interfere, in spite of the fact that the US paid the bill for the entire effort? Similarly, who were the men with the power not only to terrify Greece into utter submission and loot the country's entire infrastructure in one shot but to embed themselves permanently into Greece's government with the authority to maintain and ensure that submission?

These men were, are, and will be, our new masters in our Brave New World. But there is much more. We have seen brief examples of where we are going – "by conquest or consent". Let's take a brief look at how the rest of us are going there.

The Train to Perdition

Train to Perdition

The over-riding feature of our new world will be the ultimate control of our economies, our nations – such as they will be, and our lives, by a group of international bankers and industrialists. One arrow in this quiver is the privatisation – taking public assets into private hands – of the entire physical and social infrastructure of our nations, as we have seen with Greece and Iraq – and which already applies to more than a few other nations. It is this that is responsible for the extreme push that has been building since the 1970s and early 1980s to privatisation, the US being the best example of acquiescence. For those nations resisting, this is the cause of the push in the WTO and other agreements to securitise all infrastructure in preparation for collapsing stock markets then purchasing for pennies all of a nation's assets. Privatisation includes even arable land and water aquifers, everything of value and of necessity for human life.

The world needs with extreme urgency to see a world map of privatisation as it exists today, diagrams of all nations displaying all the national assets and infrastructure that have already been privatised. The shock from seeing this alone might serve to wake up the world, to realise how far this strategy has already progressed. As one example, after the destruction of Jugoslavia, it was briefly reported that George Soros and Madeleine Albright had taken possession of Kosovo's entire communications network, with an estimated value of US$800 million. George Bush's family took ownership of millions of acres of the largest water aquifer in South America. There are literally thousands of such events scattered around the globe that have received no publicity or attention, being considered as isolated instances instead of crucial elements of a vast plan that has been increasing in speed for the past 60 years. Extreme attention is being paid to controlling the entire world's fresh water. Nestle's president is on record as stating that water is not a human right but a commodity that should be priced and sold (and privately-owned).

It isn't only public assets that are being 'privatised'. This includes the creation of ever-larger worldwide corporate and banking behemoths swallowing their smaller rivals until, in each nation, most of the means of production and distribution are in the same hands, eliminating nation by nation the leading producers until none of significance remain. Control of a nation's food supply is part of this enormously ambitious scheme of world government and control, hence the intense bullying push on all nations to accept GM seed. This seed has two main purposes. The obvious one is that it gives the multi-national seed companies virtual total control over the fundamental fabric of a nation's food supply. The less obvious purpose is that GM seed was invented not by seed companies but by the US military as an offensive weapon or, more precisely, as a weapons-delivery system. It is now widely-known that many lethal pathogens can be spliced into GM seed. The masters will have a choice with recalcitrant nations: either refuse a supply of seed and let the population starve, or splice typhus, HIV, the plague, into the seeds and let nature take its course.

The plan involves the destruction of national sovereignty and of individual nationalism. Patriotism and loyalty to nations are a curse which must be eliminated. There are many avenues for this. One is the incessant drumbeat in the media, propagandising the world against economic or any other kind of nationalism. Another is immigration, as is being carried out in Europe. Economic hopefuls and other refugees have no nationalistic feelings toward their adopted country and no regrets over lost sovereignty. When a nation reaches a level of 30% of such persons, it may be impossible to arouse a critical mass of indignity that would lead to protests and uprisings.

But sovereignty does not disappear; it is merely replaced. Thus, another major building block is the transfer of sovereignty to the bankers and their multi-national corporations, which was the main thrust of the stillborn TPP where the rights of corporations would supersede those of a nation's government and its supreme courts, being thrust solely into the hands of panels consisting of lawyers selected by this same group. The TPP attempt was astonishing in its boldness, a terrifying amount of bullying of nations to transfer absolute power to a group of entirely unknown persons for the sake of establishing in perpetuity the rights of these people to absolutely loot every nation to abject poverty. As one example, the refusal to a tobacco company to sell cigarettes would trigger an automatic obligation to pay that firm all the profits – in perpetuity – it would have made had it been entirely free of government regulation.

To bring this plan to completion also requires the eventual destabilisation and effective destruction of the family, of organised society, and of religion. When the Bolsheviks inflicted their communist coups throughout Europe, the instance of Hungary is most exemplary. When the communists took over Hungary, Bela Kun proclaimed himself dictator, one of his first decrees being to nationalise almost all private property and to announce that private commerce would be punished with the death penalty. He immediately confiscated virtually all industry and land, and began an intense attack on religion while making great efforts to undermine and destroy all public morality as well as concepts of God and religion. He instituted a program of what came to be known as cultural terrorism. As part of this, he began a radical sex education program in Hungarian schools where children were instructed in free love, sexual intercourse, the archaic nature of middle class family codes, the outdatedness of monogamy and the irrelevance of religion which deprives man of all pleasures. Women were called to rebel against the sexual mores of the time by engaging in open promiscuity.

The stated purpose in promoting licentiousness among women and children was to destroy the family, the core institution of Christianity and western culture. As perhaps the best current example, we can clearly see evidence in slow motion today of this happening in the US, in large part with the heavy promotion and even celebration of the alphabet soup of sexual preferences and of two men becoming 'husband' and 'wife' and adopting small boys. In terms of society, this is the cause of the class war being waged in all Western nations today, the purpose being, as with the Bolshevik revolutions and the US in 2008, to either kill off or bankrupt the bourgeois, the middle classes, and send them all down to the lower class where they eventually become homeless, disposable cattle.

The 2008 debacle in the US was generally described as a financial crisis, but it was really part of the class war, meant to deprive as many Americans as possible of their homes to make them more docile and more easily governed. The huge bubble in 2008 in 'subprime' home loans was immediately repeated with automobiles in precisely the same way, these loans securitised then diced and sliced while being given AAA ratings by Moodys. Today, the ratio of delinquent auto loans is approaching a crisis point and will undoubtedly soon implode, depriving millions of Americans of their only hope of holding any employment since a car is virtually a necessity in much of the US. In 2008, most of the US middle class was unceremoniously dumped into the lower class, all signs seeming to indicate a repeat on the horizon. The program has also involved for the past 60 years increasingly bold attempts at population reduction, either killing off or sterilising vast swaths of humanity. This was the reason for the foundation of Planned Parenthood, the main reason for existence of USAID, for Kissinger's NSSM 200 – a viciously aggressive plan to prevent, at apparently almost any cost, births in non-Western countries. USAID and Reimert Ravenholt sterilised at least 100 million unwitting women, killing tens of millions in the process. This program was behind Robert McNamara's Project 100,000. It was almost certainly behind the recent Zika virus in South America. It is the reason the WHO has been traveling the undeveloped world and sterilising countless millions of women without their knowledge through the fraudulent tetanus vaccination programs where the vaccine is laced with Hcg, in fact permanently vaccinating women against pregnancy.

This is the reason seed companies are suddenly promoting the use of cotton seeds as a primary foodstuff for underdeveloped countries. Cotton seeds are toxic, containing a chemical called gossypol which is an effective male sterilant. The seed companies claim to have removed this toxin to a safe level, but there is no safe level for gossypol. Even very minute doses taken repeatedly (as when used for a basic food) will render an entire male population sterile. What the WHO, the World Bank, and UNICEF do for the female populations, the seed companies will do for the male portion. If they have their way, much of the world may one day be uninhabited.

The Bankers' Private Army

The Bankers' Private Army

Such grand plans to corral humanity as domestic animals and to successfully put down opposition from them and the remnants of their governments, requires overwhelming military strength. It began with the British East India Company where Rothschild had at one time a standing army of more than one million men, a testimony to the profitability of looting rich India. The army had two main purposes: to discourage local Indians from protesting at the looting of their nation by foreigners, and the necessity of enforcing by violence the abandonment by farmers of food crops to grow opium for sale in China. The history books are mostly silent and cleverly vague on the transfer of these responsibilities to the British government, leading readers to assume the British at some point ordered the East India Company to relinquish its power to be replaced by the more humane British. But that's now how it was. Rothschild abandoned his military when the profits were insufficient to carry it, and simply transferred his flag to the British military who became literally the Banker's Private Army to be used not only in India but in many other instances like the Boer wars where Rothschild wanted the gold and diamonds, this private army obediently killing all those who stood in the way.

The UK was used thus for many years, through two world wars nobody wanted, until England was finally bankrupt, its fabled Empire in tatters, and begging the US for financial support. England was deliberately sacrificed for these ends as described, and today remains only a rump, a tail so grateful to have a dog. But no matter. These same men had already obtained virtual full control of the US government and simply transferred their flag – again to the world's most powerful military. It is no secret that the US is itself being cannibalised by this same group, eventually drowning in unrepayable war debt, the citizenry mostly homeless and bankrupt, and the entire infrastructure and means of production owned by this same small group. As Benjamin Netanyahu famously stated, "Once we have squeezed everything we want from the US, it can dry up and blow away." And it will.

But no matter. The flag is already being transferred to NATO, a supra-national military responsible only to this same group, an irresistible military force comprised of all the armed forces of dozens of nations. This is why a full surrender of a nation's military is a prerequisite even for consideration in joining the EU. This is why the servicemen of NATO are being taught to abandon all feelings of nationalism for their country and wear only a NATO flag on their hearts. NATO was meant as the enforcement arm of the TPP, had it succeeded, but will still function as something similar.

We are now seeing rampant uprisings in Iraq, throughout South America, and will soon see them in Greece, the populations arising en masse to protest against their impoverishment and slavery. In the end, each stripped and emasculated national 'government' will have only two functions: tax collection to funnel money to the masters of the world, and population suppression to put down the inevitable revolts. In cases where either the government itself revolts, or where the government proves unable to quell massive disturbances, NATO will intervene to "pacify" the population with terror and brutality.

Who are These People?

The members of this group are generally extremely wealthy bankers and industrialists, the owners or controllers of most of the world's multi-national companies, media, and so on, who seem to hold an ideal of a world comprised of their small number owning all the means of production, assisted by a larger group of educated compradors, all ruling over a world populated by homeless, uneducated and impoverished pre-humans. I have no explanation for this ambition. They would own or control the entire world's wealth, but to what end? None of these people can spend what they have now, many private fortunes running into the trillions of dollars. I believe most of us would prefer to be kings of a rich and educated society, rather than Tarzan, king of the apes, the ruler of a herd of goats not being much of a ruler by any measure.

Signs of Hope

The US has moved as many as six B-2 bombers to Diego Garcia on March 29, 2025. [File: Carlos Barria/Reuters. Source

There are some, but not many. The strength of Russia and China, and perhaps Iran, is of some comfort, since another world war is almost certainly on the horizon for the finalisation of this plan. The protests in France and throughout South America bring some comfort, particularly those nations gathering their courage and refusing to be enslaved or to be bullied into submission by the US.

This cabal of would-be world emperors has flaws of its own, prematurity resulting from excessive confidence being one. It was the same group that attempted the fascist coup in the US in 1934, but failed. The TPP was an astonishingly bold attempt to simply bully much of the world into submission, which also failed. There have been others.

The plethora of online information and its absorption by what appears to be an increasing number of people in many nations, is cause for hope since education is vital to expose all parts of this plan, and sunlight is still the best disinfectant. And, as William Blum said, you need faith and courage.

You Need Faith and Courage.
